VOL. VIII. BUTLER, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 24, 1886 NO. 13

Burdett.
Mr. J. W. Davault the saw man whom we spoke in your last issue, now stopping with Dr. J. W. France, for the purpose of having his hand treated. Davault says he would like to make his home in Bates county, but owing to circumstances will go to Douglass county in the spring.

On Tuesday the 15th a number of young folks gathered in at Dr. France's to spend the evening. Soon after the crowd gathered a report went out to the effect that J. D. Russell and Mrs. Lucy Skillman were married. Bells, tin pans, shot guns and everything, were soon collected for a noise. The boys numbered 25, and the racket soon began. Russell was compelled to "set up" the candy to rid himself of the noise, and to carry out the joke. The boys are now "setting up" the cigars to Mr. Russell to keep from being teased over the sell out.

Mr. Tom Mudd, of Fredonia, Kansas, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Rev. Joe Wright will preach for the people of Burdett on the 4th Sunday of each month.

W. S. Mudd's little babe has the pertussis.

Bob Black came in last week to have a tooth extracted.

On Wednesday the 17th, Mrs. Mary Jayne, with her two little boys 6 and 9 years old, was hitching a team of horses to the wagon, for the purpose of doing some errand, as the team was about hitched ready for driving, the little fellow, Charles Aubron Jayne, climbed upon the front wheel of the wagon, the horses moved forward and threw him in front of the wheel, and it passed over his breast, crushing the breath out of him. He was carried to the house and placed on the bed, finding life was not extinct, Dr. France was immediately summoned. With all the skill and medical treatment that could be rendered, availed nothing. At 4:30 p. m., he was called home. His remains were placed in the old Crescent Hill cemetery, there to await the final judgement. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the name of the Lord. Much sympathy is manifested in behalf of the bereaved family.

Foster.
Lots of mud again, Oh dear! Little Chubby Laughlin has been very low with pneumonia. Drs. Wilson and Lyle have been attending. Foster now has Telegraphic connection with Butler. Now let some good live man start a newspaper.

J. B. Walkup and family returned from Cass County the 16th inst where they were called by Mrs. Walkup's father who is very sick and not expected to live.

Elmer and Ada Laughlin returned from Ft. Scott, Kan. the first of the month where they have been attending school.

We hear that the Green View school house is getting a bad reputation. A few days ago one of the pupils openly rebelled against the rules of the school, whereupon the teacher undertook to chastise him, a lively fight ensued, the teacher came out best man. No serious damage.

Several farmers are improving the bad winter weather by hauling coal to Foster. What a glorious thing it is to have a R. R. close to home.

The proprietors of the Foster House is improving the looks of that building by having it covered with a splendid tin roof.

Mr. Doyle is Adams Express agent at Foster. Office in Metzlers store on the syndicate.

Some unknown persons caught and picked two of Mat Grays geese, then turned the poor geese loose to return home. A coat of tar and feathers would be none to good for the perpetrators of this deed.

A telegraph line will soon be established between Pleasanton and Foster.
"Kid"

Mayesburg.
We are having some very muddy mud just at present.

John Walker will move to Adrian this week.

W. B. Ewing is visiting in Johnson county, this week.

We had a law suit at the school house the 15th. Quite a novelty for Mayesburg.

Tax collector Yeates has begun levying on property for the payment of taxes. Yeates means business.

Your correspondent took a kind of inventory of the cattle being fed within a circuit of five miles from Mayesburg, and finds that there are about 420 head being fed, beside several hundred stockers. D. Gilbert is feeding 75, Judge Ballard 125, Allen Price 20, C. Poage about 30, I. Mayes 20, J. Barth 32, Godwin & Cook 95, Jack Carney 20. J. M. Mayes 115 and B. F. Gregory about 100 which they will begin feeding soon, making in all about 550. What neighborhood can beat this.

Rev. J. B. Fly of Montrose preached Sunday morning and evening at Walnut Grove. He preached an able discourse in the morning on the subject of "The feast of the Passover," and gave a history of the rise of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in the evening.

We understand that Rev. Caughlan of the M. E. church south, is in trouble about his charge in this circuit.

John Brooks had a sale Saturday, we suppose he will move to Creighton next week.

Creighton has a paper. The Creighton Clipper.

Mrs. J. M. Mayes has been quite sick for several days.

The crop of candidates from Mingo is going to be light this year. Owing to the hard winter I guess.

Personal.

