Mary Agnes and Dora Miller Speak Vows at Double Rites

"All smiles" were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, who, after speaking their wedding vows Saturday evening, received friends at a pretty reception at Lucy Thurman YWCA.

This handsome group were the principals in the lovely Miller-Davis-Penic wedding and reception last Saturday evening, when Misses Mary Agnes and Dora Miller, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, in a double ceremony spoke their wedding vows. Mary Agnes was wed to Edward Davis and Dora to Frank Penick. The ceremony was performed at Sacred Heart rectory and the reception followed at the YWCA. They are, left to right: Miss Bernice Miller, sister of the brides, and attendant for Mary Agnes; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Penick; Miss Bernice Hicks, Dora's attendant; and Herbert Simms, Mr. Penick's best man. Dr. Robert Bennett, who is not shown in the picture, was Mr. Davis' best man.—(Dickson's photo)

Rectory of Sacred Heart Is Scene of Ceremony

By VICTORIA McCALL

A wedding of outstanding beauty, social prominence and impressive solemnity was performed at 6:30 Saturday evening, when the two pretty daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller spoke their vows at a double ceremony. The scene of the wedding was the rectory of Sacred Heart cathedral, and Father Henry Th...

The young Davises are at home at 278 East Forest. They will honeymoon in the East later this year. The Penicks now live at West Kirby and Twenty-fifth street. At the ceremony at the rectory were: Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, the brides' parents; Mr. and Mrs. Westley Penick, parents of Frank Penick; Thomas Davis, Sr., father of Edward Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis, Jr., Henry Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. George Ingersoll, the brides' uncle and aunt; Miss Eunice Barrow, Mrs. Caro Fisher and daughters, Nancy and Vera Lee; Mrs. Viola Nelson and daughter, Justine; Miss Regina Solomon, Mrs. Rutherford and daughter, Lillian; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powell and Mr. and Mrs. William Copeland. A large number of Detroiters attended the reception at the Lucy Thurman YWCA.

Mrs. Erma Baker, as she boarded a plane for Washington, D. C. last Thursday and waved good-bye to Detroit, with pleasant memories of the delightful summer spent here. She is professor of education at Miners Teachers' college, Washington, and the charming wife of Edward A. Baker, of this city.

Bernice Parker Swamped With Pretty Gifts

Of primary importance was the birthday party given in honor of Miss Bernice Parker at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shelton, 2115 Dearing street. In her details of the party, Evelyn Pope says that a knock brought a radiant-eyed and happy hostess to the door. After profuse greetings and felicitations, Evelyn rushed upstairs to the lovely room where the many, many beautiful gifts were placed. There was enough dainty lingerie to last for months, plus hats, purses, hose, compact and last but not least, money.

Elliottorians List Names Of Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were installed last Tuesday evening at the first meeting of the Elliottorian Business Women's club, held in the dining room of Lucy Thurman Branch YWCA. Mrs. Carlton W. Gaines conducted the installation. Mrs. Violet Lewis, president and founder of Lewis Business college, outlined her reason for establishing a business college in Detroit.

TATTLINGS OF A TATTLER

By Evelyn C. Pope

Hi diddle, diddle! The cat and the fiddle. Please help me solve this weekly riddle. Greetings, my friends! Birthday parties and baby showers played in the rays of the spotlight this past week and made the acting of Gable and Davis seem flat. We made a little jump and landed at the home of Mrs. Fred Whiskey on St. Aubin street. Found a lovely baby shower in progress. It was given by Mrs. Whizoy in honor of Mrs. Walter Everette. The guests were: Mrs. Gennie Goodwin, mother of the honoree; Misses Velvee and Mattie Taylor, Mrs. Fleming Cobb, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Curtis Stewart, Mrs. John Brisker, Mrs. Charles Lucas, Mrs. George Baugh, Mrs. Leland Stein, Mrs. Nathaniel Jackson, Mrs. Laura Seathle and daughter, Elizabeth; Mrs. Thomas Stephens, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Sam Ellis, Mrs. Erynthonia Butler, Mrs. Prisce Charleston and Miss Eunice Goodwin. Besides the dainty baby clothing received, there was the sweetest little bassinette, also a tiny clothes hamper and trimmed bathrobe. Late summer flowers of orchid and lavender hues were used as a centerpiece, around which Mrs. Whizoy served a delectable salad punch and dessert.

Sub-Debs

Bill Lawrence has left our fair city to return to school at North Carolina university, in Evanston. What will half the Delisprites club and Gladys Pollock do now? Iris Bell has entered Fisk university. Not being able to stand Detroit without Iris, Sonny Plummer hurried away to West Virginia State, where he begins his second year. Arlene Burton has decided on Olivet college as her destination this term. Fisk boys' hearts will break fast, when they hear that Isabel Jackson left Monday morning for U. of M. She has a good connection with Lawrence's Dance club, which of such a splendid start last season under Miss Russell gave an outstanding demonstration at Y Open House activities on Thursday, Sept. 25, during the membership supper. This group group gave its first public performance last April. It includes Johnny Mae Bell, Pauline Brooks, Helen Cole, Blanche Edwards, Alice Herskin, Evelyn Holman, Laura Lee Hines, Irma Killough, Mary Maxwell, Edna Marshall, Hermine Rivers, Mildred Brantley and Clara Simpson. Opportunities to improve skills at Lucy Thurman Branch include practical help in English, grammar, spelling, punctuation, etc.

Detroiters Called To Memphis

Mr. and Mrs. William Bright, of 306 LaBelle avenue, Highland Park, left Tuesday night for Memphis, Tenn., where they were called on account of the death of their uncle.

Gets Wayne Scholarship

Among the sixteen persons awarded scholarships to Wayne university for the current year by the Student-Aid Foundation of Michigan, is Garnett Lee a junior residing at 5176 Trowbridge avenue. The announcement is made by trustees of the Foundation, which is a corporation financed by the McGregor fund.

MOROLINE TONIC

Large reception was held in the social rooms of the YWCA. The entire length of the spacious rooms was lavishly decorated with stately palms and a profusion of autumn blossoms, baskets and urns, which were placed in every window and between the palms. The flowers were gay in contrast to the pure white of the wedding gowns, and repeated the lively colors of the bridesmaids' costumes. They were golden mums, pink gladioli and lavender asters.
