President Thayer's Notice—J. B. Mulliken's Valencianery. The following general notice has been sent out by President Thayer: Chicago & West Michigan railway, Detroit, Lansing & Northern railroad, Saginaw Valley & St. Louis railroad. Office of the president, 50 State-st., Boston, Mass., Feb. 26, 1890.

Mr. Mulliken's Farewell. Mr. Mulliken issues the following: Chicago & West Michigan railway, Detroit, Lansing & Northern railroad, Saginaw Valley & St. Louis railroad, Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 27, 1890.

Of Heart Disease. Another of our old residents and most esteemed citizens, Keyren Whalen, Esq., died at his home, No. 67 Stocking-st., very suddenly of heart disease yesterday. He has been in failing health for about a year, and quite ill for two weeks, yet when he fell from his couch and was dead when his devoted wife reached him, there was an awful suddenness about his decease that completely overcame her; the more so as she is suffering from a broken heart caused by a fall on an icy step at her house, and from rheumatism which has set in the arm, the left.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Blue and the Gray" will be presented at Redmond's this afternoon and evening. The attraction at this theater next week will introduce the comedian and character actor Dan Keely in a melodrama called "In After Seven Years." Seats are now on sale.

Blanchfield Kavanagh, the famous boy soprano who will appear at Hartman's Hall next Thursday evening, is fast becoming rich. Engagements are being offered him in such numbers that he is unable to fill them all. He is to receive $800 for four appearances in Minneapolis, $350 for singing twice in the Auditorium in Chicago, and $150 a night for a tour in the East. Henry B. Roney, his teacher and accompanist, is also his manager, and is doing much toward establishing the wonderful reputation the boy is gaining. He will have the assistance on this occasion, of Mme. Fannie Myers Langlois, a young contralto, who enjoys a splendid reputation as an operatic singer, and who will, no doubt, be heard with pleasure on the concert platform; also Francis Campbell, whose artistic singing is too well known to the people of Grand Rapids to require eulogy.

The well known actor McKee Rankin will appear at Powers' on the evening of the 10th, in his successful drama "The Runaway Wife."

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" in its dramatized form, is listed for production at Powers' Grand, on March 10 and 21. Who that reads does not know the story of Little Lord Fauntleroy? Who that thinks fails to appreciate its tender pathos, its exquisite humor and its simplicity of character.

There will be a grand matinee at Smith's Opera House this afternoon. The full program will be given. Tonight closes the engagement of the best vaudeville shows Mr. Smith has had this season. For next week many startling novelties in theatricals of this kind will be offered.

NOT A DEAD SURE THING.

The Knight Property May Not be Decorated After All.

The Committee on Buildings of the Common Council was instructed to purchase the Knight property on the corner of Crescent-ave. and Ottawa-st. for $12,000 if the title was clear. The man who offered the place for that amount is sick in Mt. Clemens, and as there was nothing paid to secure the bargain, it is not known whether he will hold his offer or not.

There are two other pieces of property almost adjoining the Knight place that are also offered. One is 50 feet north-east of the Knight place, and facing on Ionia-st., and the other place is just back of Colonel Briggs' place. The price asked for the Knight place amounts to $120 per square foot; the one in the rear of the Knight place is offered at the rate of $110 per square foot and the one facing on Ionia-st. is offered at the rate of $1 per square foot. The Knight place is considerably the largest, and for many reasons the most desirable, but if the offer is withdrawn the committee will have no difficulty in securing a convenient site close at hand.

GRAND RAPIDS AS IT IS.

Preparing for the New Edition of the Book.

The new edition of the Board of Trade book, "Grand Rapids As It Is," will not be published until September, but Secretary Van Assen is already soliciting advertising for the book.

The statistics required to be used in the publication have nearly all been obtained in answers to circular letters, and are all for the year ending December 31, 1889. No statistics for the present year will be given.

The book itself will be practically the same in size as the present edition, but instead of opening as it now does, it will open from the end, so that the pages will be longest across. The design of the cover will be different, as also the coloring, and there will be a number of entirely new illustrations. Many of the old ones will be used, but in such combinations as to give the effect of novelty. Parties are already figuring on the work of publishing the edition.

A LIE NAILED.

Don J. Leathers Won't Have It That Way.

Referring to the published charge that he was disgruntled because C. E. Belknap did not appoint his sister to the Rockford post-office, Mr. Leathers says: "Belknap told this same story in Washington about my being disgruntled, told it repeatedly, and when we were all together one day, I nailed the lie squarely. Mr. Blodgett was present and admitted that what I said about the affair was the truth. I met the lie at Washington, in the White House, in the Post-office Department and elsewhere. I am surprised to hear Mr. Turner is circulating it at this late day, but believe the cause for the souring of the liquid in his cocoanut is quite apparent to everyone."

NOT WITHOUT HONOR.

How They Look at the Broad Decision in Ionia.

