GOLF DREAM THAT CAME TRUE

The Drive Made by an Englishman Was Regarded as Impossible Achievement.

A story of a golfer's dream that came true comes from the Rockford Hundred Golf club, near South-end-on-Sea.

One of the members, E. Simpson, entering the club house, said he dreamed the previous evening that he had drove a ball over a sheet of water bounded by a high hedge and a wire fence...

"Of course, that is the Pond hole, the short fifth," laughed the members.

"What is the betting against your dream coming true?" asked one. "I give you a hundred to one in sovereigns."

Mr. Simpson could see nothing in these tempting odds except the sure loss of his money. To hole out in one comes to few golfers in a lifetime, so he made no bets.

The couple in front stood near the green awaiting eventualities. Straight for the pin came the ball. It dropped gently on the grass 20 feet away...

A wild whoop and frantic gesticulations intimated to Mr. Simpson that his dream had been fulfilled; also that he had lost a small fortune by declining the bets offered him.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Thousands rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil.

British Cows Which Eat Fish. Dried coalfish, unsalted, is eaten by the inhabitants of the Faroe Islands (between Shetland and Iceland) or their cows, says a consular report.

"It seems to me you ought to be proud of him. A man who can give up smoking and absolutely refrain from tasting any kind of strong drink must have a will that is extraordinary."

Perhaps it is as you say, but I have been trying for more than a year to get him to give up the habit of nodding in the affirmative when he says yes at the telephone.

Ideals the Guiding Star.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters reached the cause."

Before Fame Came. A widely admired campaign speaker in Nebraska, who had been billed to make the principal address at a political meeting in Lincoln...

William Jennings Bryan was chosen to fill the vacant place. Mr. Bryan, however, knowing that he was to act as substitute for an older and more popular man, was rather nervous.

"Feller citizens: This here's the substitute for our gallant an' admired leader, unfortunately taken sick. I don't know what this gent can do; but time was short an' we had to take what we could git."
