Gilmore H. Dysart, 55 years old, a stock dealer at Hallsville, fell dead of heart disease while standing in the judges' stand at the Boone County Fair this morning. He had just returned from the show ring where he had been exercising one of his horses and was talking to several officials and stockmen when suddenly he gasped and fell backward. Dr. H. H. Murry brought the Parker Furniture Company's pulmotor but efforts to revive the stricken man were unavailing.

Mr. Dysart has been a member of the firm of Dysart and Brown, at Hallsville for a number of years, and has lived in Boone County all his life. He was born near Woodlandville. He is a member of the Baptist Church and a well known Mason.

Mr. Dysart is survived by his wife, who was Miss Dora Shock, one son, Earl, and the following brothers and sisters: Sam, Shelby and Estell Dysart, Columbia; Ed Dysart, Harrisburg; L. N. Dysart, Stephens; J. J. Dysart, Woodlandville, and Mrs. A. D. Petty, Columbia.

Mrs. Dysart and her son were notified by long distance telephone and came to Columbia at once in a motor car. Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Baptist Church in Hallsville, the Rev. G. W. Hatcher officiating. The body will be brought here for burial.

GRAIN CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT Complaint Against Mrs. J. A. Myer Is Tried This Morning.

The case of J. Aurcher, a grain dealer of Shenandoah, Ia., against Mrs. Julia A. Myer, who lives south of Columbia, was on trial today in the Circuit Court.

The plaintiff sold the defendant a carload of corn by contract last December. The contract stated that the corn should be good corn, and the price was fixed at 98 cents. The defendant refused to receive the corn when it arrived in Columbia, claiming that it was wet. In the meantime, the price of corn had dropped to 89 cents. The plaintiff sold the corn to the Boone County Milling Company at about market price. The milling company testified that the corn was good. The case had not been decided this afternoon.

Cases tried in Circuit Court this morning were those involving suits for money and transferral of property. Judgment for $177.45 on one note and $335.57 on another was given William F. Briggs against O. S. Pauley. The Southwestern Port Huron Company made a motion for a new trial against E. M. Roberts.

The court approved the appointment of John T. Mitchell as trustee for the estate of A. H. Jones, as was requested in Mr. Jones' will. The bond was fixed at $50,000, the trustee making annual settlement at the October term of court.

The sale of property for H. F. Riggs, convict, by his trustee, T. Fred Whitesides, was approved by the court. In the case of the John H. Estes Dry Goods Company against J. A. Heibel, the plaintiff was ordered to file an amended petition before the next term of court. John M. Divers and C. D. Rice were awarded decrees perfecting titles to property.

BOGGS DENIES A CONTROVERSY Says Light Company Secretary Didn't Refuse Fund Transfer.

"There is absolutely nothing to a report published yesterday that A. D. Petty, secretary of the water and light department, refused to transfer the 2 per cent of the gross earnings of that department into the general revenue fund as ordered by me," said Mayor J. E. Boggs this afternoon.

"When the proper time comes for the transfer it will be made without any friction, and nothing will be said concerning it," Mayor Boggs assured.

DISCUSS CAFETERIA PLANS

High School Pupils and Teachers Will Get Hot Meals Cheap.

The Board of Education discussed last night details of the installation of a cafeteria in the Columbia High School Building. The cafeteria will be opened in a day or two on the first floor of the High School Building. It will occupy the room formerly occupied by the seventh grade of the Jefferson School. This room is next to the home economics department. It is the plan of the Board of Education to have the classes in the home economics department aid in preparing the luncheons. The high school students and teachers will be able to obtain hot meals at a very low cost.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Katherine Douglass and appointed Mrs. Paul Lyda in her place. Mrs. Lyda will have charge of the sixth grade at the Lee School. Miss Eula Lyon was also appointed as substitute teacher in the public schools.

Several objectives held by the Germans in Belgium are in the line of march of the English troops and despite the unfavorable weather conditions which are hampering the progress of Haig's men, the British are determined to strike the Germans another blow while the enemy is still staggering under the ferocity of the last one.

M. U. GIRLS TALK WAR PLANS

One Organization, the Y. W. C. A., Will Work as a Unit.

Plans were discussed in the round table talk at the Y. W. C. A. meeting at Read Hall Sunday afternoon for war work by University women. It was decided that they pledge themselves as an organization to do some specific work rather than each individual doing something. Miss Marjorie Carpenter lead the talk. Miss Louise Thompson, who attended Wellesly College last year said that the women of that school had pledged themselves this year to fit one battle-ship with comforts for the sailors. No definite plans were made.

Miss Eva Johnston, who favors a plan to teach all University women how to knit so that they will be able to help supply the soldiers and sailors is trying to find a way to raise money to buy yarn.

SHOWER BATHS EARLY THERE

Boys from Columbia at Funston Took Cold Spray at 2:30 A. M.

