The Legislature has refused to pass the High License Law, and gave a quiet burial to the proposed repeal of Lien Law.

Some of the Republican members of Congress amused themselves the other day by getting a long pole and stirring up the monkeys, but in doing so they aroused a sleeping lion. It is safe to assert that they will not worry General Joe Wheeler any more, but give him a wide berth in the future.

Do not forget that on July 7 the staunch little steamboat, Joe Webre Capt. A. E. Hotard, will arrive here from Grand Isle, return the next day, and make weekly trips thereafter.

We have no objection to furnish ing editorials for the Reveille, but think that we ought, at least to have the credit of one of three clippings.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the States will not go into conniption fits over the defeat of the Morrison Tariff Bill. The country can survive all such disasters as the failure of the Morrison act.

Let the States rest contented. A little cold water poured on top of the head oftentimes does good in cooling down fever that is produced from a strong imagination.

Mrs. Cleveland is winning golden opinions since her marriage. Her greatest charm is said to be her genial manners and simplicity of character.

All the ladies of Washington rushed to the White House the first opportunity that was presented to see and congratulate her.

The evidence of her simplicity was found, in a remarkable instance, in her wedding dress that cost $500.00 in Paris.

The Capitolian Advocate published a strong article, the other day, in favor of the reduction of the appropriations made by the Legislature so as to bring the amount within the limit of taxes to be collected.

This is the proper thing to be done. Not a dollar appropriation should be voted unless the taxation would cover it.

It is high time that Legislators should be made to recognize the fact that debts should not be made by their votes unless there are ways and means ahead to meet them at the proper time.

The C. A. then adds: "The one eighth mill taken from the General Fund which was given to the School Fund should be restored to the General Fund and the appropriations for the support of the universities should be made from the Educational Fund where they belong."

Now, this thing of robbing the School Fund for the safety of the General Fund, is just as reprehensible and as impolitic as making appropriations without contriving ways and means to liquidate them.

The money that is given to the universities has nothing to do with the fund for public schools, not a particle more than the Levee Fund does.

Universities do not benefit the Public Schools; they are schools for people who are able to send their children to them and are of little or no service to the masses of pupils.

The C. A. should begin to look for reductions elsewhere.

It has not a word to say about bills, brought in by representatives to pay $5000.00 for a few worthless maps, to compel parishes to have maps made at great expense that they do not need, to dig canals about Baton Rouge to drain the frog ponds in the vicinity, and for fifty other purposes.

Keep the General Fund flush, but to do so, rob the School Fund. Let the children of the poor grow up in ignorance, but keep the General Fund full to pay jobs that the Legislators may have a finger in.

The criminal expenses of this State are double what they should be, but we see no effort to reduce them, and relieve the people of some of the burdens they are compelled to bear.

It is time to hunt some other means to fill up the General Fund besides pouncing on and robbing the School Fund. Stop the unnecessary and uncalled for leaks in the General Fund and there will be ample means to pay all claims against it, without depriving the children of the masses of the privilege of receiving a common school education.

One of the most singular freaks of nature, in the way of dispensing rain, occurred some ten days ago, in the neighborhood of Alexandria, on Red River.

It is reported that over that section of country the rainfall, inside of 24 hours, was 28 inches. The Marksville Review says:

We hear that there was at least a foot of water over the banks of Red River from Egg Bend down. The River rose between eighteen and twenty feet during the late rain and submerged all the crops from above point down, with the exception of those of Messrs. Bettievy, Ware, Moreau and Coco, which were protected by levees.

In the rear of Alexandria, over a country similar to the lands in this vicinity, the water covered every thing, and rushed by way of Bayou Rapides, Castille and others so rapidly into the river as to cause the rise above mentioned.

It is said that at Cane river some 20 miles above, where there had been no rain that the current of Red River was reversed and ran up stream.

It was a remarkable phenomenon, to say the least of it.

The pension business has become an enormous load upon the Government, and at the present date is one of the boldest and most brazen species of public plunder that was ever sprung upon the Congress of the United States.

Whilst we candidly admit that every soldier in the army of the United States, who has been disabled or contracted disease in the service, that unfits him for labor should be liberally pensioned by the Government, it is a disgrace to civilization to conduct the pension business as is now done by the demagogues of both houses of Congress.