Commenting on the Alfred Broad case the Ionia Sentinel said last night: Few cases have been watched by Ionia with greater interest than the Broad case, that conclusion of which will be received with the fullest satisfaction by every citizen. The general feeling is that Mr. Steele was led into making the complaint by the unwarrantable advice of his attorney, John B. Corliss, of Detroit, who has exhibited remarkable indiscretion in his over-zealous prosecution of the respondent. While Prosecuting Attorney Stuart has prosecuted the charge vigorously in the court, Mr. Corliss has endeavored to create a public sentiment inimical to Mr. Broad.

Alfred Broad was arrested at his home in this city early on the evening of August 30, and taken to Grand Rapids, where he was arraigned the following morning. The examination occupied many days and has been adjourned twenty-eight times. Over 1800 folios of testimony were taken.

Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Stuart had the assistance of Prosecuting Attorney Davis, of this city, and John H. Corliss, of Detroit. Mr. Broad has been ably defended by W. W. Mitchell and W. O. Webster, of this city, who made no technical objection to the introduction of any testimony which would throw light upon the charge or upon Mr. Broad's relation to the affairs of the Packing Company.

The unjust charge has cost Mr. Broad everything material he possessed, but the decision rendered by Judge Holmes, than whom there is no more just jurist in the State, has restored to him his fair name, and left his reputation without a shadow upon it.

The decision is hailed by every one in Ionia with much satisfaction, though few if any have doubted that it would be as it is.

Mr. Broad and his attorneys returned to Ionia at 4:52 yesterday afternoon.

QUITE DIFFERENT.

Are the Figures on the Valuation of the Third Ward.

There is quite a discrepancy in the summaries of the valuation of property in the Third ward. The Board of Review and Equalization makes the total valuation about $4,300,000, while Supervisor Benjamin makes the summary about $40,000 more. In the case of the city against Adrian Welleman it became necessary that the exact figures should be ascertained, and Supervisor W. D. Frost, of the Fourth ward, was selected as a man of great mathematical skill and a disinterested party to ascertain the exact figures. The supervisor waded through 280 pages of figures, and appeared in the superior court yesterday with the result of his labors.

He stood up before the court as solemn as a neat ax, and announced that the total valuation was $7,700,000. The smaller figures were lost in the confusion that shook the court.

The idea of bagging over a paltry sum like $40,000, when an expert makes a difference of $3,400,000 is decidedly absurd.

The findings of the Board of Review are believed to be correct, as one or two errors have already been found in Mr. Benjamin's figures, and none so far in those given by the board.

Appreciated Him.

The American Electric College commencement, held at the G. A. R. Hall, on Sixth-st., last evening, was largely attended. The exercises were conducted in a most pleasing manner, and the singing of Dr. W. H. Ross, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was heartily encored in both of his selections, to which he responded in a most satisfactory manner.

Dr. Ross returned home last night and is at his office in the Walden building again.

The Phoenix Annual.

The Phoenix Furniture Company filed its annual report yesterday. Its capital stock is $500,000, and all of the amount is paid in. It owns real estate valued at $100,405.00 and personal estate amounting to $305,992.23.

The debt of the corporation amount to $963,412.46, and it has credits to the amount of $229,699.48. The principal stockholders are J. W. Converse, C. G. Swenborg, Wm. Mainwaring, J. B. Redfield, N. W. Northrop, Joseph H. Martin, C. C. Converse and E. L. Corning.

Good Management.

The annual report of the Detroit House of Correction was received by the county clerk yesterday. The report shows that the institution made a net gain of $18,253.56 during the year 1889. The total number of prisoners received was 2284, while the number discharged was 2344. The longest term of sentence during the year was for twenty-five years. There were among the prisoners 112 who had been recommitment more than twenty times. The highest number of recommitments was eighty.

We are just as Glad as He is.

No one but those who have tried it can know the life of an active, industrious, hardworking traveling man is, up at all hours of the night, driving through the mud and rain over country roads. Eating a dinner of cheese and crackers at some customer's country store, taking your meals when you can get them, is it any wonder that the stomach is all out of order; bowels in a costive condition all the time and as consequence Hemorrhoids, so that riding on the cars is torture. Dyspepsia, Chronic Headache, all ambition gone, life a weary drag. That was my condition exactly. I would go two and three days without a movement of the bowels. I have taken enough medicine to sink a ship, but always got back in same condition. I was told to try your Extract of Red Clover, and, on repeated urgings by my friend, Mr. Lacy, a traveling man, who had used it, and who now says his gripack is not complete without it. I purchased a bottle in Grand Rapids with I must say but little faith. I followed the directions faithfully, and within one week I noticed the change. I bought a box of your Red Clover Pills and have taken them all, and my stomach is now in better condition than it has been in the past ten years. Your Extract of Red Clover acts on the bowels in so mild and pleasant a manner that you feel it is more nature than medicine. I have never been troubled with constipation at all, being as regular as the clock. I have never before found anything that would help me in this respect, as all other medicines I had tried made the after results worse than before, but your Extract of Red Clover has regulated my stomach and bowels by the use of but three bottles so that I feel myself a new man, though I have not used it now for over four weeks. My gripack is never without it and will not be. You are at liberty to use this as you see fit.

Yours, SAM T. SICKLES. To J. M. Loose, Red Clover Co., Detroit, Mich.
