SIX MORE DENVER JUDGES ARRESTED

Must Answer Supreme Court for Refusing to Recognize Watchers.

POLITICAL PARTIES ACTIVE.

Republicans Claim Result on Governor Will Be Changed by Judges Decision; Democrats Scout Idea.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 22.—Six more election judges, charged with contempt for refusing to recognize election watchers appointed by the Supreme Court, were arrested to-day.

This makes nine election judges either sentenced or to be tried for the offense, and warrants are out for six more. Four have left the city.

The headquarters of the two parties are scenes of activity which usually precede elections. Both have scores of clerks and messengers at work gathering and compiling evidences of election fraud both in Denver and in outside counties.

To-morrow the Supreme Court will decide the crucial question whether whole precincts, in which fraud has been proven, will be thrown out. If they grant the motion of the Republicans, both parties will begin a race to produce as many instances of fraud by the other side as possible.

The Republican managers, relying on previous rulings, are confident of success. The Democrats claim the Supreme Court will decide "no jurisdiction" and will content themselves with punishing the contempt cases.

The Republicans are claiming more than enough evidence of fraud in Democratic precincts to change the result on Governor.

Democrats state that Adams's majority of 9,800 cannot be overcome, and that the Republicans are only bluffing in an effort to change the result on four State Senators and secure control of both branches of the Legislature.

FUNDS HAVE BEEN EXHAUSTED

Indian Territory Townsite Commissioners Furloughed.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 22.—J. George Wright, Indian Inspector, has received an order from the Secretary of the Interior to furlough all townsite commissioners working in Indian Territory until further orders. The reason given is that funds for their use are exhausted.

The Cherokee Townsite Commission has completed all its work, except in six small towns, of which Stilwell and Westville are the most important. In the Choctaw and Chicasaw nations the work is practically completed, the appraisement having been completed on all town lots.

The townsite commissions were created four years ago. They completed work in the Creek Nation nearly two years ago and would have completed the other nations had they not been furloughed so often and for months at a time. There are 225 Government towns in Indian Territory. It is the duty of a Townsite Commission to ascertain to whom the lots should be scheduled, make an appraisement on these that are improved and to sell at auction those not improved. There is a separate commission for each nation.

ATTORNEY'S FEE INCREASED.

T. D. Cannon Obtains Allowance of $4,523.45 Against Estate.

Attorney Tom D. Cannon obtained judgment yesterday in Judge Douglas's division of the Circuit Court for $4,523.45 against the estate of Doctor Francis Tumblety for legal services rendered and expenses incurred while under the employment of the administrator.

Doctor Tumblety died at Mullanphy Hospital in May, 1903. He left an estate of about $140,000, consisting mostly of cash deposited in bank in New York. He was a bachelor and quite old and had spent several years before his death in traveling. He came to St. Louis shortly before his death from Hot Springs, Ark.

Mr. Cannon was called in a few days before his death to draw his will. Doctor Tumblety named no executor, and Public Administrator Garrard P. Strode took charge of the estate.

Some of Doctor Tumblety's heirs, who reside in the East, claimed that the estate should be administered in New York.

In a legal contest, directed by Cannon, Strode was successful in retaining the administration of the estate and secured an order in the New York courts for the transfer of nearly $140,000 belonging to the estate to St. Louis.

Attorney Cannon put in a claim for $7,023.45. The claim was contested by Doctor Tumblety's heirs, but Probate Judge T. B. Crews allowed Cannon $4,023.45 January 21 last. Doctor Tumblety's heirs appealed to the Circuit Court, where the case was tried by a jury.

STONE FOR CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY.

Junior Senator Spends Day in City and Goes to St. Joseph.

United States Senator William J. Stone spent yesterday at the Southern Hotel, leaving last night for St. Joseph, where he will spend Thanksgiving. He expects to go to Washington about two weeks hence.

The outcome of the election, he characterized as "very bad, indeed." He was not disposed to discuss politics at length, but of the general Democratic situation he said: "The Democratic party must adopt a constructive, instead of a negative policy if it is to win battles. Merely to oppose will not accomplish much."

MORE TALLIES FOR NIEDRINGHAUS

Claims Four More Votes, or a Total of 59, and Comes Back at His Opponents.

CONGRESSMEN TAKE NOTICE.

Recognize That if Kerens Is Elected Senator Their Federal Appointments Will Amount to Very Little.

