BODY OF GEORGE GRAHAM VEST BORNE TO THE GRAVE IN BELLEFONTAINE CEMETERY

STRIKERS SEEK GOVERNMENT AID

Funeral of Statesman Marked by Same Simplicity Which Characterized Ceremonies at Home.

MANY MOURNERS AT GRAVE.

Prominent Men of Missouri Carry the Coffin and Escort the Venerable Senator's Body to Resting Place.

Marked by the same sweet simplicity which was characteristic of the funeral service at the Sweet Springs cottage, the coffin of George Graham Vest was lowered beneath the sod of Bellefontaine Cemetery yesterday morning, and one of Missouri's best-loved and most distinguished statesmen was buried.

Gathered around the beautiful spot which had been selected as the last resting place of the venerable statesman were a host of distinguished citizens and as they, with bowed heads, silently went in common with the family of the departed statesman the tribute they paid was such as was worthy of him whom they mourned.

The friend of thirty-five years' standing, the Reverend J. C. Shackelford, spoke the last words over the body and in the beautiful language of the burial service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, he committed the "dust to dust and ashes to ashes."

The funeral party was not at the grave, but in a brief sitting close had come to a noble career.

The funeral party arrived from Sweet Springs in the private car of Vice President Allen of the M., K. & T. The car had been attached to the regular train of the M., K. & T. at Sedalia, leaving there at 9 o'clock p. m. The train to St. Louis was made without incident and the coffin arrived at the Union Station at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

The funeral party, including Senator Vest, Senator Cockrell, and other members of the Senate, arrived at the Union Station at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

who have long been in the employ of the family also accompanied the mourners.

As the coffin was lowered the Reverend John C. Shackelford of Sweet Springs began reading the burial service and frequently his voice broke as he committed to earth the body of his old friend and neighbor.

At the conclusion of the brief service, at which the Reverend Mr. Shackelford interpreted the words, "our Senator and beloved friend" in the prayers, and the effect was most touching. With the Lord's Prayer the late exercises closed and the funeral party returned at once to the city.

After the earth had been mounded over, a blanket of evergreen covered it, upon which rested the floral remembrance sent by the citizens of Sweet Springs and some handsome designs sent by St. Louis residents.

The grave is in the southwestern portion of the cemetery near the first gate. The lot is the joint property of Senator Vest's family and of the family of George P. R. Jackson, occupies high ground upon which the wind does not usually blow. It is the most beautiful section of the cemetery.

The Board of Directors of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition was represented at the services by President D. R. Francis, Secretary Walter B. Stevens, Rolla Watts, Charles W. Knapp, C. P. Walbridge, D. M. Hopper, Brockbridge, James, Nathan and J. P. Schuman, St. Marshall, N. M. Hill and John Schroers.

of the Missouri Commission of the Exposition of 1904 were also present.

All the departments at Jefferson City were represented, and during the services most of the public buildings of the city were closed. The United States District Court was represented by Judge John H. Rogers and United States Marshal W. L. Morse.

The city hall was closed, and representatives from most of the departments, with members of the Missouri Legislature and of the City Council, were present.

All of the Circuit Judges of the city were present, and the St. Louis Court-house was closed.

In the morning flags over buildings throughout the city were being at half-mast, and at the World's Fair grounds the colors at the Missouri building were half-masted.

Senators Cockrell and Stone rode together in the procession which followed Senator Vest's remains from Union Station to the cemetery.

PRESIDENT AND DELEGATES CLASH AT TYPOGRAPHICAL CONVENTION

Wordy War Between Mr. Lynch and Mr. Greene of Indianapolis Is Quoted by Fellow-Members - Convention Transacts Much Business and Completes Report of the Committee on Laws - Toronto Next Convention Place.

James M. Lynch, President of the International Typographical Union. J. W. Bramwood, Secretary-Treasurer of the International Typographical Union.

War seemed imminent yesterday when the Typographical Union took up the discussion of the question of forbidding a member of the organization from obstructing a candidate for office in his campaign. The incident came up in the report of the Committee on Laws, and President Lynch put the question, Delegate Greene of Indianapolis said that before the last election he had been induced by President Lynch to write a letter, which President Lynch had later made public, in direct violation of agreement and treaty of faith.

The president, in reply, said that the statement was a falsehood. To avoid immediate strife another delegate secured recognition and read a letter which was sent during the campaign of two years ago. The threatening cloud blew over and the report of the committee was adopted.

Regardless of the opposition to the present administration, the fight will be renewed before the close of the convention. While the debate was hottest an attempt was made to take the convention into executive session. But this was defeated by a large majority.

Regardless of the strenuous day proceeding, the members of the convention transacted more business at the meeting yesterday than at any preceding day's session. TORONTO SELECTED.

One of the important transactions was to select Toronto, Canada, as the meeting place of the next convention. The contest narrowed down to Toronto and Columbus, and the former won by a vote of 187 to 64.

The Canadians were very much elated and promised a reception second only to that given by St. Louis. The vote was preceded by much complaining on the part of the backers of the rival cities, and the members of the Auxiliary did not work at all.

At the morning session President Lynch opened the meeting by announcing the names of places on the grounds where auto-made cigars could be obtained. The convention then proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee on Laws.

This committee had considered more than 100 amendments which had been offered by delegates from all parts of the jurisdiction, and a report was ready on nearly all of them. On a few the committee had decided to defer action and on these there was no report.

The report of the committee was concurred in until the question of forbidding the use of union labels in one-man shops was reached. By a vote of the majority it was decided to let the present law stand. This rule leaves the option to the local union.

A vote failed occurred on the question of

DAY'S CONFERENCE FAILED.

