Of course it is a fact that it is no money to the postmaster to put in more boxes, and it does seem unfair, that a postmaster, paid a salary, should have to pay for the office fixtures with his own money and turn the rent money for these boxes over to the government. This is evidently the view our postmaster takes of the matter and the way he feels about it; but on the other hand it, is the law, and while these boxes would greatly lessen his labor and be a great favor and accommodation to the patrons of the office, they would also increase the income of the office and therefore help to increase his salary, and when his term of office is out, his successor would pay him his money back. It is our opinion that we have a good postmaster. So far, his service has been excellent and the office is kept in good condition. Everything is neat and clean, he has good help in the office and the mails seem to be handled carefully and efficiently. He has given us better Sunday service, and we cannot help but believe that as soon as he fully realizes the requirements of our growing and prosperous town he will keep pace with it. This box question is not new with us. The files of this paper will show that we were contending for more boxes long before the office changed hands, and of course we must continue to insist so long as the need of them is felt, solely in behalf of the public. We feel satisfied, however, that the new boxes will be put in.

In every country town there is a sign at the railroad crossing like this: "Look for the cars." Now, everybody knew that it was a railroad crossing the day the line was laid and finished. When the sign was put up it took two days for every inhabitant to become familiar with it. In a week every small child could read it backwards. Did the railroad take it down? No, if they had the warning would have been forgotten in a week and smashup and damage suits would have resulted. One time advertisements acts the same way. You must keep everlastingly at it, like the railroad crossing sign.—Ex.

At any time you are in need of doors and windows, don't fail to call on A. J. Dorris. 211

Dr. J. G. Crider is moving his middle business house off the northeast corner of the square to the vacant lot just opposite, on the east side of the street, where the buildings were recently destroyed by fire. This will add considerable safety to this much crowded corner.

Why not buy your goods from A. J. Dorris. He has the biggest and cheapest line of merchandise in town.

Our advertisers must not depend altogether on us to get around to see them. Every minute of our time is taken up, and sometimes we make two or three trips and find our man out. Our office is over the postoffice, and we will appreciate it if our friends will call on us.

A. J. Dorris has just received a full line of Doors and windows, and will sell them as cheap as you can buy anywhere. 211

Capt. B. F. Allen announces today as a candidate for alderman in Ward No. 1. No citizen of Hayti is better known than Capt. Allen, and he has held the highest office in the gift of the people (Mayor) more than once. It goes without saying that the Captain would make a good alderman, and that he would do his best for the advancement and the up-building of Hayti. He is a hard worker for his town, an old citizen, and knows the needs of the people.

At the last meeting of the board of alderman the April election was ordered and judges appointed; the marshal's, treasurer's and city hall custodian's reports were made and accepted, and a resolution for a new ordinance to be drawn turning the city hall rents into the general fund. A committee consisting of Henry Dortch, Moreau Gaskins and L. L. Lefler was appointed to look after the city hall improvements and putting in a system of lights, and provisions were made to care for those in quarantine, which is now unnecessary, as the quarantine is raised.

Lum Lefler announces in this week's issue as a candidate for Marshal.

Mr. Lefler is one of the old pioneer settlers of Pemiscot county, and one of the first residents of the City of Hayti. He has held the office before, with credit to himself and the town, and if elected again to fill this office it goes without saying that he will do his best and treat all parties with fairness and justice. He was petitioned to make the race, and he feels that the people will treat him fairly at the polls.

Smith vs. City of Hayti

The following from the court proceedings in the Democrat is confusing: "State at relation of P. R. Smith vs. F. A. Mayes, alternative writ ordered issued."

This is the order of the court to the City of Hayti to pay the judgement of Mr. Smith against the city, and Dr. F. A. Mayes is only an officer of the city to receive the order.

From a Taxpaying Citizen

I want to know what is the matter with the management of the City Hall? The house is not two years old and it is beginning to look very bad. It certainly is getting some bad treatment, nearly all the glass gone out of the hall doors, some of the upper glass broken, locks broken or keys lost, in fact it is beginning to have the appearance of a derelict as far as management is concerned.

It was the aim and intention of the promoters of the building to have a large, commodious hall in which to hold entertainments, public speakings and good moral and refined shows and theatricals, or anything educational. Under the present management it has become a place of rough houses, free for all's and a general nuisance and disgust. Things have been permitted that any fair minded man with good intentions would never have thought of permitting. The best of us might get fooled once but only the Simons would solicit a renewal of the vulgar and illiterate spectacle that was recently repeated.

The citizens of Hayti are mostly educated and morally refined people. They enjoy anything of an educational or entertaining character; they have always proved themselves to be good patrons of such, and spend their money freely for shows and theatricals, but they have nothing to donate to vulgar kids who are so illiterate that they don't know the meaning of morality, and when such things are backed up by men that sit in the background and giggle, it makes them mad and some of them are inclined to stay mad for quite a while. They swear off going to anything at all, then if a good troupe

BETTER BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU EAT!

If you had a craw like a chicken and a gizzard full of sand rocks you might eat almost anything, but the human stomach is a delicate piece of machinery and demands great care. Don't take liver and stomach medicine and pills; it's not that you need. Buy good, pure, wholesome, fresh groceries; buy the best, and see how different you feel.

The market is full of cheap, rotten, nasty stuff, the slops and leavings from canning and packing houses, which is put up under bright labels and sold cheap. Beware of such stuff; its dangerous. We don't handle it; don't buy it; don't want it. We handle only the best of everything that is to eat, at the lowest price such goods can be sold. Come to the QUALITY STORE.

should perchance drop into town with a good play, they would have to come well financial or go out broke, and wonder why. And all because of the reputation of the hall. Besides, those who have taxes to pay want the house taken care of, and have a right to demand it, and if the city council don't immediately take steps to have the building properly looked after, there will be a committee of citizens endeavor to take the matter in charge.
