Young and Pretty.

Denison, Tex., Aug. 17.—A woman in man's attire was arrested here today. She claims to be running away from home. Doc Smith from Guthrie, O. T., states that she is the woman horse thief and jailed at Guthrie one month ago. She broke jail shortly after and escaped. She says her name is Nelie Hodge, but contradicts herself and is undoubtedly the woman horse thief. When arrested she wore a full-fledged man's suit and a broad-brimmed sombrero with pistol, belt and spurs. She is young and very comely.

Attacked the Hall.

New York, Aug. 17.—A riot of unemployed men occurred here this morning. There were 5,000 men in the crowd, mostly all Hebrews, cutlers, garment makers, etc. They attacked a hall on Chord street because admittance was denied them. The crowd smashed the plate glass windows, forced in the door and took possession of the place. The police reserves succeeded in partly clearing the hall and then dispersed the mob in the street. At last accounts a meeting was in progress in the hall.

Run Down in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 17.—Five years ago C. W. Parker shot dead a Constable in Georgetown, Ky., who tried to serve a writ on him. He escaped and went to Cincinnati. Then he went to Indianapolis and from there to St. Louis. He lived in each city about a year. He then went to Kansas. Last night on the street here two Pinkerton men arrested him after a desperate fight. He will be taken to Kentucky to-day.

For Free Silver.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 16.—The Virginia Farmers' alliance met here yesterday with fifty-two out of 100 counties represented. A resolution was passed in favor of a memorial to Virginia's senators and representatives in congress urging them to prevent the repeal of the Sherman bill, unless there should be embodied in the bill of repeal provision for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The Horn Fly Pest.

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 15.—Horn flies are becoming so numerous in this vicinity that a milk and butter famine is threatened. The pest is so persistent in stinging cattle about the base of the horn that they are unable to feed and a small quantity of poor milk is the result.

High Carnival at St. Louis.

The Metropolis of the Mississippi Valley Again Presents a

PROGRAMME OF FALL FESTIVITIES THAT FOR BRILLIANCY AND VARIETY OUTSHINES THE CARNIVAL CITIES OF THE OLD WORLD.

Paris, the most magnificent city on either continent, has for ages held the proud title of "the premier carnival city of the world." However, within the last ten or twelve years an American rival of no mean pretension has contested for that high honor, and to-day St. Louis holds what Paris so reluctantly relinquished, the title of "the carnival city of the two continents."

Not content with the successful exhibitions of previous years, the Autumnal Festivities Association has arranged a programme for 1893 that for brilliancy and variety will be difficult to improve upon. The first of the great attractions, the St. Louis Exposition, will throw its doors open to the public September 6th and continue until October 21st. The world renowned Sousa's Band has been engaged by the management, which is itself a sufficient inducement to crowd the magnificent building during every concert.

Special attention has been given to the street illuminations, and on the evenings of August 12th, 17th, 24th and 31st, September 7th, 14th, 21st and 28th and October 5th, 12th and 19th, the most magnificent display yet attempted will greet the eye of the fortunate visitor, electricity forming a prominent part. The evening of October 2d the Veiled Prophet and his followers will parade through the principal thoroughfares, and immediately after the grand ball, which has received considerable prominence throughout the world, will be held.

Burying Himself Alive.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 17.—Joseph Weirich a rich farmer living west of town, nearly succeeded in killing himself yesterday in a curious fashion. Weirich has been under guard for some time as he has on several occasions evinced a desire to commit suicide, but yesterday he evaded his guards and when found, some hours later, he was sitting in a freshly made grave, with his head and shoulders above the surface, pulling the earth in over him. Within his reach was a bottle of laudanum which he would doubtless have taken but for the timely arrival of the searching party.

Admits All Cures.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 17.—The intense rivalry here resulted in the News sending a special representative to Cincinnati to investigate the Amick treatment for consumption. The Times had reported sensational cures through it which the News assumed to question. To-day the News acknowledges the discovery is all it claims and admits the cures he is daily effecting are indisputable facts. It especially commends his sending test medicines free to physicians and physicians only.

Clinton, Missouri.

Mr. A. L. Armstrong, an old druggist and a prominent citizen of this enterprising town, says: "I sell some forty different kinds of cough medicines, but have never in my experience sold so much of any one article as I have of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. All who use it say it is the most perfect remedy for cough, cold, consumption, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, they have ever tried." It is a specific for croup and whooping cough. It will relieve a cough in one minute. Contains no opiates. Sold by H. L. Tacker, druggist.

Scraps of Missouri History.

The Asiatic Cholera first made its appearance in St. Louis in the summer of 1832. The population at that time was 6918, including those who fled from the city to escape the disease. Other river towns were subsequently visited by the terrible scourge. The disease reappeared in St. Louis in 1934 and 1849.

Bollinger county was named in honor of George Bollinger of Cape Girardeau county who was quite a prominent man in the history of Missouri.

The first state capitol building occupied the present site of the gov. ernors mansion. It was destroyed by fire on the night of November 17 1837. But little was saved from the building. It was a brick building and had cost $25,000.

The first legislature to meet in Jefferson City was that of 1825. Numerically it was the fourth general assembly.

Gen. Lafayette visited St. Louis in April 1825. He was received with great honor. He was then 68 years old.

Ralls county was named in honor of Col. Daniel Ralls, a pioneer settler of the state and a man of considerable prominence.

Thos. H. Benton's first election to the United States senate was not accomplished without difficulty. Two senators were elected by the legislature in 1821. David Barton, who was a very popular man, was elected on the first ballot but Mr. Benton encountered rough sailing and it was not until several days of balloting that he was elected, and then at the expense of bringing Daniel Ralls, who was on his death bed into the assembly chamber to vote.

Mr. Ralls was unable to leave his bed at the time and died a few days later. Mr. Benton owed his election to Col. Auguste Chouteau of St. Louis, without whose powerful influence he would have certainly been defeated. Col. Chouteau induced a Frenchman named LaDue to vote for Mr. Benton which, added to the vote of Mr. Ralls elected him. Mr. Benton had previously killed a young lawyer of St. Louis, Chas. Lucas, in a duel. The circumstances under which the duel was fought caused Mr. Benton to lose many friends and make a large number of powerful enemies. Even Mr. Benton's warmest friends condemned him for killing young Lucas, as the latter tried every way in his power to avoid the fatal encounter.

Pierre Laclède Linquist, or as he is commonly called Pierre Linquist Laclède, the founder of St. Louis left no heirs to inherit his estate. When he located his store near the Merchants exchange he said he believed it was the best place to sell goods west of the Mississippi river and he firmly believed that St. Louis would one day be a great city. His last resting place is unknown. He died June 20, 1778 while returning from a trip to New Orleans and was buried near the mouth of the Arkansas river, near the town of Napoleon. This was an old burying ground. Many of the graves have since been washed into the river. Laclède's it is believed, included. After Laclède's death his residence became the property of Col. Auguste Chouteau, one of the most distinguished men in the early history of this state.

Capt. Merriwether Lewis and Capt. Wm. Clark of the famous Lewis and Clark exploring expedition each served as governor of the territory of Missouri. Capt. Lewis was appointed in 1807. Two years later while on his way to Washington, he committed suicide by shooting himself. In 1810 Capt. Clark was appointed