Retail Butchers See Owners and Agree That It Would Be Useless to Further Agitate the Matter.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 11.—The stock yards strike to-night seems no nearer a settlement than it did the day the struggle began. Efforts of a committee, composed of retail butchers and grocers, to bring about a conference between the packers and the strike leaders were of no avail today.

The retailers' committee was in conference with Edwin Hiden, John E. Maurer, Thomas Wilson and Thomas J. Connors, representing the packers, for three hours this afternoon. At the end of the meeting the following statement was given out by the committee of business men:

"We were courteously received by a committee representing the packers and were informed that, considering all that had passed, and present conditions no good reason existed why any further conference with the strikers would be beneficial."

"No statement was issued by the packers regarding the conference and they all refused to discuss the matter further than to confirm the statement given out by the intermediary committee."

When the strike leaders were informed of the determination of the packers to refuse to enter into further conferences with the unionists, they began to form a plan to force the hand of the legal department of the latter. This move was an endeavor to bring about a settlement. This move was decided upon by the legal advisers of the strikers. They had received what they considered reliable information that the Attorney General would not insist upon being into operation the perpetual injunction combinations among the packing firms unless ordered to do so by President Roosevelt.

The plan, in effect, is this: Tomorrow or next day an action will be started in the Federal court, in the name of a striker, who will seek to compel the packers to enter into a conference on the ground that the illegal combination exists, and through it the packers are suffering loss.

This is expected by the strike leaders, will induce President Roosevelt to take up the union and packers' efforts to produce their books, contracts and agreements in open court. Such a step, it is believed by the strikers, will induce the packers to terms and end the struggle.

The officials of the Market Wagon Drivers' Union have ordered the strikers to be driven by the union on Sunday on the question of a strike of these men.

There will be about 2,000 Sunday and market wagon drivers Sunday afternoon," said Business Agent Kelly of the union, "and they will be secured by that time or something definite done between the retailers and the packers our men will undoubtedly decide to join the other unions already on strike. Should such a decision be reached at this meeting the meat supply of the city will be cut off Monday morning."

TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF MISS BERTHA DOLBIER.

Coroner Will Hold Inquest in Case of Girl Who Lapsed Out Waldorf-Astoria.

New York, Aug. 11.—It has been decided by Coroner Schuler to hold an inquest Friday into the cause of the death of Miss Bertha Dolmier, who died at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, and whose will bequeathed her entire estate, valued at $100,000, to Miss E. A. Warren.

A coroner's physician who performed an autopsy on the body called the case a suicide. Miss Warren, sole witness of the tragedy and a lifelong and constant companion of Miss Dolmier, is in California, and her testimony in the form of an affidavit will be read to the jury.

A struggle is on in the courts for the possession of her money.

Victor, Colo., Preacher Refuses to Leave District.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Aug. 11.—The Reverend Thomas S. Leland, pastor of the Victor Methodist Episcopal Church, who was warned last night by masked men to leave the Cripple Creek district, declared today that he intended to remain and will resist any mob that attacked him.

"I am forced to defend myself. I will not appeal to the Sheriff for assistance," he said.

"Mr. Leland is known throughout the West as 'the cowboy preacher.' He had taken no part in the industrial struggle here up to last month. This he became outspoken in his pulpits against lawlessness and the taking of human life in his condemnation of the brutal destruction system."

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains and misery by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is fading away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me, I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. FLORENCE DASFORTH, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced. Here is another case:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For years I was troubled with falling of the womb, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, bearing-down pains, backache, headache, dizzy and fainting spells, and stomach trouble.

I doctor for about five years but did not seem to improve. I began the use of your medicine, and have taken seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, three of Blood Purifier, and also used the Sanative Wash and Liver Pills, and am now enjoying good health, and have gained in flesh.

I thank you very much for what you have done for me, and heartily recommend your medicine to all suffering women."—Miss EMMA SUTNER, 218 East Center St., Marion, Ohio.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

FORFEIT if we cannot forth with produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BANDIT ENDS LIFE IN GOVERNOR'S HOME

Isaac Gravelle, Notorious in Dynamite Wrecking Outrages, Cost Northern Pacific $50,000 for His Capture.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 11.—Isaac Gravelle, on trial for robbing a powder-house near Helena last September of giant powder, which was used in wrecking Northern Pacific trains, escaped from the Lewis and Clark County jail this afternoon after probably fatally shooting Deputy Sheriff Tony Konisky.

Pursued by deputies who were armed, Gravelle took refuge in an alley beside the residence of Governor Joseph K. Toole, where a pistol duel took place. After an exchange of shots, Gravelle ran into the basement of the Governor's home, where he shot and killed himself. He had been wounded by bullets from the guns of his pursuers.

The escape took place at 2 o'clock, as Gravelle was about to be led by Deputy Sheriff to his trial in the courtroom in the county building across the street.

Suddenly Gravelle pulled a revolver and fired twice at the deputy, his bullets taking effect in Konisky's breast a few inches from his heart. Jailer Jones was not armed and threw up his hands. After taking Konisky's revolver, Gravelle ordered the jailer to open the door, which he did.

Gravelle then ran one block eastward, where he tried to mount a horse. He was too badly pursued, however, and continued to shoot and kill himself. He had been caught in the alley beside Governor Toole's home, where he captured the two deputies at his quarters.

These Gravelle, wounded, ran into the basement of the Governor's home, where he shot and killed himself.

Gravelle was convicted five months ago of robbing the Northern Pacific of about $50,000 worth of dynamite, which he had dynamited Northern Pacific. He had been in an effort to blackmail the company. He was captured after a long chase which cost the Northern Pacific about $50,000.

Sheriff McConnell does not know how Gravelle got the gun, but believes it was smuggled in to him by a trusty or visitor.
