Important Questions.

Do you want calicoes at wholesale prices?

Do you want bleached or brown domestics at wholesale prices?

Do you want custom-made clothing at wholesale prices?

Do you want dress goods of every kind and quality at New York wholesale prices?

Do you want boots and shoes at wholesale prices?

If so, go to E. SMALL'S for the next thirty days.

A protracted meeting, under the auspices of our Baptist friends, began at the court house on Monday night.

For Sale.

A choice lot of tobacco seed, of all kinds for sale by W. H. WILLIAMS.

Owing to the inclemancy of the weather, which prevented the atteudance of the editress, the "Guiding Star" was not read at the Good Templars' lodge last Thursday night. It will be read at the next meeting, and Mr. Gruelle's lectures will be delivered on Thursday night week.

The colored Baptist church of this town has been in a stew of late. It seems that about September last, one Henry McIntosh, colored, came here, and has been teaching and preaching for them. He represented himself as a single man when he came, and has been wooing and winning the hearts of some of the sable lassies hereabouts. It turns out that he has a wife in Louisville. He has been cutting such a wide swath that the church had him up last week, ane stopped him from preaching. We know none of the facts, but give the above as we learn it from a colored formant.

Quarterly Court.

The Quarterly court is in the midst of a two-weeks' session. Judge Gregory has kept up the docket with energy and dispatch, more than filling the expectations of his friends, familiar with all the decisions relative to practice. He keeps well up with adjudged cases, and appears to better advantage as a Judge than as a lawyer. Never harsh nor arbitrary, the lawyers are always at ease before him, and this will result in a heavy docket, for the attorneys, control the direction of the legal business. We hope the Judge will continue to command the confidence reposed in him, so that no suit for a sum less than one hundred dollars will be brought in the Circuit Court. Legal remedies should be prompt and expeditions, for honest men have honest differences, they ought to have their cases settled with the least amount of expense possible. This may be accomplished by bringing suits in the Quarterly Court, which has four sessions each year.

He Got Up.

The morning of January 9th will be remembered as a very cold one. Mr. E. R. Ashby, who lives near Walton's Creek, in this county, left the warm precincts of the bed somewhere about the "wee sma' hours o' the morning" and proceeded to make a fire in the grate. After piling on as much coal as he conld get to stick, he thought the fire so comfortable that it was a pity to leave it and go back to bed. He imagined that daylight was near at hand, any how, so, spreading over himself all the coats within reach, and stretching himself out in a horizontal position before the fire, with his back to it, he prepared to top-off his night's sleep with a short, sweet, soul-refreshing morning nap. But true love is not the only thing that does not run smooth. He dozed off beautifully and was soon in the heart of dreamland. His dreams were very pleasant at first, but they changed with frightful rapidity from pleasant to unpleasant, from unpleasant to alarming, from alarming to horrible, and so on to the double superlative degree of horrible, till he thought he was in the torrid zone, surrounded by monstrous-looking, indiscribable demons, every one of whom was punching his back with a fire-brand Then the scene changed, and he was suspended over the yawning crater of a volcano, ready to drop into it. It seemed to him an awful moment. He could smell the fumes of sulphur from the seething, mass below, and, just as he thought it was all over with him, he awoke to find a lump of burning coal frying away at his back-bone, and a strong smell of burnt wool in the house. Ed. is a good church member, so, of course, he didn't think about saying or doing anything improper. He got up, though.

CENTERTOWN ITEMS

CENTERTOWN, KY., Feb. 1.

It seem that a great many communities are seeking a favorable introduction to the public through the columns of your highly appreciated paper. CENTERTOWN has caught the contagion and begs to let herself be known to her neighbors. Our little village is situated on the Hartford and South Carrollton road, about six miles from your town. We have a Methodist Church, at which Bro. Corbin breaks to us the "bread of life" once a month; a blacksmithshop, where Sam Morton wields the hammer; a store, where Mr. R. C. Duncan is well fortified behind his counter with a yard-stick in one hand and a four pound weight in the other, and Dr. G. R. Sanders distributes pills, powders, drops, and a great many other good things, with satisfaction to us and credit to himself.

POST OFFCE.

We have a post office also, and get our mail once a week.

THE PRETTIEST MAN.

Mr. Duncan, our merchant, is decidedly the best looking man in town (so the ladies think), and, as he is a newcomer, perhaps we should give him more than merely a passing notice. He has been here but a short time, but, short as it is, he seems to have gained great popularity, and a liberal share of patronage. He is not only a good business man, but a gentleman also. We would advise any one in need of dry goods or groceries to give him a call. He has not an "oily tongue" in the usual acceptation of the term, but he is sociable and treats everybody in a gentlemanly manner.

AN ACCIDENT.