Republicans simply won't let the senatorial election take its peaceful course. Conferences, "hot shots," guesses and predictions, kept the political pot boiling yesterday. The upshot of the day's proceedings were several tallies by the Niedringhaus boomers with other proceedings of a various nature.

Tally No. 1 by the Niedringhaus boomers was the issuance of an authorized statement claiming fifty-nine of the ninety-five Republicans, who will go into the Republican caucus at Jefferson City. Only forty-eight would be required to capture the election if the caucus were held binding.

Another tally for Niedringhaus was the visit of Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City to the State headquarters, where he remained in close conference with the State chairman. Dickey's close friends say that he favors Niedringhaus for Senator, and though a little late in getting into the game, is willing to get busy.

Still another tally for Niedringhaus was a two hours' conference, which National Committeeman Akins held with the State chairman. After it was over, neither cared to discuss just what occurred. Friends of Niedringhaus and L. F. Parker, both recognize the fact that Mr. Akins could be very happy if either dear charmer were out of the race. Akins is holding himself in a position to come out actively for the man who can deliver the party from Kerens.

HOWE POURS VITRIOL.

City Chairman Jeptha D. Howe yesterday poured a little vitriol into the pot by giving out the following interview for strictly home consumption:

"Chairman Niedringhaus is gaining ground every day. There is an overwhelming sentiment throughout Missouri, demanding continuance of our reunited party under the leadership of Thomas K. Niedringhaus and a greater party power and usefulness resulting therefrom. For the first time in many years, the Republican party in this State knew no faction under State Chairman Neidringhaus. In consequence, the party vote, except Governor, exceeds the Republican vote of 1900, while the Democratic vote fell off from 25,000 to 35,000. Our State Chairman got out the Republican vote. He got it out by uniting every Republican force and factor.

"The party's experience in the late campaign clearly demonstrated that it can be united and can win under the leadership of Thomas K. Niedringhaus. Mr. Niedringhaus is the logical and necessary choice for Senator; not only for the reasons mentioned, but because the people by their vote in the late election declared in favor of good government and worthy men to administrate.

"Boodling was one of the leading issues. Undue and corrupt influences on public servants, whether brought to bear by corporations or individuals, the people said by their votes they did not want. Nor do they want men in public office, who either are susceptible to such influences or benefit by, or use such influences.

"A moral wave has swept the State and it is reasonable to presume that the Republican Legislators as well as State and local officers elected on that wave, are not men who would deliberately slap the people in the face and incidentally bury themselves and their party forever by so doing. The public announcements that the national administration will not interfere with the election of a Senator in Missouri was to have been expected. Thank the Lord, the patronage nuisance no longer confronts the Republican party in Missouri. The people settled it when they elected nine Republican Congressmen and the Republican United States Senator."

PARKER OUT OF CITY.

L. F. Parker is out of the city until after Thanksgiving, so that local conditions in his race have not changed materially. Former National Committeeman Kerens returned from Kansas City and held seances with some of his friends, including Jim Gideon of Springfield, a worker among the Ozark Baldknobbers, and Joe Black of Richmond, the best manipulator in the Third District.

A peculiar condition exists in the Third District. Congressman-elect Klepper of that bailiwick was formerly a Kerens adherent, and remained so until he fell in with President Roosevelt in Colorado. Since that time Klepper has been consulted on appointments and knows from personal experience how Roosevelt feels toward Kerens. A friend of Klepper said yesterday that he favored Niedringhaus.

Black is for Kerens. If Klepper is any sort of a Congressman he will do things with his post-office appointments. Black's friends make no secret of their feelings for Klepper, and dub him "an accident" in politics. If Klepper really does oppose Kerens, and there is every reason to believe that he will—the former National Committeeman will have only one Congressman elect from whom he can even hope for favors—Ellis of Kansas City, who is divided between Kerens and Niedringhaus.

Practically all of the Congressmen elect are opposed to Kerens. They know that if he is elected their appointments will go glimmering, for every one has been fighting him in the past. They remember the promises he made regarding patronage at the Philadelphia convention and are profiting thereby.

So bitter is this feeling that one Congressman elect who has been in St. Louis declared that he knew of several Representatives elect from his district who would vote for Cockrell before they would for Kerens. It would take only eight such men to prevent a Republican election.

AKINS-PARKER STORY.

