THE TRUTH WELL TOLD.

The Voice of Labor Raised Against Harrison and Morton.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 29.—The leaders here of labor organizations have almost to a man pronounced against the republican ticket. The Labor Signal, organ of the party in Indiana, voices the sentiment, and will say to-morrow:

The nomination of Mr. Harrison was a genuine surprise to the organized workmen of this state, because their attitude toward that gentleman is well understood, and it does not seem possible that a convention of such men would conflict with a large number of voters in an extremely doubtful state by naming a candidate so objectionable. The readers of this paper will remember the opposition Mr. Harrison's candidacy for this office aroused two years ago among the labor organizations. It found its expression in scores of resolutions adopted by assemblies and unions, many of which were published in the Signal at the time. This paper opposed Mr. Harrison's election to the senate for reasons that would prevent it from supporting him now. His public record, in our judgment, has not been such as to commend him to the favorable consideration of the people this paper represents. We did all in our power to warn the republicans in time. That they did not think advice from such a quarter worth heeding cuts no figure now, but hundreds of letters received from representative workmen in this and other states endorsing the Signal's position, and breathing intense enmity to Mr. Harrison, is convincing proof that our position is correct, at least from the labor standpoint.

Organized labor will decide the presidential contest this year, and it is almost solidly arrayed against General Harrison. In our judgment Mr. Harrison's defeat is a foregone conclusion, even if Governor Porter should lend himself to the commonly talked of scheme of running for governor in order to help the Chicago nominee through in Indiana.

A second source of weakness to the Chicago ticket is Levi P. Morton, the Wall street banker. It looks as if Senator Ingalls' advice to the Kansas delegation had been carried out to the letter. It is a principle as strong as written law with Knights of Labor not to aid in the elevation of a national banker to any office. The organization is opposed to the national banking system and recognizes in it the main spring of all monopoly. For a great political party to go into Wall street—over which the curses of the farming and producing classes of this nation hover like an angry cloud—to select a candidate for its national ticket is another thing that astonishes the average workman and causes him to wonder whether the monopolistic interests of the country have not foreseen the inevitable conflict and concluded to force the issue without giving labor further opportunity to organize and inform itself.

English Spavin Liniment removes all hard, soft or calloused lumps and blemishes from horses, blood spavin, curb, splints, swellings, stifles, sprains, sore and swollen throat, coughs, etc. Save fifty dollars by use of one bottle. Warranted. Sold by W. J. Lansdown, Druggist, Butler, Mo.

A Confederate Soldiers' Home Opening.
Baltimore, June 28.—The Pikesville arsenal has been transformed into the confederate soldiers' home. The formal opening of the home took place yesterday. The stand was decorated with the national colors and portraits of Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson. Addresses were made by United States senators Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, Vance, of North Carolina, Daniel, of Virginia, Blackburn and Beck, of Kentucky and Vest, of Missouri and ex-governor Proctor Knott of Kentucky.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.
SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia.

Ingalls in His True Light.

In denouncing Hancock! A cur dog baying at a dead lion! A patrol besmearing the poitrine of a dead knight! A coward clawing the corpse of a dead hero! A dastard disparaging deeds he dare not emulate. A craven scourging the body of a dead soldier! A jayhawking justice sitting in judgment on the hero of Gettysburg! A chattering charlatan reviling a chivalric chief! A scathless, scuffling civilian jibing the warrior of many wounds—the soldier of many scars! A political ruler spewing his devilized drivel upon the grave of a peerless paladin. A ghoul—his jaw dropping the foulness of the tomb—his teeth shining with the slime of decay—his flingers covered with corruption of the charnal house such is Ingalls.

And as such he is greeted with applause in Kansas—he is hailed with hallelujah and rejoicing. The cymbal is tinkled—the brass is sounded to express the joy of the Kansas Republican at the show. The anthems of Anthony and the pleatings of Legate's lute until the lesser voices and smaller instruments of doing honor to this exponent of republican ideas—this dealer in dead issues and dead men; and thus they become necessities after this fact—partakers in the banquet spread in the crypt of the past—on the coffin lid of their decency: And since they love dead things the people will decree that they should be as the things they love—and like the lepers of old declared unclean—cast out from among men permitted not to taint by their presence the air of any habitation, permitted only to dwell amid the tombs of their mad schemes which they thought by sacrilege to consummate.—Wichita Beacon.

A mortgage, says and agricultural exchange, is a strange institution. It makes a man rustic, and keeps him poor. It is a strange incentive to action and a wholesome reminder of the fleeting months and years. A mortgage represents industry, because it is like a bosom friend, greater the adversity the closer it sticks to a fellow. It is like a soldier, it never hesitates at charging nor fears to close on the enemy. It is like the sandbag of the thug, silent in its application but deadly in its effect. Like the very hand of providence, it is spread over creation, and its influence is everywhere visible. It is like a grab by the devil fish, the longer it holds the greater the strength. It will exercise feeling and energy and lend activity to the sluggish brain. No matter how hard debtors work, the mortgage works harder still. It makes a fellow sour, cross, selfish, unsocial and miserable, and really does him no good, only to exercise him.

Reducing the Surplus.

The disposition of the Surplus in the U. S. Treasury engages the attention of our Statesmen, but a more vital question has our attention, and that is the reduction of the Surplus Consumptives. Since the discovery and introduction of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, there has been a marked decrease in the mortality from this dreaded disease, and it is possible to still further reduce the number of Consumptives. How? By keeping constantly at hand a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and using according to directions, upon the appearance of the first symptoms, such as a Cough, a Cold, a Sore Throat, a Chest, or Side Pain: Taken thus early a cure is guaranteed.