A letter received today from George B. McCowen, a former University student who was included in the third contingent of Boone County's draft army, states the forty men who left here last Friday arrived in Camp Funston at 2:20 o'clock Saturday morning.

"I guess the officers must have had something against us," wrote Mr. McCowen, "for he made us take a cold shower at 2:30 a. m. and I had to wait two hours before I got to bed." Everyone at the camp is in good spirits, according to Mr. McCowen and Lieutenant Francis W. Osborne, who is an athletic officer in the 341st Field Artillery. Grant Wyatt, also a former student in the University, has been appointed an athletic officer in his respective battery and is rounding out a strong football team to challenge Osborne's men in a short time.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN HERE

Harry C. Hill Says Laws Are Being Strictly Enforced This Year.

Harry C. Hill, deputy state game warden, is in Columbia today in the interests of the state game laws. He has four other counties besides Boone under his jurisdiction: Monroe, Pike, Audrain and Macon. Mr. Hill says that there will be more quail this year than there have been for many years. Ducks also are coming in in large numbers and will be plentiful.

Mr. Hill and the other deputies were instructed by the state game warden and fish commissioner, Tim Birmingham, to be stricter in the enforcement of the law this season than ever before. All constables and peace officers are authorized to enforce the state game laws. Boone County is second in the number of hunting licenses issued, Audrain County being first.

WELL KNOWN MEN TO DEDICATE TAVERN

Governor Gardner Has Been Asked to Speak at Saturday Night Event.

AN ASSEMBLY, TOO

Weekly Student Affair to Be Free — Columbians on Speakers' List.

Politicians, newspaper editors, business and hotel men and probably Governor Frederick D. Gardner will meet at the Daniel Boone Tavern on Saturday night for the formal opening of Columbia's new hotel, the Daniel Boone Tavern. The first event on the evening's program is the banquet which will be held in the ballroom at 7 o'clock. E. W. Stephens of Columbia will preside and will be followed in his opening address by N. T. Gentry who will talk on "The Days of Daniel Boone." Dean Walter Williams on "These Days and Those To Come." Dean Isidor Loeb on "The Tavern," and Mrs. L. W. St. Clair-Moss, whose subject is "If Mrs. Daniel Boone Could Return." Other prominent men on the program include Wallace N. Robinson, owner of the Baltimore Hotel in Kansas City, and Daniel Boone of Kansas City, a descendant of the man for whom the new hotel was named.

E. W. Stephens, who is in charge of the program, motored to Jefferson City this morning where he will see Governor Gardner and try to persuade the chief executive to come over for the banquet. Invitations to Judge John F. Phillips of Kansas City, for years Judge of the United States District Court there and to editors of the leading Kansas City and St. Louis newspapers were mailed out by Mr. Stephens this morning. Many have already indicated their intentions of being here for the opening of the new hotel.

Motor parties from Kansas City and St. Louis have been arranged, and it is believed that at least one hundred visitors from out of town will be here for the banquet, dance and open house which are to be held at the hotel on Saturday. Many are coming this weekend to see the Kansas Aggie football game and have arranged to stay over for the banquet, as well.

The place of the hotel in the student life of Columbia has not been overlooked by the hotel management. Arrangements for the usual assembly dance to be given Saturday have been completed so that the crowd in the ballroom will not postpone the time of the dance. Dancing will start as usual at 9 o'clock in the lobby and main cafe of the hotel on the first floor, where a second orchestra is to be stationed. After the banquet is over the ballroom will be opened and students and townspeople may dance there as well as on the first floor. As this is the first open house of the new hotel F. W. Leonard, manager, has decided to make no charge for the assembly dance this week.

A YARN Famine HERE

Lack of Material Stops Work of Many Columbia Knitters.

There is a yarn famine in Columbia today and the women who would knit regret the lack of something to knit with. The local Red Cross is constantly replenishing its stock for its members but no organization is attending to the demands of the many people who are unaffiliated with yarn supplying sources. Should the entire body of university women concentrate upon knitting as their share in war work, the result of their labors would be no small bit, but it is impossible to use their efforts until some one has solved this very vital problem of acquiring yarn.

H. J. WATERS TO EDIT WEEKLY FARM PAPER

Resigns Presidency of K. S. A. C. to Join Kansas City Star Staff.

FORMER DEAN HERE

Will Begin His New Duties as a Journalist Not Later Than Jan. 1.

H. J. Waters, formerly dean of the College of Agriculture, has resigned his position as president of the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan. He will become editor of the Kansas City Weekly Star. The change will be made as soon as the college can make the necessary arrangements, not later than January.

"Yesterday's issue of the Kansas City Star says: 'The vastness of the opportunity for service offered, is what impelled Doctor Waters to give up a life work in which he had been conspicuously successful. In addressing nearly 350,000 families every week through this farm newspaper he felt he would be carrying on his work on a far more extensive scale than was possible before. The Star congratulates its readers on the addition to its staff of one of the country's foremost authorities on farming and farm life.'