Another story relating to Akins and Parker was going the rounds yesterday. Akins gave Parker the biggest vote for delegate at large to the Chicago convention at the Kansas City convention last March. Parker reciprocated by nominating Akins for election as National Committeeman. Now the story is that it was the understanding that Parker should receive the minority nomination for Senator. However, there is no Republican minority nomination. Instead it is an election. For that reason the activity of some of Mr. Akins's closest friends is explained. At the same time just as close friends of Mr. Akins are working for Niedringhaus.

"SURE-THING" MEN ARE BUSY.

Evade Authorities and Rob Strangers in the County.

"Sure-thing" men are still operating in the Delmar Garden vicinity, although not on as extensive a scale as they were about two months ago.

Last Sunday, according to Deputy Sheriff Tom McCradey, a stranger was robbed of $70 in one of the resorts near the garden. McCradey does not remember the name of the stranger. The story of the "touch" was the old one. He was offered what seemed a sure thing on a bet and was foolish enough to display his money, when it was grabbed, after which he was put out of the place.

Last Sunday a man known as "The Big Swede," who operated at Creve Coeur Lake during the summer, unloaded his paraphernalia to start a game in the building formerly occupied by the "Girl in Blue," but was prevented from doing so by Deputy Sheriff Ossenfort.

Two special deputies are constantly on patrol duty in the "sure-thing" region, but the operators manage to elude their vigilance.

BRAVES WARFARE TO FIND SUITOR

Russian Army Nurse Invades Japanese Lines in Search of Wounded Sweetheart.

IS ARRESTED FOR A SPY.

French Consul Intercedes and Girl May Be Sent to Care for Russian Sick in Japan.

Chefoo, Nov. 22.—A romantic story develops around Miss Corelle, the Russian war nurse, who is on her way to Japan. She refuses to talk, but a reliable authority says her capture by the Chinese bandits who took her into the Japanese lines was part of her scheme to find her sweetheart.

The first reports said Miss Corelle had voluntarily entered the Japanese lines. This now seems to be incorrect. Miss Corelle, it is now said, was a nurse during the Boxer rebellion, and won the Stanislaus medal. During that war she was wounded in the arm, and received the St. George medal because she continued to work when her wound was dressed.

She is a remarkably handsome woman, 21 years old. A young Russian officer fell in love with the pretty nurse, who reciprocated his affection fully. Recently this officer was among the missing, and it was believed he was wounded or a prisoner among the Japanese. In order to find him, it is alleged, Miss Corelle strolled from the Russian camp and very cheerfully allowed some Chinese bandits to capture her. This was about ten days ago.

The next step in her scheme was to become a Japanese prisoner or reach their lines. The bandits, it is asserted, allowed her to communicate with the French Consul at Niuchwang, following which a detail of Japanese soldiers reached their camp and Miss Corelle was taken to Niuchwang. She tried to secure permission to go to Japan and search for her suitor, but the Japanese gave her twenty-four hours in which to leave the town, suspecting her of being a spy.

The French Consul at Chefoo is now endeavoring to obtain permission for Miss Corelle to nurse the wounded Russians in Japan.

APPROACHING SENATORS FOR A "HOME RULE DEAL."

Republican Senator Elect Tells of the Proposition Made to Him by Democratic "We Are Seven."

According to a Republican Senator elect, a combination of seven Democratic Senators is endeavoring to make terms with the Republican minority in the upper body of the next General Assembly with the ostensible view of passing a strong home-rule bill for St. Louis and Kansas City.

"I have been approached by one of the seven," said this Republican. "I told this man that I did not care to go into this sort of a combination at this time. Though home rule was talked to me, I know that is not their real game.

"I remember the case of Charley Schweickardt and the other Republican Senators from St. Louis. They went into a deal with the minority of the Democrats in the Senate for the purpose of defeating the Nesbit and police laws. In the last week of the session the Republicans were thrown down good and hard.

"None of that for me. Of course, I am for home rule, and, what is more, I am confident that we will get it through the assistance of the better element of the Democratic Senators, such as Senator Dickinson and Senator McNatt and others who vote with them. Folk has promised to help it along, and I know that the Democratic Senators who proposed the combination to me are not friendly to Folk. Two of the Senators among the seven in the proposed Democratic-Republican combination are Farris and Nelson."

Democratic Senators who are opposed to Farris and Nelson claim that they are in the majority in the Senate, provided Clarke of Kansas City, Young of Texas and McKinley's successor follow the course they followed in the last session.

