YOUNG BLAINE WAS TOO GAY.

He Ticked a Lady's Shoulder and Unstod Himself at a Ball.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 23.—Young James G. Blaine had the distinguished honor of being shown the door at Lehman's hall Tuesday night for conduct that was not in keeping with rules that govern the local Four Hundred. After the performance at the Academy yesterday afternoon he, with other members of the company of amateurs who took part in Fra Diavolo, attended a supper at which wine was served very liberally. He imbibed very freely consequently felt rather hilarious. One of the ladies felt so completely worn out that she went to sleep. After supper Mr. Blaine attended the german at Lehman's hall. Society here was largely represented and the affair was one of the brilliant affairs of the season. Mr. Blaine danced and seemed to enjoy himself immensely until his shoes began to hurt, when he deliberately sat down in the middle of the floor and took them off. The sensation produced can better be imagined than described. Subsequently he put them on again and the escapade would probably have been passed by had not Mr. Blaine so far forgotten himself as to tickle a young lady's shoulder. This act was resented by Mr. J. Ridgely Trimble, who, without further ado hustled the young son of the Secretary of State out of the door. Where Mr. Blaine subsequently landed is unknown. The dance was continued without him.

Mr. George M. Pulman, the possessor of $50,000, recently said to a correspondent, when asked how it felt to be a millionaire: "I have never thought of that. But now that you mention it, I believe that I am no better off—certainly no happier—than I was when I didn't have a dollar to my name, and had to work from daylight till dark. I wore a good suit of clothes then, and I can only wear one now. I relished three good meals a day then a good deal more than I do three meals a day now. I had fewer cares; I slept better, and I may add, generally, that I believe I was far happier in those days than I have been many times since I became a millionaire. And yet it is a comfortable feeling to be rich."

The motion to repeal the law which prohibits the importation of American pork was defeated yesterday in the German reichstag. The argument advanced in favor of maintaining the present embargo was that there is no system of meat inspection in the United States, and the exclusion of American pork was demanded as a measure of protection to the public health.

Ballard Items.