The republican papers are unearthing everything pertaining to the campaign in which the grandfather of Benjamin Harrison was the central figure, and campaign badges of that period are already being hawked about. The man who hopes to be successful on the career of a successful grandfather has a mighty poor show against a man who has depended upon his merits from the time he was a babe in arms.—Sedalia Bazaar.

Anti-Vest Combination.

There is no concealing the fact further that Gov. A. P. Morehouse is associated with the Kansas City Times, Dr. Munford, Congressman Burns, John O'Day and John M. Glover, in a scheme to defeat Vest for the United States senate. Those who have watched Morehouse in Boone and Audrian counties especially, are satisfied that his nomination for governor would be inimical to Senator Vest. The friends of Senator Vest in Cooper county should give the matter their careful attention. John O'Day is worth a million dollars, is a man of brains, is a thorough politician, and he is now after Vest's scalp, backed by a most formidable ring. He would spend a quarter of a million to get it. He is already engaged in nominating candidates for senator in different counties throughout the state who are opposed to Vest. In Audrian county, one of Vest's strongholds, the Kansas City Times claims both Vest and Francis were floored. Let our people be on the alert. A vote for Morehouse is that much power given him with which to make a formidable fight on Vest. A vote for Dave Francis is a vote for Vest's personal friend.—Boonville Advertiser.

Almost a Monologue.

"How do you like my new dress?" inquired Mrs. DeJaison of her husband.

"Isn't it a little—"

"No, it isn't. Now, Alfred, I think you're just horrid. Its the new color, emerald green."

"Yes, dear, but I was only going to say—"

"Oh, I know! That it isn't the color I ought to wear. If it was that horrid Miss — you would think it lovely."

"But I didn't mean—"

"Yes, you did, too. You're mean enough for anything. And you've never noticed my new chip hat, either."

"Why my love, I thought—"

"You thought! Of course you did — that it makes me look frightful. I — I — sob, sob — declare it's too bad!"

"If you'd only let me speak—"

"Speak! Why, what else have you done for the last half hour—just to find fault, too, with everything I had on! What's that? A diamond for my birthday present? Oh, you dear, precious old sweet! Why, didn't you say so, and not tease me so! I could not imagine what you wanted to say."—Detroit Free Press.

The Great Democratic Epigrammatist.

New York, July 5.—Henry Waterson addressed the Harlem democratic club last night. He called the republican platform "the last chapter in the gospel of Mammon," said the republican party was managed by the "old firm of Obstruction, Destruction, Misconstruction & Co.," and characterized the record of the party as "a somewhat thick and greasy volume which records the decline and fall of the professional, who

"While he lived, he lived in clover;
When he died, he died all over."

Battles With two Names.

"Leesburg" is the way the confederate speaks of "Ball Bluffs."

Bull Run is the popular name in the north and Manassas in the south.

The Union soldier says "Pittsburg Landing," the confederate "Shiloh."

Murfreesboro is the name in the sunny south for the battle of Stone River.

The rebels fought at Sharpsburg and the federals at the battle of Antietam.

In the south the battle of South Mountain is known as the battle of Boonsborough.

Pea Ridge is the same as Elk Horn. The former title is known north of Mason & Dixon's line.

The fight known as "Chickahominy" to the federal troops was, it is said, "Cold Harbor" to the rebels.

Rheumatism and Neuralgia cured in 1 to 3 days for 75 cents by Deitchon's "Mystic Cure." Do not suffer and waste money on other remedies. This absolutely never fails. Sold by W. J. Lansdown, Druggist, Butler, Mo. 8-6m.

Aeronauts Dragg'd In the Sea.

Boston, July 5.—The balloon which ascended from the Common at 6 o'clock last night descended in the harbor off Point Shirley. The occupants were submerged and for three miles or more were dragged through the water at a rapid rate by the balloon, which was impelled by a strong gale. They were sighted by the steam yacht Rose G., which after a chase succeeded in overhauling and rescuing the balloonists. The escape from death was miraculous.

Afflicted With Boils.

Pringle, Ga., April 25, 1888.
Swift's Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Allow me to say that S. S. S. has proved to be as good as it is recommended to be. About six years ago I was afflicted with boils. They began in February and continued until fall. My body was covered with the corrupted matter. I used S. S. S. and can safely say that I have not had a single boil since. S. S. S. will always do the work. You can use this certificate for the good it may do others.

R. W. Brooks,

Pringle, Washington county, Ga.

Waco, Texas, May 9, 1888.

Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a terrible loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She is now a hearty, fine looking lady, with no trace of the affliction left.

Yours truly, J. E. SEARS,

Wholesale Druggist, Austin Avenue.

John Bull often makes ridiculous blunders when treating of American history. So well an informed paper as the London Spectator said recently: "John Brown inspired belief in his genuine sincerity, but nobody reproached the Confederate government with sending him to prison and hanging him afterwards."

Wealth has destroyed a fountain of humor. Mark Twain having married and accumulated wealth now writes but little.

Wealth in the United States is increasing very rapidly. Its wealth is now estimated to be about six times what it was in 1850.

Drunkness or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. It never fails. The syng tem once impregnated with the Specific it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For full particulars, address GOLDEN SPECIFIC CO., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.
