FOLK WILL NOT INTERFERE; HEUSACK EXECUTION TO-DAY

Folk's Message That He Would Not Commute Death Penalty Withheld From Condemned Man—Hope of Executive Clemency Buoyed Him Up—Wife Visits Him, Professing His Innocence to Last—Hanging Will Take Place in Jail Yard at 6:30 O'Clock.

HENRY J. HEUSACK, Murderer, who is to be hanged this morning.

With the refusal of Governor Folk to interfere, the last hope of Henry J. Heusack, who is condemned to die on the gallows this morning for the murder of his father-in-law, vanished.

Heusack was visited throughout the day by his wife, Mrs. Emma Heusack, of No. 157 South Eighteenth street, and his spiritual adviser, the Reverend Father McErlane, of St. Francis Xavier's Catholic Church, at Grand and Lindell avenues.

After partaking of a light supper he paced up and down the jail yard for about thirty minutes, when he was interrupted by Father McErlane, who spent a short time giving Heusack spiritual consolation.

Professing her husband's innocence to the last, Mrs. Heusack, for the murder of whose father Heusack will pay the death penalty this morning, paid her last visit to her husband shortly before the news of the Governor's decision reached the Four Courts.

Heusack had been sleeping before his wife's visit, but did not show the least sign of weariness after she left him. He sat in a chair between two deputies and pined nervously on a sign.

Among the more seriously injured are Rabbi Ashinsky, S. Graffman, A. Bloom and Nathan Nathanson, pastor of the congregation, and Policeman Adam Leftowski.

The platform which broke was about fifty feet square, and had been constructed over the foundation walls for the accommodation of the rabbi, officers of the church and invited guests.

ROOSEVELT HAS PROPOSED TO CZAR THAT HE CONSENT TO ARBITRATE DIFFERENCES

On Nicholas's Reply to This Suggestion Depends the Fate of the Portsmouth Conference—It Is Thought That Japan Would Readily Agree to New Plan to End the War.

WITTE CAN SEE NO HOPE IN THE SITUATION.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 20.—The Associated Press is able to announce that the feature of the proposition of President Roosevelt, communicated through Baron Rosen to Mr. Witte and transmitted by the latter to Emperor Nicholas, was based on the principles of arbitration.

Whether the proposal contemplates arbitration of all the articles on which the plenipotentiaries have failed to agree or only on the question of indemnity cannot be stated with positiveness, but it is more than probable that it relates only to indemnity or to indemnity and the cession of the island of Sakhalin.

Neither is it possible to say whether the President has yet made a similar proposition to Japan. The customary diplomatic proceedings in such a case would be to submit the proposition simultaneously to both countries, but there might be an advantage in securing the adherence of one before submitting it to the other.

To Emperor Nicholas, the author of The Hague Peace Conference, the suggestion of arbitration, which will necessarily immediately command the sympathy of the public opinion of the world, will be particularly hard to reject. If he agrees, Japan, if she has not already done so, will be all the more bound to submit her claim to the decision of an impartial arbitrator.

Acceptance by both sides would involve a great extension of the principle of arbitration, as nations have heretofore declined to arbitrate questions involving their "honor and dignity." Both Mr. Takahira and Mr. Witte, in the earlier stages of the conference, absolutely rejected the idea of arbitration, and only yesterday both reiterated their disbelief in such a solution. It was noticed, however, that Mr. Witte's opinion was not expressed as strongly as it was last week.

SPECIAL BY CABLE. London, Aug. 21.—The London Times this morning prints the following: "Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 20.—A telegram was received this evening saying that the czar has held a council which has considered all questions relating to the peace conference and that a decision was taken, apparently unanimous, at any rate final, that no further excessions can be made to Japan. The source of this information is not official."

"Why did the President send for the Russian Ambassador? His anxiety has shown itself throughout the last week, during which Baron Kaneko paid four visits to (Tosyer Bay, without invitation. Instinctively as Friday's appeal was to the Russians only, it is inferred that the President knew from Kaneko all the Japanese had to say and desired to know from Rosen what Russia's attitude really is. He is commonly supposed to want it as a basis for an appeal to the czar."

"But nothing is certain and it is not even certain that the President intends to intervene in any way whatever."

WITTE'S REFUSAL BACKED UP BY RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT. "If Roosevelt should 'urge' the word is his, used in his original note to both Powers, the czar to make peace, he would find himself confronted with an unexpected situation. Until he saw Rosen he may have supposed the Government of the czar had taken no active part in the deliberations of the conference. He now knows the contrary. He knows that the final refusal of four of Japan's demands is the act not only of the Russian plenipotentiaries, but of the Russian Government, though not of the czar himself."

"For some time no fresh instructions were asked for by the plenipotentiaries, or given. At one critical moment the will of the Government made itself felt. The czar has shown throughout a deep confidence in his agents. He has not overruled them; he has only strengthened their hands when he thought they might need strengthening."

