WHAT THE GOVERNOR SAYS.

Governor Crittenden Expresses Himself on the Frank James Business.

In a recent interview with a Republican reporter, Gov. Crittenden talked as follows in reference to the rumor of negotiations now pending concerning Frank James' pardon:

In response to questions the Governor stated that he was surprised at the mere bosh some of the papers were publishing concerning the matter; that he has not offered a pardon to Frank James through Mr. Haire or anyone else; a pardon could not be granted before conviction and he makes no rash promises; that he has never received a line from Mr. Haire in regard to a pardon or other form of executive clemency in behalf of Frank James; that he has not by word or otherwise made propositions to governors of other states asking them to join him in extending executive clemency to James. The governor states that Frank James has never applied to him for clemency or pardon; that when he desires a pardon it is presumable he will apply for it after conviction for some of his crimes. Then he certainly would have the same right as others to ask such clemency.

When asked what course he would pursue should a pardon for Frank James be applied for, his excellency replied: "That is my business, and when such application is made I shall act as I please, regardless of importunities or curses, and I wish to state also that I think Mr. Haire, provided he is correctly reported by sensational papers, is doing much unnecessary and loose talk concerning the matter and pursuing an injudicious course. The noted bandit may have cause to pray deliverance from such a friend, and further that the words attributed to me by Haire in an interview with a reporter of a St. Louis evening paper, 'Let us join in the noble effort to reform this man, and restore him to a peaceful and honorable citizenship,' were never used by me to Mr. Haire or any one else. But supposing I had used them—is it not better to save and reform than to forever condemn and punish? While the executive of this state, I will pursue such a course as will in my estimation secure the enforcement of the law, and give full security and protection to life and property in the manner which to me seems wisest, and leave my administration to be judged by the result, fully believing that the people in their sober second thought will measure all administration on more by results than by the effusions of unmerited abuse poured out upon it by an inimical and venal press; nor will I be checked in that course by the ravings of a few sensational editors whose patriotism is alone measured by the number of their papers daily sold."

The traveling correspondent of the Sedalia Democrat, writing from Butler under date of June 1st, pays the following deserved compliments:

For State Senator in the Bates, Cass and Henry county district, Judge Ballard, the present Representative of Bates county, is in the field with a strong support. He is a clever gentleman and a thorough Democrat, and would make a capital officer. Judge Ballard voted for the minority report of the redistricting bill. His opponent is Dr. J. H. Britt, of Clinton, a leading Democrat of Henry county.

Judge Levi Moler, who has so able and creditably represented Bates county in the Missouri House of Representatives is again in the field for the same office. Bates county seems almost solid for him in every section. He is a tried, true, able, fearless, aggressive and progressive Democrat, who has but few equals and no superior in the State. No man enjoys a better political or legislative record, and certainly no man has done more for Bates county. Judge Moler has large and valuable interests in the county, and his interests are identical with the county. Hence it is that he has scarcely any opposition and will probably not have any when the ticket will be nominated.

The Greenback party of Missouri will soon put on the cloak of prohibition to cover up its other demerits.

Bates County Monthly Stock Sales.

Farmers and stock men. The above is to your interest and should be your enterprise, you can make them a success on a failure, but we hope you will show to the northern counties, where said sales are a success, that Bates can sustain a stock sale second to none in the state. If the southwest is all that we claim for her, hardly should we be behind in an undertaking of so much interest. Confidence and work, are the two things necessary, and no man can do it all. Do you take your county papers? if not, subscribe at once, then watch the stock column, and use it to get the worth of your money back, see if you can't add something to it every month, either under the head wanted or for sale, then when sale day comes be on hand whether as buyer or seller, or neither, be there, watch the sales closely, see if they are conducted honestly, see if the interest of both buyer and seller are protected, then if you think a stock company would be better, organize and take command, but let us give the first sale on the 3rd Monday in June, a big whoop and a long whoop. For particulars, see your county papers or call on the agent.

Respectfully,
J. W. RILEY, Agt.,
Butler, Mo.
T. G. HOUSTON,
Superintendent.

Mrs. Jesse James.

The widow of the noted outlaw, since the "removal" of her husband, has been so besieged by reporters and publishers that, in self-protection, she has been compelled to publish a sworn statement denying that she has authorized the use of her name in connection with any pretended history of her husband's life.

In this connection it may not be out of place to suggest that persons desiring to get at the facts of the lives of all the great American highwaymen would do well to examine Col. J. W. Buel's famous "Border Outlaws," which has just been revised and a new edition published from new plates throughout, by the enterprising publishers, Dan Linahan & Co., St. Louis. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Unnatural Obstructions.—Certain fundamental laws of nature are demanded by the human organism. As life requires constant and regular action, there is necessarily a continual wearing out of material and a corresponding accumulation of effete matter, which must be thrown off through the different channels of the system. This is absolutely necessary to a healthful action of the human machine; but should the channels of egress become obstructed, or blocked up, disease and suffering would be the legitimate result. Nearly all females, married or single, at stated times suffer from the obstructions, leading to headache, leucorrhoea, loss of appetite, hysteria, prolapsus, loss of color, prostration, emaciation etc. There is one remedy which will cure this condition of female life, known as English Female Bitters, the grand triumph as a female regulator. 26-2t