OPPOSES STOCK SPECULATION

E. J. Parker Addresses Missouri Bankers of Group 1.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Macon, Mo., Nov. 22.—"I will not loan money to a man who is buying grain or stock on margin, unless I know him to be of absolute responsibility and have investigated thoroughly the color and character of his collateral. No bank officer has a right ever to buy anything on margins, neither should he be permitted to borrow money from his own bank to speculate with, and if he attempts to do so, some fellow-officer should hold him down."

These remarks were made at the ninth annual meeting of Group 1, Missouri Bankers' Association, by E. J. Parker, the veteran cashier of the Quincy (Ill.) State Loan and Trust Company, in the course of an address on "Safe Banking."

Judge T. N. Dysart delivered the address of welcome. The response was by Thomas L. Rubey of Laplata. Other speakers of the afternoon were: J. R. Dominick, Traders' Bank, Kansas City; J. S. Calfee, Mechanics' National, St. Louis; W. T. Baird, Baird National, Kirksville; W. C. Harris, Fulton; S. R. Nelson, Chillicothe.

Thirteen banks of the district were reported out of the association fold, and missionaries were appointed to gather them in. The bankers agreed to urge their Representatives to pass the negotiable instrument law now before the House.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session a train of seven automobiles took the bankers out to the Military Academy, where they were the guests of Colonel Bilers.

F. W. Hixson of Hannibal was unanimously elected chairman, and Gilbert Hughes of the Bevier Bank, secretary. The attendance was the largest in the group's history.

RAYBURN'S EXPENSES HEAVY.

Defeated Candidate for Court of Appeals Files Schedule for $1,664.35.

By far the largest election expense account to be filed by any of the candidates was that yesterday of Valle Rayburn, who was defeated for the Court of Appeals. He swore to expenditures of $1,664.35, as follows: Five hundred and sixty dollars for primaries, $360 for filing St. Louis delegation, $185 for assessments and contributions to county committees, and the remainder in incidentals.

His expenses, however, are not in excess, as he drew votes from half of the entire State, and the amount is based on the number of people.

M. F. Keenoy, candidate for Representative from the Third District, turned in an account of $8.25.

Few of the candidates for nomination so far have complied with the law which requires even primary candidates to turn in lists.

Thousands of Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Almost everyone, from personal experience, knows that the effects of any kind of severe physical strain are felt, first of all, in the small of the back—in other words, in those Vital Organs, the Kidneys. This is as true in the case of the very powerful as it is with one of less strength, and it is especially true whenever the kidneys are weak or out of order.

The great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, strengthens the Kidneys and through them helps all the other organs.

WOMEN suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not always correctly understood; in many cases, when doctoring, they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills, when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles.

Didn't Know I Had Kidney Trouble.

I had tried so many remedies without benefit that I was about discouraged, but in a few days after taking your wonderful Swamp-Root I began to feel better.

I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not realize that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt they might be, and I began taking Swamp-Root, as above stated. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, making me stronger and better in every way, and I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Gratefully yours, untold misery. I became weak, emaciated and very much run down. I had great difficulty in retaining my urine, and was obliged to pass water very often night and day. After I had used a sample bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent me on my request, I experienced relief and I immediately bought of my druggist two large bottles and continued taking it regularly. I am pleased to say that Swamp-Root cured me entirely. I can now stand on my feet all day without any bad symptoms whatever. Swamp-Root has proved a blessing to me. Gratefully yours,

MRS. A. L. WALKER,

MRS. E. AUSTIN,

TO SELL KAUFFMAN ART COLLECTION

Pictures Will Be Put Up at Auction in Philadelphia Soon.

CANVASES BY THE MASTERS.

Paintings Were Purchased Abroad and Were Selected With Discriminating Taste and Judgment.

The valuable art collection of the late J. W. Kauffman, one of the wealthy and prominent citizens of St. Louis, is to be sold soon by the American Art Association at auction in the American Art Galleries on Twenty-third street, Philadelphia.

The sale of this collection is a severe loss to the art center of St. Louis, as it was considered the most valuable private collection in the West. The Kauffman collection contains more than 100 valuable canvases of the modern French, Dutch and American artists.

The paintings are mainly of cabinet size, and were purchased for the most part abroad from the painters' studies. They were selected with taste and discriminating judgment. Mr. Kauffman was very proud of his collection and always enjoyed showing art lovers through his gallery. The art students visited the gallery and studied the modern masters, and Mr. Kauffman always told of some personality of the painter, as he knew of them personally.