Johnnie White met with a serious accident last Wednesday. He was walking over a pile of slack, which was on fire, at Thomas Williams' coal bank, when the crust gave way, letting him through into a pool of boiling water, which had collected under it and became heated by the fire. One foot was dreadfully scalded before his shoe could be removed.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Elder W. P. Bennett, of McLean county, assisted by Eld. D. J. K. Maddox, of this county, held a very interesting series of meetings at Walton's Creek Church quite recently. We cannot tell the amount of good accomplished, but the obvious results are twenty-five additions to the church and several subtractions from the ranks of the ball-goers of this community. The new candidates for membership will be baptized on the 4th Sunday in February.

THE GRANGERS GROWING.

The feeling in favor of the Patrons of Husbandry seem to be on the increase in this vicinity. We have had a grange at Walton's Creek since last Spring, and a new one was organized on the 2nd day of January at the Eudaley school-house under the name of "Stony Point," No. 1499. It now numbers forty members, within less than a month from its organization, and has fair prospects for increase.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE HERALD.

We appreciate your paper highly, and will do what we can in support of it. The independent stand you have taken cannot bnt meet the approval of all. We want men of integrity to fill our offices, and not political tricksters. LELAND.

SPRING LICK ITEMS.

SPRING LICK, Feb. 2, 1875.

Since our last, we have nothing strange or startling to write. The sacred quietness of our town has not been disturbed by any unpleasant sensation for some time past.

TOBACCO SEED WANTED.

Much inquiry is made among our farmers for tobacco seed. It is greatly apprehended now that the crop will be curtailed on account of the scarcity of seed. At any rate there will be a mammoth effort made to raise the largest crop, this year, for many years past.

THE WEATHER

for the past two weeks has been so disagreeable as to cause all the mills hereabouts to suspend operations. It is to be hoped that "Old Probabilities" will see fit, at no distant day, to favor us with pleasant and fair weather.

PROSPECTIVE NEW MASONIC LODGE.

The Mason's of Caneyville and vicinity contemplate organizing a lodge in the new hall, erected by Messrs. Porter & Eskridge.

ODD FELLOWS' OFFICERS.

At the last meeting of Spring Lick Lodge, I. O. O. F., the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: A. G. Rowe, N. G., J. S. Carter, V. G., C. C. Wilson, Treas., and M. H. Rowe, Warden.

MUCH SICKNESS

prevails now in this neighborhood, arising from colds contracted during the last cold spell.

A WRECKED TRAIN.

We understand a wreck occurred on the L. & P. Railroad, last Saturday, near Caneyville, of a westward-bound freight train. We have not been ableto learn the particulars, and cannot, therefore, report the damage sustained by the train.

RECOVERING FROM HER WOUNDS.

Mrs. Phelps, an old and respected lady, residing in Butler county, who was some time ago stabbed several times on her person by robbers, is slowly recovering from the injuries received at their hands.

"GLAD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY—TO US."

We have had the good pleasure of exhibiting your paper to many of our citizens, and all join in the expression that they are highly pleased with it, and intend to subscribe for it. Please find herewith a list who have already subscribed, and in my next I shall expect to send you another list of names. A.

BEAVER DAM ITEMS.

BEAVER DAM, Feb. 2, 1875.

Everything has been very quiet in our litte town this week, the weather being so disagreeable, and the roads so muddy, that few people came to town from the country, consequently trade has been rather dull. I entertain hopes that the coming week will be more favorable.

A LEVEL HEAD.

I was the happy recipent of a copy of your valuable paper dated the 27th. I am well pleased with it, and think it ought to reach the fireside of every family in the State, and more especially those of our own and adjacent counties.

A DOOMED NICE EXPLANATION.

In your last paper, under the head of "Beaver Dam Items," I. M. Doom is mentioned as being the oldest agent on the L. & P railroad. I hope that Mr. Doom will not take it that I meant he was the oldest man on the road, for that would be a slanderous report about a man that can run fifteen or twenty miles per hour on a pair of skates, and can talk to the ladies as sprightly as a youth of gay sixteen.

A GRANGER LECTURE.

Rev. A. B. Smith will deliver a lecture on the cause of Grangerism at Goshen church on Saturday night, February 14th, at early candle light. Every good Granger and citizen in the neighborhood ought to attend. Grangerism is one of the good causes long needed in our community, and one that ought to be encouraged by everybody and more especially by the farmers.

AN UNFORTUNATE LOVYER.

Mr. B——, I understand, is talking about bringing suit against the Post-office Department for a letter that he wrote to his girl, which he claims did not reach her. He says that it contained more love than he can afford to loose. My advice to Mr. B—— is, to box his letters up in a good strong box, and send them by express, freight prepaid, when he loads them so heavily with love; and I expect that if Mr. B—— will inquire at the office where he mailed the letter he claims is lost, he will find it thrown aside as unmailable matter, as the Post-office Department will not transfer packages over their routes that contain so much ——.

