

Can't you hear the bell ring?

Ding-a-ling-a-ling-ling!
Can't you hear the bell ring?

First the man who sells the milk,
Then a lady dressed in silk,

Next a beggar asking bread,
Glad to work when he is fed:

Ting-a-ling-a-ling-ling!
Can't you hear the bell ring?

Now the gas man after money,
Then a peddler peddling honey;
Then a plumber, then a drummer,
Selling books to read in summer.

Ting-a-ling-a-ling-ling!
Can't you hear the bell ring?

CANT YOU HEAR THE BELL RING?

Ding - a-ling - a - ling - a-ling! Can't you hear the bell ring? First the man who sells the milk, Then a la - dy dressed in silk. Next a beg - gar ask - ing bread,

Very smoothly. Cres.

Glad to work when he is fed; Ting-a-ling - a-ling - a-ling! Can't you hear the bell ring?

Cres.

Ding - a-ling - a - ling - a-ling! Can't you hear the bell ring? Now the gas man

Very smoothly. Cres.

alt - er money, Then a ped - dler ped - dling hon - ey; Then a plumb - er, then a - drummer,

Sell - ing books to read in summer; Ting-a-ling - a-ling - a-ling! Can't you hear the bell ring?

Cres.