Charley Greer attended the literary at Harmony last week and went home leaving his horse tied to the fence, at least he found it there in the morning, but he thinks some one played a trick on him. . . . John Embree has concluded he does not want to sell out as Mr. Decker compelled him to back down, so he will rent and not sell. . . . Pete Randall has sold out and thinks some of renting a farm a year before buying. . . . Tom Stover would sell his farm, so we are informed, it is a good farm and we know of one or two that would like to own it. . . . R M Glass is being entertained by H Evans and Sam Kiersey. . . . D O'Bannon reports everything quiet in the Bethel neighborhood. . . . M F Perry laughs heartily over the road business. . . . This is a beautiful day and we are busy. . . . Bob Hays, Chas. Arbuckle, Lee Embree and the Thompson boys took in the hop last night. . . . Ote Reeder says the Salvation Army is fine running order at Peter Creek. . . . John Arbuckle says he has rented the Wm. Andrews farm at last. . . . John Lentz did not go to Adrian Sunday but he is all right anyway as he was out southwest about 6 miles. Do you know where, John McF. . . . Some have property and some others have none, it was our misfortune to have none, still we live and not away down south on the R R either, but on one of Bates county's beautiful hills. We know what little we do know as well as you do. . . . S B McFarland, wife and son spent Sunday at Ballard. Mrs. Emma McF. reports her school as being in fine shape. She will teach the summer school at the same place. . . . We hear it talked quite often, why not have a lady school commissioner. If so we can name one who lives in southwest Bates and is known by all our teachers as we see her name as secretary of the teachers institute quite often. . . . Our better half will be home this evening from Shawnee township, where she has been for some days visiting parents, relatives and friends. . . . August Herman tells the boys he is only building a feeder but does not tell them who he intends feeding. . . . Mrs. Geo. Graham of Butler visited relatives north of here last week. George met her here and his face was all smiles. . . . The band boys are happy and ere long we predict some one else will be when they quit practicing at her house. . . . S W Price, trying the roads in his cart to day. He has hogs for sale from the way he sets his cap. . . . C D Greer and Hayden Ray were at the postoffice Monday. . . . We came to tell Will Cole we got a load of hay. . . . John Greer and Will O'Barrion were seen out trying the roads Sunday evening. . . . R N Glass able to come to town and report to day. . . . Quite a number met at Booker Greer's one day this week and tried to eat him out but failed—which sounds strange to us as Uncle John Evans was there. . . . James W Asberry, called Tuesday evening for mail as did many others. . . . A J Owsley after medicine a few evenings since. Several on the north township line quite sick. . . . C D and W B Cole killed hogs again to-day. . . . If you don't believe Rough on Rats has a gun to trade for a hog ask Will Cole or McClerney. How about it "Rough," what was wrong with the hog. . . . Ogborne, Price & Jordan is the firm name of late, and Uncle Sam bothered the boys with the partnership proposition. . . . Fort explained it. . . . Any amount of fat hogs in this neighborhood but not worth enough to sell. . . . Harvy Rhine, wife and baby, passed the postoffice going to see Uncle Mose Greer. . . . Sorry to hear that Robt. Knous is very sick at Hartwell, Henry county. Chape Crow was down to see him and reports him some better. . . . J B Hays is able to be up and about the place. . . . Will Howard is all O K if he has quit going northeast he is well. . . . Ace Hendrix called a few minutes to-day and gave us some chat. . . . M L Embree stays close to home these days, but he is not sick by any means. . . . John Harris has gone to Vernon county on a short visit. . . . John Lentz is reading advertisements now. So Bill Cole tells him, guess it must be an Adrian paper. . . . Jim Cole heard of a candy pulling near Stumptown (Dawson's) and he will be there, don't you think so Miss E C. . . . Tom Broadtus is among the F & L U's in Arkansas, where he is educating the young men, no doubt, to vote T B. ere many months for some office. . . . Father Colson is visiting his daughter, Mrs. McClerny, this week, he looks well for one of his age—79 years. . . . Bill House has failed to write since going to the war dance; afraid he has felt an arrow. . . . John Lentz says its all a mistake about the roads south being settled, if Sam Price did walk over them. . . . Have you seen the horse Ogborne brought from Illinois? If not, see him, he is a fine draft horse, weighs 1750, is 17½ hands high and 4 years old; he is owned by Ogborne, Price & Jordan. . . . Miss Mary Mosher has returned from Appleton for a few weeks. . . . Dick Andrews is killing hogs to-day—rather sleepy as he was down on Soap Creek last night. . . . Rutledge goes about 3 miles south with his stock this week and we must say he has two fine horses which we hope to hear they are appreciated by all in his new field. They can be found on the Elvin Wilson farm. . . . Jas. Wilds has gone to K. C. accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Kate Winegardner, who leaves for her home in Nebraska; won't Richard be glad?

JACK.

The death of King Kalakau in San Francisco and the return of his body to his home in the Hawaii islands, recalls an incident which is said to have actually occurred during his visit to this country six or seven years ago. He attended the Missouri Legislature while in session, and took a train for Kansas City. The King bowed up so frequently it became necessary to put him to bed. Arrangements had been made for his reception at Kansas City, and it would be an unpardonable offense for him not to respond. Mr. James N. Burns who died a representative in Congress, was adorned in the King's toggery; and at the proper time spoke to the assembled thousands. Among other things, he remarked he had heard of Kansas City's wonderful progress in his far off home, which was greeted with great enthusiasm.

Nearly All For Cleveland.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 24.—In a poll of the senate of Alabama, 30 out of 33 members being present, the vote was unanimous for Cleveland for president. A poll of the house showed 76 present out of 100. Of these 68 were for Cleveland and 8 scattering.

BOB FORD SHOOTS AGAIN.

Jesse James' Slayer Involved in Trouble in Colorado.