CZAR'S MINISTERS FULLY INFORMED WHEN THEY SAID "NO." "But the point is that, upon full information of what was passing in the conference, the czar's Government resolved that there should be no concession on the one matter concerning which the Japanese, on their side, are equally resolute—reimbursement of Japan's war expenses. This question has never been discussed as a question of more or less cash. It has been discussed on both sides simply as a question of principle."

"There has been no bargaining. Russia has never asked Japan if she would take half. Japan has never suggested to Russia that some agreement might be reached on the question of the amount to be paid. They have never approached each other."

"Indemnity is a dividing line, or rather a yawning abyss which is as wide and as deep as it was when they first looked at each other across it."

"Baron Rosen returned here this morning from his visit to the President. Conjecture is busy guessing what could have passed at this interview, but this at least would seem certain: the President, if he expressed any opinion at all, must have remarked that the terms Russia is now asked to accept for discontinuance of the war are incomparably less than those which Russia must later agree to if the war continues."

CURZON QUILTS POST IN INDIA

Culmination of Bitter Feeling Between the Viceroy, Lord Kitchener and India Office.

EARL OF MINTO APPOINTED.

Commander's New Plan of Army Administration in India Was Disapproved by Outgoing British Representative.

London, Aug. 20.—The resignation of Lord Curzon of Kedleston as Viceroy of India and the appointment of the Earl of Minto as his successor was announced at the India Office to-night.

According to the correspondence, which is issued in the form of a white book, it appears that Lord Curzon's resignation was called to that office on August 12. The correspondence shows a decidedly bitter feeling between Lord Curzon, the India Office and Lord Kitchener, Commander in Chief of the forces in India, over the new plan of army administration in India.

Lord Curzon's dissatisfaction came to a head with the refusal of the Cabinet to appoint Major General Sir Edmund Barrow, on Lord Curzon's recommendation, military supply member of the Council.

Replying on August 2 to the refusal of Mr. Brodrick, Secretary of State for India, to make this appointment, Lord Curzon requests that the Government reconsider its decision. "In order to enable me to accept the responsibility which I infer his Majesty's Government still desires me to assume."

Mr. Brodrick again refused to comply with the request for the appointment of Major General Barrow, and Lord Curzon replied as follows: "It is apparent that his Majesty's Government deny me that confidence which alone can enable me to serve them, and attach a fundamentally different interpretation from myself to the modifications, upon the acceptance of which alone I consented to remain in office."

"The situation, therefore, remains where it was when I resigned in June. If the Government are unable to accept my views I request the Premier to place my resignation in the hands of his Majesty."

NEW ORLEANS SPECIAL. New Orleans, La., Aug. 20.—To-day's official record of forty-five new cases, four deaths and twelve new foci of infection is the best daily record for the city in ten days.

In the State, however, the day has not been so hopeful. Patterson, La., developed ten new cases to-day, and the plague is rapidly sweeping over the residential district of that little city.

Charles Rodehorst, a nurse from New Orleans, who went to Patterson last Friday to nurse the sick, was stricken with the dread malady and died there to-day.

Sixty-one cases are reported from River Ridge, in St. Mary Parish, to-night. This is the total at that point up to date. Hudson city developed five cases to-day, and Sarry Plantation one.

FOUR NEW FEVER CASES REPORTED IN MISSISSIPPI. Four new cases of Yellow Jack developed at Mississippi City, Miss., to-day, making a total of seven cases at that place.

In 1879, up to the present date, there were 1,350 cases and 495 deaths. Up to the present time the number of cases has been 1,385 and the total deaths 186.

MILLIONS OF MOSQUITOES ARE KILLED BY FUMIGATION. Millions of mosquitoes were exterminated in New Orleans to-day by the general fumigation. It is estimated that 30 tons of sulphur were consumed in New Orleans to-day, or about twenty carloads.

When the engine jumped the track the engineer escaped injury by jumping, but the passengers were badly hurt, but none fatally.

ALONE FOR HOURS WITH LEG BROKEN

Aged Man Is Thrown From Wagon in Runaway and Lies Helpless in Road After Fracturing Limb.

After lying for three hours on a country road with his right leg broken in two places, Matthew Meyer, 70 years old, who formerly lived at No. 232 Olive street, was brought to St. Louis to-night on an M. & T. train from Steadman, Mo., and placed in the City Hospital for treatment.

Meyer is a cooper and is employed at Steadman. He was driving a team of mules Friday at 6 p. m., when they ran away and threw him out, dragging him some distance and breaking his right leg twice above the ankle.

The old man sustained the fracture of the leg while being dragged, and was left helpless in the road. He called for help, but no one was in hearing. The pain, he says, was excruciating.