Mrs. N. A. Monfort, of Pittsburg Kansas, found her way to our office a few days since. Our readers who have enjoyed the little poetic gems she has sent us will feel an increased interest when they know that for the most of the past year she has been entirely blind, and the sweet thoughts that have come to us have often been wrung from an aching heart. However, under the skillful treatment of Dr. Kimberlin, her sight is returning, for which we are truly glad. Mrs. Monfort says that Pittsburg, Kansas, is growing rapidly with its 4,500 inhabitants. The churches are prospering. The town contains elegant stores, large banks, four zinc smelters, two large flour mills, besides many other industries.
—Mid-Continent K. C.

Much as I dislike to expose my misfortunes before the public, my duty to those who are suffering from like affliction, and to the physician to whom I am indebted for the blessing of sight, I most willingly make the sacrifice.

About seven years ago my eyes were attacked with a peculiar disease, which caused blindness for about three weeks, but after a few simple remedies had been applied, the disease seemed to be subdued. Such proved not to be the case. Several months after they suffered an attack more violent than at first. Again and again the trouble returned with increased effect until total blindness was the sad result.

One physician pronounced it, one thing and another something else, but all failed to give me the slightest relief; on the contrary, their treatment only aggravated the disease and increased the suffering.

Friends advised me to go to an oculist for treatment. Accordingly Dr. Kimberlin of Kansas City was selected as proper person.

When placed under his care the latter part of last November, I was totally blind, and a wreck physically from pain and the use of improper medicine, and mentally distracted from grief.

But I am most happy to say after he had examined my eyes, and ascertained the disease and applied his remedies, I received immediate relief, and the restoration to sight was speedy and sure, being at present almost perfect, which is very remarkable, for the fact that six months ago I sat in utter darkness.

I give the public the benefit of my case sincerely hoping that some unfortunate creature may be led out of darkness into the sweet light of day as I have been.

Let those who read, think about it and if they are not so unfortunate, perhaps some of their friends or acquaintances are, and they could render them an invaluable service by reading this to them.

I can refer you to scores of others, yes hundreds on whom cures have been effected more wonderful than the present if necessary. Some were affected with diseases of the ear, throat and lungs, but all have yielded to the skill of this truly good physician.

Reader, if you are suffering from any of the above named diseases, do not delay but go at once and be relieved; or address Dr. Kimberlin, Eye and Ear Infirmary, Kansas City Missouri.

Earnestly hoping what we have said may be the means of good to some unfortunate fellow sufferer, I am,
Very gratefully,
Mrs. N. A. Monfort.

A Teetotaler on a Tear.

Marshall, Mo., Feb. 19.—The receipt here of Sedalia papers, containing the account and actions of the eloquent temperance lecturer, D. K. Shields, in a saloon in Sedalia last night, created quite an excitement. Shields is Deputy G. W. C. T. of Missouri, and has been engaged here the past four weeks delivering temperance lectures. There never was such a temperance feeling worked up here before. Through his efforts 1,500 persons signed the pledge and organized good temperance lodges with 350 members. A great many here had no confidence in Shields, but thought he was only working for the money there was in it, which was $10 per lecture, and his conduct at Sedalia only strengthens this belief.

Nevada, Mo., Feb. 17.—William Thomas, aged 26 years, night switchman, was crushed to death at a three o'clock this morning while making a coupling on account of a difference in the style of the drawheads. He was recently married, and the young wife is in a dangerous condition. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death while in the faithful discharge of his duties as an employe for the Missouri Pacific railroad, on account of criminal negligence of said company.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY.

A Young Cedar County Man Resorts to the Pistol in the Settlement of a Feud.

A serious shooting affray occurred Thursday night about 11 o'clock, at a school house in Cedar county, about three miles from Jerico, which will cost Roy Aggerson his life, and brand John Brasher as a murderer.

Aggerson and Brasher are about 18 years of age, respectively, and have grown up together in the neighborhood. The former was the son of a widow, and the latter's parents are in good financial circumstances. The two young men had a falling out some weeks ago, over what the Mail's information did not know.

Thursday evening in company with others, they went to the school house ostensibly to attend prayer-meeting. At the close of the services they met together and engaged in a quarrel over their previous difficulty. The quarrel grew hot, and Brasher struck Aggerson with a stone knocking him down. Aggerson arose, and in turn threw a rock at his assailant, and tumbled to run. At this juncture Brasher drew a thirty-eight calibre revolver, and fired, burying a ball in Aggerson's back. The ball took effect in the small of the back, and produced what is considered a fatal wound.

In the excitement attending the shooting Brasher ran off. One hour later a deputy sheriff was on his trail. The last trace had of him, however, he was at Horse Creek, atop, and coming in the direction of Nevada.

The officer arrived here yesterday afternoon, and after making inquiry left on the evening train going north.

When the officer left the doctors were probing Aggerson's wound, and gave it as their opinion that the young man could not possibly recover.
