

SPORT

The probable line-up for Saturday's game with William Jewell is: Schroeder and Slusher, ends; Captain Hamilton and Bass, tackles; Kirkpatrick, Kolb, Berry, Krandler or Pierson, guards; Greenwood, center; Stevens, quarterback; Rider, Viner, Marshall, Collins, Edwards, Wilson or McLain in the backfield.

Captain Hamilton Misses Practice First Time.

Paul Hamilton, captain of the 1917 Tigers, missed practice yesterday for the first time in his four years on the gridiron, being in the Parker Memorial Hospital with a cold. Hamilton replaced last year's captain, Harry Lansing, at center most of the time in 1916, and his teammates gave him the job of captain at the close of the season. This fall he has been shifted to tackle.

Several Good Men In "Hospital Squad."

The condition of the "hospital squad" remains unchanged. Morris cannot scrimmage on account of his lame side. He probably will not be able to be in the game Saturday. Urie is out on the field each afternoon in citizen's clothes with his dislocated arm in a sling. Stevens' broken nose bothers him some, but he was in last night's scrimmage. He probably will be Schulte's selection for the quarterback position in Saturday's game.

The real light of the freshman team seems to be Fullbright, who is playing the quarterback position. He makes a clean, hard tackle and is adept at breaking up forward passes. Other men of high rank on the freshman team are Lewis, halfback and punter; Travis and Hardin, tackles; Eberhard at end and Vorhees at center. Coach Johnny Miller has many other good heavy men on his squad who should make valuable material for next fall's Varsity eleven.

Tigers' Backfield Will Remain Intact.

The University of Missouri's backfield will remain intact throughout the season of 1917. This information reached Columbia today when it became known through no less a person than Major Binnie, head of the Kansas City Base Hospital Unit that the Hospital Unit, in which are enlisted Rider, Viner and Collins, the mainstays of the backfield that the sailing date of the unit had been definitely postponed until next spring. According to this Rider, who is captain of the Tiger track team, may also win another M in track this coming season, but certainly there will be no chance of losing any of the men until after the football season.

Student Activity Tickets For All.

Student activity tickets may be purchased by townspeople, Stephens, and Christian college girls as well as students in the University Director W. E. Meanwell said today, correcting the belief that the athletic tickets were for University students only. The sale by canvass ends today. After today purchasers must go to the department of athletics to get them. No deduction in price will be made later in the season.

St. Louis U. Cancels First Two Games.

The first two games on the football schedule of St. Louis University have been cancelled because of the scarcity of men on the squad. The cancellation is tentative and may be reconsidered if more players arrive in time for training. The second game cancelled is that with the University of Indiana, scheduled for October 13. The first is that scheduled for next Saturday with the Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Normal School.

Speelman Is Coaching At Oberlin College.

Jacob Speelman, M man for three years on both the football and basketball teams, is now coaching the football team of Oberlin College at Oberlin, Ohio.

Abandon their Colors In Football Togs.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 4.—The scarlet and cream striped jerseys and stockings of the University of Nebraska which have been worn by football elevens of that school since the first game, twenty-seven years ago, have been abandoned for solid red jerseys and sweaters. The jerseys will be numbered in white on the backs. Coach Stewart claims the stripes made the players look beefy and that credit was not given to the team because of this for several victories.

Men Not In Service Barred From Football.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—Unless a man physically fit has identified himself with some branch of military service, he need not expect to play football at Yale this year, according to the announcement made by T. A. D. Jones, football coach, today. The announcement reads: "No man who is physically fit and is not a member of a reserve officers' training corps or some branch of military service will be permitted to report for football."

Farm Professors Change Quarters.

A re-assignment of rooms has been made at the Agricultural Building because of the vacancies made by the removal of the State Board of Agriculture to Jefferson City. Prof. J. C. Hackleman and Prof. C. A. Helm of the farm crops department are moving into the former rooms of the state dairy commissioner in the northwest part of the building. N. M. Beeler, agricultural editor, is now in the office vacated by Jewell Mayes. T. D. Stanford, clerk of the experiment station, occupies the general office room of the soil department, while the soils department has changed to the former rooms of Mr. Beeler and T. D. Stanford opposite Dean Mumford's office. All the rooms north of the hall on the second floor are given over to the farm extension department. The animal husbandry men retain their old rooms.

The Palms

"A Porterhouse!" If you haven't made this order to the waiter at the Palms you have missed a delicacy that is becoming more and more popular every day. Palms Porterhouses are popular because served with French Fried potatoes and a bit of Worcester sauce they are unequaled anywhere in Columbia. Palms Porterhouses are cooked to your taste, and are served piping hot. There is nothing more satisfying after a hard hour on the drill campus, a turn on the links or an afternoon in the classroom than this specially cooked steak. Remember the order, "A Porterhouse."
