WILL ORGANIZE UNIQUE BIBLE CLASS. Persons From Every Denomination Invited to Join Movement Led by Doctor Gregg. FIRST MEETING TO-MORROW. Plans Two Years Old About to Materialize at the Washington and Compton Avenue Church.

In addition to the regular services of the Washington and Compton Avenue Presbyterian Church the Reverend Doctor Harris H. Gregg will conduct a Bible class free to all who wish to attend on Friday evenings during the remainder of this fall and next winter. The class is to be organized to-morrow night in the lecture-room of the church and many persons have accepted invitations to become members. Doctor Gregg believes that revival meetings and all religious services would be followed by better results if the persons attending them were better acquainted with the Scriptures. Ever since coming to St. Louis two years ago the Washington and Compton Avenue Church pastor has had the idea of a great Bible class in mind. For one reason and another organization has been deferred to the present time. Membership in Doctor Gregg's church, in the Presbyterian Church, or in any other church, is not a requisite for membership in the hundreds of advertising circulars which have been sent out. It is announced that any one who wishes to join in the movement is invited to do so.

Doctor Gregg is known as a minister well fitted to teach and interpret the Bible. He is in demand at Bible conventions, and the one that has just returned from him counts himself fortunate in membership. He has just returned from England, where he made special studies on Bible history in the British Museum. His topics in the past have been the Bible in the hands of the Jews, the Bible in the hands of the Christians, the Bible in the hands of the Mohammedans, and the Bible in the hands of the modern world. LAW CLASS AT A BANQUET. Judge Barclay and George P. B. Jackson Address Y. M. C. A. Former and prospective students of the Commercial Law Course of the Ralph Selow Institute of the Central Y. M. C. A. were entertained last night at a banquet in the Central Association's building, and afterward listened to addresses by Judge Shepard Barclay and George P. B. Jackson. Jackson spoke on "The Advantages of a Knowledge of Law and One Not Expected to Practice It." He said that the law is passed when the old axiom "He who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client" is true. A rudimentary knowledge of law, he said, is almost indispensable to any person who expects to be successful in any matter what his business may be. Judge Barclay is the lecturer on Commercial Law at the Y. M. C. A., having inaugurated the lectures in 1898. The lectures this year will begin November 18 and will be given once each week on Friday evenings. They are intended primarily for business men. The course is divided into two series of lectures, one on elementary and other on advanced law. Many persons who have taken the course have sent testimonials to the manager of the Educational Department of the Y. M. C. A. speaking in high terms of the benefits the knowledge gained has enabled them to derive.

CLEAN OUT Your System. If a frog gets in your spring, you clean out the spring. If your cistern gets foul, you clean it out. If your horse goes lame, you apply immediate relief. If your engine breaks down, you repair it at once. Delay in any of these cases is disastrous. Ninety-seven per cent of the people suffer from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. All sorts of complications result from the delay in treating these disorders. Keep your bowels clean and regular; then your stomach will perform its natural functions, your complexion will be clear, your breath sweet, your digestion perfect and your whole system rejoice in a delightful state of health.

WILLIAM H. CRANE'S NEW PART IN "THE SPENDERS." William H. Crane's new play, "The Spenders," will be on view at the Olympic Theater next week. It is an adaptation of Harry Leon Wilson's novel and was selected for transmission into play shape on account of its hero, old Peter Bines. He is a Westerner, who for years trudged over the Montana hills, hammer in hand, a few belongings on his back, his heart filled with the hope that some day he would strike ore. The day comes at last, but the possession of great wealth does not affect him. No man in the mine worked harder than he did. It remained for his relatives, to go East, to pretend a dislike for the country the old man loved and to part with money so rapidly that they were dubbed the "Spenders." The plot deals with the old man's efforts to reclaim his family, and the character of Peter Bines is said to be a splendid affirmation of the truth that it is worth living, Mr. Crane is sure in this part. The play is in four acts. The opening act is laid in Montana and the following ones in New York.