Walsenburg, Col., Jan. 23.—Once more Bob Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, is a principal in a shooting scrape. It is not his fault, nor that of his opponent, that no graves were dug in Walsenburg yesterday. J. D. Harden runs a saloon between the town and the mines. He and Ford have not been on good terms for some time. The two men were shooting craps Wednesday night and quarreled over the stakes. They adjourned to the bar for a drink and the quarrel was renewed. Both men began firing rapidly at each other. They were so close that each one was trying to knock the other's gun out of the way, and as a consequence the bullets flew in every direction. The bystanders who were in the room at the time began crawling under tables and hiding behind the bar.

After the smoke of battle had cleared off it was discovered that Harden had been shot in the shoulder, the ball going through and coming out in the back, and was also shot in the hand. Ford was also hit in the foot and was badly burned about the face with powder. Both men were arrested.

Both guns had seen service before, the one used by Ford is the one with which he shot Jesse James and which he has carried with him ever since that event, some ten years ago. Harden's revolver is the one which Pete Foley used when he shot Jack Edwards some months ago.

Blue and Gray Reunion Proposed.

Monticello, Ill., Jan. 25.—Maj. LaMar Fontaine, the noted Confederate soldier, and author of "All Quiet on the Potomac," has sent a request to the Grand Army comrades here and throughout the north that there be held at Chicago or St. Louis a grand reunion of the soldiers who wore the blue and the gray to last eight or ten days, where the survivors of the two armies can hold a genuine reunion of hearts and hands such as has never been held since the war. He promises that the boys who wore the gray will come in large numbers. —Globe-Democrat.

The Senatorial contest in Illinois is apparently as far from solution as it was this time last week. The vote stands: Gen. Palmer, D. 101, Gov. Oglesby, R. 100, and Streeter, A. 3; necessary to a choice, 103. The democrats are confident that they can secure the two votes necessary to the election of Palmer, while the republicans are equally as confident that Oglesby will capture the plum. In the mean time the three alliance members are holding the legislature at a dead lock, costing the state thousands of dollars per day, for what reason they alone can tell, certainly they do not expect that 101 democrats or 100 republicans are going to desert their faith and come over to their man. But then if that body is like the average State legislatures it may be a good thing for the state, if they stay tied up during the whole of the session.

A Noted Desperado.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 24.—Application has been made to Governor Markham for the pardon of a San Quentin convict named Wilson Howard, who, under the name of Charles Brown, was sentenced from Calaveras county in August, 1890, to serve eight years for robbery. Howard is stated to be a notorious Kentucky and Missouri desperado and fugitive from justice from those states. He is accused of the murder of seven people and is now under indictment for five murders committed in Kentucky. He is also under indictment in Maries county, Mo., for the murder in 1880, of Thomas McMichael, an inoffensive deaf mute.

Condensed Rules of Health.

Baltimore Sun.
Preverted health affects men's physical, social and personal well being. Riches and fame are but a mere bagatelle compared with a sound body. We must have fish to supply nerve food; fats, sugar and starches to feed the body, and meat, the white of eggs, and flour that is not too refined, to furnish muscles. Vegetables are indispensable, or scurvy will ensue. Whilst alcohol, tea, coffee, tobacco and cheese are accession foods, they are injurious because they prevent the natural waste of the body. Too much of the fuel making foods are apt to promote inflammation. Cheese should be eaten only in small quantities after meals when it aids in the secretion of juices. Man should keep regular hours, take exercise, give his brain a chance to rest and let cheerfulness prevail at the table. The body of the average man generates sufficient heat to raise forty four pounds of ice to the boiling point, and if the pores are not kept clean this inflammatory agent is confined and accomplishes mischief. Sleeping apartments should be well ventilated, with the top of the window lowered an inch to let out the impure air, and the lower window raised an inch to let in pure air. If the night is cold put on more blankets. Every man should have eight hours of sound sleep.

She Was Competely Cured.

A daughter of my customer suffered from suppressed menstruation, and her health was completely wrecked. At my suggestion she used one bottle of Bradfield's Female regulator, which cured her,