A few Italian sculptures are also in the collection. The sale is being made by the executrix of the estate.

A few of the canvases are "Village Road," "Landscape and Cattle" and "Windy Day, Trouves," by Dupre; "Girl With Mandolin," "Near the Sea" and "La Tour l'Esbly," by Corot; a Rosseau "Landscape," "Cow and Landscape" and "Watering Horses," by Troyon; "Le Point a St. Prive" and Le Saule pres la Riviere," by Harpignies; "Traveling in Russia, Winter," by Schreyer; a Daubigny, "Banks of the Oise," "La Mare" and "Child and Dog," by Diaz; "Troupeau sur les Grands Arbres" and "In the Sheepfold," by Jacque, and "Jeune Fille," by Henner.

There is also a Cazin, "Thornfield Castle," "A Standard Bearer," by De Neuville; "An Early Morning Reconnoissance," by Detaille; "Vaches dans la Valle" and "Chalk Cliffs," by Boudin; "Return From the Pasture," by Van Marcke; "Loading of a Sand Barge, Holland," by Jacob Maris; "A Hunter," by Knaus; "Expectation," by Meyer von Brennen, and "Landscape and Sheep, Morning," and "Landscape and Cattle, Evening," by Mauve. To name a few others, there are "On the Coast, Isle of Wight," by George Morland; "Evening on the Thames," by Leader; "An Arab Fantasia," by Delacroix; a "Woman Bathing," by Renoir, and an "Effect de Nlege," by Monet; with "L'Abreuvoir," by Daguan-Bouveret; "Canal in Venice," by Rico; "The Church in Danger," by Vibert, and "Morning in the Trenches," by Berne-Bellecour, which show something of how far and wide the collector's fancy ranged while his judgment was forming. Then there are canvases by Bonnat, L'Hermitte, Greuze and Jongkind, and by Charles Sprague Pearce and W. H. Howe.

Farris Case Laid Over.

The trial of Senator Frank H. Farris, charged with bribery in connection with the passage of the alum bill, in the State Legislature, was laid over until Friday, in Judge Taylor's division of the Circuit Court yesterday. The State was ready for trial and the continuance was granted at the request of the defense.

ADMIRAL BARTLETT DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Distinguished Naval Officer Succumbs to Disease at United States Marine Hospital.

SENT HERE BY THE PRESIDENT

Came to St. Louis to Inquire Into Methods of Steamboat Inspection—Funeral in Providence, R. I.

Pneumonia claimed a second distinguished victim in St. Louis yesterday in Rear Admiral John R. Bartlett, U. S. N., retired, who died at the United States Marine Hospital, Marine avenue and Miami street, at 2 p. m. after a week's illness.

Rear Admiral Bartlett came to St. Louis ten days ago at the instance of President Roosevelt to inquire into the efficiency of the Department of Steamboat Inspection. Tuesday he suffered from an attack of the grip, but refused to leave his apartments at the Missouri Athletic Club until Thursday, when he was conveyed to the hospital. Attending physicians diagnosed his case as double pneumonia.

His wife and daughters, the Misses Iva and Eleanor Bartlett, arrived in St. Louis Saturday night from Providence, R. I., and went to the hospital. They were present at the bedside when the end came.

Admiral Bartlett retained consciousness until a short time before death and recognized those gathered about his bedside. Last midnight the body was shipped to his home in Providence, R. I., where the funeral will be conducted Saturday by the Navy Department.

After the burning of the excursion steamer General Slocum last spring, President Roosevelt determined to inquire thoroughly into the methods of steamboat inspection throughout the country and called on several retired officers of the navy to act in conjunction with the regular board appointed for the purpose.

Owing to the tardy delivery of the telegraphic orders summoning him to Washington, Admiral Bartlett, who was at his home in Providence, reached the capital too late for assignment to a post nearer home, where he desired to be on Thanksgiving Day. It was while on the way to St. Louis from Memphis, Tenn., that Admiral Bartlett caught the cold which resulted in his death.

Admiral Bartlett was 61 years, and had served in the navy since the outbreak of the Civil War, when he was called from Annapolis. He took part in all the important naval engagements and earned rapid promotion. He was retired, with the rank of rear-admiral, six months before the outbreak of the Spanish war.