President Waters was graduated from the University in 1886. Immediately upon his graduation he was appointed assistant secretary of the State board of Agriculture. He was successively investigator in the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station, professor of agriculture in the Pennsylvania State College, dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the experiment station in the University of Missouri. He held the last position fifteen years.

"The opportunity to get into close, intimate touch with the farm families in this great region appealed to me as nothing else could," said Doctor Waters. "I love the genuine sober people of the Middle West, and I feel that a man can have no greater privilege than, as editor of a great paper, like the Weekly Star, to cooperate with these men and women for the best interests of American industry and American democracy."

RAIN HALTS THE SERIES

15,000 Fans Disappointed When Third Sox-Giant Game Is Postponed.

By Associated Press

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 9.—Raining a heavy downpour from clouds out of the northwest with no prospect of cessation, caused a postponement of the third act of the world's series baseball games here today between the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox. Fifteen thousand spectators of the kind whose courage is made of the national sport material braved the storm and were a disappointed lot when shortly before 1 o'clock the official announcer came forward and called out that the game had been postponed until tomorrow.

The day's delay will give the White Sox pitcher Cicotte, another day of rest, but this will also give an advantage to the New York Giants who are anxious to have Sallee pitch the game against Cicotte. "Sallee needs three days' rest to show up to advantage and today's delay will give him ample time to get in the best of condition.

The games scheduled for today and tomorrow will be staged at the Polo Grounds here and Friday's game at Chicago will be moved to Saturday. The last game will be played at the polo grounds, as originally arranged, on Monday, October 15.

FAIR WELL ATTENDED

Opening Was Postponed Until Afternoon Because of Death.

The death of G. H. Dysart caused the Boone County Fair officials to delay the opening until this afternoon. Interest in the fair, however, did not suffer. All the exhibits are of a high class. The races drew the largest crowds. Good time was made in each of the three races. Silvy Shiparo, a large chestnut mare, owned by B. M. McGravey, won the 3-4-mile race in 1:54 1-4. Watchyourstep, owned by Brant, ran second and Inrow, owned by Brakken, came third. There were three other entries in the race. The 1-2 furlong race was taken by Kitty McQue in 57 1-4. She is owned by Stewart and ridden by Smith. Miss Sly came next and Jaquin third. Two of the other entries got off to a bad start.

The sixth horse lost his wind. Pin Money, owned by Graham and ridden by Carnes, came under the wire first in the mile race in 1:45 1-4. Transport, a large bay gelding was close behind. Berto Dano came third. There were five horses entered in this race.

MISS NARDIN IN DEFENSE WORK

Committee on Patriotic Education Will Be Headed by M. U. Teacher.

Miss F. Louise Nardin of the English department of the University today accepted the position of chairman of the committee of patriotic education of the Missouri Council of National Defense. Miss Nardin was asked to take the place at the last meeting of the National Defense Council in Sedalia, but withheld her decision until she could confer with President A. Ross Hill.

This offer comes as a recognition of the work Miss Nardin did in writing the patriotic pageant, "The Progress of Liberty," which was recently presented by the Red Cross unit here. A part of the work the committee of patriotic education will do is the presentation of this pageant in various towns and cities in the state. The proceeds will be divided equally between the local Red Cross unit and the woman's committee of the National Defense Council.

Miss Nardin today took up the duties of her new position, which does not necessitate her leaving the University.

MUMFORD WILL BE STATE FOOD HEAD

Appointment of University Man Is Expected in Washington Tomorrow.

HANDLE FUEL, TOO?

Until Position Is Assured, New Appointee Will Not Make Statement.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the College of Agriculture will be food administrator for Missouri. A dispatch from Washington says that the official announcement of appointment of Dean F. B. Mumford of the Missouri College of Agriculture is expected tomorrow. His nomination is said to have been sent to the White House yesterday afternoon by Herbert Hoover, national food administrator.

Dean Mumford arrived in Washington at the invitation of Mr. Hoover, and after a conference is said to have agreed to accept the appointment if approved by President Wilson. Governor Gardner is understood to have recommended Dean Mumford to Mr. Hoover upon the Governor's recent visit here.

As chairman of Missouri Council of Defense, Dean Mumford has been in close touch with government war activities. Because of his training and peculiar grasp of food conditions Mr. Hoover regards him an admirable selection for Food Administrator in Missouri.

There is a possibility that Dean Mumford also may be placed in charge of the fuel situation in Missouri, as well as the food. No announcement in regard to the fuel administration has been made, however. Until his appointment as food administrator has been confirmed by the President, Dean Mumford is not expected to make any statement, the dispatch says.

Missouri is one of the states in which difficulty has been experienced in getting either a food or fuel administrator.