In one day over 400 pension bills were hurried through the Senate, and the House of Representatives has been permitting some 20 or 30 men, to meet every Friday evening to assemble and bestow pensions as if they were doughnuts.

Any man who has stumped his toe nail off within the last few years has only to demand a pension on the plea that the accident occurred because he was in the army 15 years ago, and a pension will be allowed him.

Men, who served in the war with out ever having been wounded or sick, and were discharged at the end of their enlistment, are now making the discovery that they contracted disease in service and demand a pension.

The President has vetoed a number of these bills of robbery but it is a physical impossibility for him to examine one fourth of the pension bills that are presented to him.

Hon. Mr. Wallace the new member from the second District in Louisiana has brought himself into notice by demanding on these Friday evening meetings that a quorum of the House shall be present to pass any more pensions.

The President has sent a message to Congress, requesting that all pension bills should be passed only in a full house.

The way things are going on, it will not be long before a man who once thought of going into the army will be seeking the bounty of Government, and a bill to pension all the sisters, consins and aunts that a soldier may have.

The ugliest feature about this matter is that all these demands, now granted by Congress have been refused by the Pension Bureau as untenable.

Let every soldier disabled either by wounds or disease, or who has become unable to earn his living since, on account of age or other disability, be pensioned, but it ought to stop there.

We print to-day a letter from Domingos Freire, a physician of Brazil, addressed to Dr. Joseph Holt, of New Orleans, on the subject of inoculation for Yellow Fever.

As inoculation is a safe preventive against Small Pox, there is no special reason why similar treatment may not effect similar results in the case of Yellow Fever. At all events let us all hope that it is.

It took Gov. McEnery just 20 minutes to sign the Sunday Law bill and send notice to the Legislature that he had so acted.

It took some people less time than that to get very mad over its passage.

Mr. Coulon of Lafourche, has an act before the State Legislature which, should it become a law, would prove the death blow to some favored druggists in prohibition towns throughout the State. The proposed law makes it a crime for a physician to prescribe spirituous liquors with the intent to evade or assist in evading the prohibition as to the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Corrected.

Miss Anna Johnson, of 24 Front street, Columbus, Ohio, says: "I suffered from an aggravated form of constipation and indigestion for several months. My family physician tried all kinds of medicines and pills, but to no effect. I began to think my case was a hopeless one. A friend of mine (Mrs. Elvira Redmond, of East Long street, this city), called, and seeing the condition I was in, recommended me to try your MANALIN. I must say I had but little faith in the medicine, but after I had taken a few doses I was convinced that MANALIN was the medicine for me. After I had taken one bottle I was entirely well of my complaint. I consider it one of the best remedies for constipation I have ever used. I have several friends who are using it. They think it an excellent remedy. I recommend it to all who are afflicted with constipation or indigestion. Any one doubting this statement is invited to call on me at 24 Front street."

Mr. Milton Knotts, Urbana, O., writes: "Last November one year ago I was taken sick, and called in our family physician. He examined me and said I had symptoms of typhoid fever. He gave me medicine for two weeks or more without any relief. I began to think that my days on earth were fast closing in. I saw at once that his medicine would not reach my disease. Just as I was about to conclude that I would have to die, my daughter brought me one of your pamphlets. I noticed a case whose symptoms were like mine, and PERUNA and MANALIN had cured him. I concluded at once to try it. I procured one bottle of PERUNA and one of MANALIN, and took them as directed, and before I had used the two bottles I began to receive strength and gain in flesh. I finished the rest of the two bottles and continued its use until the third bottle was used. When they were used I could eat anything I wanted to and go about my work. I consider that if it hadn't been for your PERUNA I would have been in my grave. Parties wishing information can write me at the above place. I recommend your medicine wherever I go."

Mr. John R. Davis, Moundville, W. Va., writes: "I have been handling your PERUNA ever since its introduction. All who have used it speak highly of its curative properties. I consider it a reliable remedy."

Mr. George Fisher, Portsmouth, O., writes: "I am handling your PERUNA, and having a good trade on it. It gives splendid satisfaction."
