MR. GUNNYSACK GETS EVEN

For Once, He Is Satisfied He Got the Better of Hated Telephone Company.

Old Mr. Gunnysack, whose standing grievance has been the service he obtained from slot machine telephone booths, is at last mollified. It has been his bitter complaint that frequently delay in getting a number has forced him to sacrifice his nickel, the said nickel being a total loss because he lacked time to wait for Central to return his coin.

The other day he approached a booth in one of the railroad terminals as a harassed and hurried-looking young man emerged and made a wild dash for an about-to-depart suburban train. Mr. G. entered the booth, deposited his nickel and gave his number. "The line is busy," said Central in a moment or two. "I'll return your money." And with that Mr. G.'s nickel fell into the little compartment provided. But it was not alone. With it came 35 cents which the hurried young man, his out-of-town number being also busy, had not waited to collect.—New York Sun.

Master Malaprop.

Little Jamie had just come home from Sunday school and his mother asked him what he had learned. "Why, mother," he said, "we learned all the ten commandments."—Boston Transcript.

The Same Old Backache!

Does every day bring the same old backache? Do you drag along with your back a dull, unceasing ache? Evening find you "all played out"? Don't be discouraged! Realize it is merely a sign you haven't taken good care of yourself. This has probably strained your kidneys. Take things easier for awhile and help your kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Then the backache, dizziness, headaches, tired feelings and bladder troubles will go. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Minnesota Case

Mrs. George W. M. H. Mahonen, Minn., says: "I had a dull ache in the small of my back and many a night it kept me awake. Mornings I'd feel all tired and worn-out. My kidneys didn't act right at all. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended by a neighbor, so I began using them. Doan's soon rid me of the trouble entirely."

WANTED PAY FOR KEEPING IT

Bank Directors Decided That Particular Note Had Been in Storage Long Enough.

E. C. Stokes, president of a bank of Trenton, N. J., tells this story:

One day the cashier of a bank said to an old customer: "The board of directors at their last meeting decided that they would no longer renew your note."

"That's going to be exceedingly embarrassing," replied the customer. "Because this note has been in the bank now about twenty-five years."

"Well," responded the cashier, "the directors are not going to turn you down, exactly. They have decided they can no longer discount your note, but they are going to charge you storage on it."

Probably It Was.

"Did you hear that Kate bobbed her hair?" asked Margery.

"My heavens, no! How does she like it?" I said.

"Well, she's kind of disappointed in it," my chum answered.

"Disappointed," I sniffed. "With that face she has no right to be disappointed."

What was my consternation to have the door of an adjoining bedroom open, and Kate walked out. I shut up like a clam. Wasn't that the best thing I could do?—Exchange.

What He Was Seeking.

"What sort of a neighborhood is this?"

"Excellent. Some of the best people in town live in this section."

"That may be, but what I want to know is can they afford to have more than we can afford? I'm tired of keeping up with other people. I want to try living in a place where I shall set the pace for awhile."

Case of Unpreparedness.

Verne Bateesse, who runs the pumping station, had the anguish of seeing a black fox stop at easy range to look at him. He had carried his gun daily for a long time, but that day left it home. The beautiful creature was sighted a long way off and came nearer and nearer till he stopped to look Bateesse over, and the latter had the painful experience of seeing a thousand dollars walk away from him.—Portland Press Herald.

Willing.

It takes more to shock a girl nowadays than it used to," remarked Professor Pate.

"Yes," replied Hostetter Smith. "But have you noticed any disinclination on the part of a man to provide her with sufficient cause to produce that result?"—Kansas City Star.