A WATCH RAFFLE.

H. P. Daily, (telegraph operator at this place,) having a watch that he was tired of, concluded that he would raffle it off, at 50 cents per chance, for the amount of eight dollars. The project took well, and at six o'clock this evening the chances were taken, and at seven and a half o'clock the raffling commenced, each man taking hold of the dice-box with a trembling hand and anxious eye, hoping every time the dice rolled out of the box to see the three sixes up. So they continued, the best throw being 40, until Isaiah the Prophet's name was called by the clerk. "His name was last on the list." Isaiah approached the table, seemingly very cool, and with a steady nerve threw 41 and took the desired prize. G. H

The Herald Endorsed by the County Council of the Grangers.

HARTFORD, KY., Jan. 29.

At a meeting of the Ohio County Council of Patrons of Husbandry, after transacting some important business, it was moved and adopted that this Council recommend to all members of the Order in this and all other counties, THE HARTFORD HERALD, published by J. P. Barrett & Co., as a paper worthy of their patronage; and that this Council request said proprietors to publish that this Council will meet at Hartford, Ky., on the Friday before the first Monday in April, 1875. The Masters of each Grange are requested to solicit subscriptions for said paper. J. F. AUSTIN, Pres.

J. W. BARNETT, Sec.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit by the hand of death, to remove from our midst and sphere of usefulness our much loved brother, Robert E. Barnett, and whereas we desire to leave on our record, and publish for the benefit of others, a testimonial of regard for our deceased brother, and sympathy with his deeply afflicted family and friends, therefore,

Resolved, That in this our first bereavement in Morning Star Grange, No. 883, we have lost our Worthy Secretary and faithful member, and our order in general have lost a sincere, devoted and faithful member, and the community in which he lived a good citizen. We are much consoled with an unwavering hope that he entered a blissful immortality beyond the grave and is now enjoying the rest that remains for all these that put their trust in Jesus the Savior.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the deceased our sincere condolence in their sad bereavement, and as a token of affection and respect for our departed brother, one page in our minute book be draped in mourning and dedicated to his memory.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon our minutes, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, also a copy to THE HARTFORD HERALD.

Dec. 31, 1874.

MARRIED.

COLEMAN—POTTS.—At the residence of W. H. Potts, in Cromwell, Ohio county, Ky., on Sunday, January 31, 1875, by the Rev. B. F. Jenkins; Mr. JO. W. COLEMAN to Mis MARY E. POTTS.

We wish them a long and happy life.

The new dining glove, lately introduced, for dinner parties, is soft, flexible, unglazed kid, fastened with one button at the wrist.

The Rev. Mr. Parsy of Worcester, Mass., chose for the subject of a recent sermon, "Dead Broke." The beauty and delicacy of the hint was doubtless appreciated by the congregation.

A singer, applying for an engagement, wrote to an impressario as follows: "I am a good musishan. I pla all music at furst site." "Well," remarked he to a friend, "she may play by note, but she most certainly spells by ear."

California is famous for remarkable stories. The following is the latest: A fine bay horse was found suspended, one morning, recently, from a cherry tree by the neck, and dead. He had been left hitched to the branch of the tree, which had grown so rapidly during the night that it raised him off his feet, and hung him.

A work has just been published in England called "Chemistianity," in which its author, Mr. J. Carrington Sellars, incontestibly proves that the only true way to teach chemistry is through poetry. We have read a good deal of verse that had a metallic sound, much that was charged with gas, but chemical poetry is a new thing.

On one occasion, when a visitor to the late Gerrit Smith had outstayed his welcome and became a nuisance. Mr. Smith in the morning prayed for a blessing to descend upon "our visiting brother, who will this day depart from us." And he departed. Such a pin as that was sharp enough to be felt by the most pachydermatous of bores.

Large and attractive signboards are a great feature of Chinese shops, and the words upon them are a strange mixture of the flowery literature of the land and the advertising instinct of a commercial people. Here are some of the signs of Pekin: "Shop of Heaven and Luck," "The Shop of Celestial Principles," "The Nine Felicities Prolonged," "Mutton Shop of Morning Twilight," "The Ten Virtues all Complete," "Flowers Rise to the Milky Way."

A reporter of one of the smaller journals of Paris asked the manager of a theater to give him two seats for a certain performance. The manager refused and the journalist said to him, "Your refusal will cost you 40,000 francs." For six months after the paper praised the theater in this wise: "Monsieur X. is a magnificent director. He has a good company and his entertainments are excellent. His management is intelligent. He knows what the people want. What a pity it is that the staircases of the theater are wood. If a fire should break out the audience would have but little chance of escape." The result of this was that the manager was compelled to build an iron staircase which cost him 50,000 francs.
