R. N. COLLINS DIED
EARLY THIS MORNING

The many friends of Mr. R. N. Collins were greatly shocked this morning to learn of his death at 3:30 o'clock a. m.
Yesterday Mr. Collins was reported better and his friends and relatives hoped that the worst was passed. During the night, however, he took a change for the worse and in his weakened condition he sank rapidly until death came to his relief.
Mr. Collins was one of the best known and most popular young business men of the city and was at the time of his death associated with Mr. M. D. King in the insurance business. He was always a gentleman—nature made him so, and he counted his friends by the number of his acquaintances. As a business man, he was very successful and stood high in business circles, being always on the progressive side.
Mr. Collins was 33 years old and had been raised in this city. He graduated from the A. & M. College at Starkville with high honors. He was married about three years ago to Miss Jessie Herron. He was the son of Alderman R. J. Collins.

The funeral services will take place at the residence on Bay street tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the interment will follow at the city cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. E. Jones and Rev. H. D. Howell.
Mr. Collins had taken the highest degrees in masonry and was a prominent member of the Methodist church. Knight Templars to officiate.
After the services at the residence, the Knight Templars will take charge of the remains and further conduct the exercises. All Knight Templars are requested to assemble at the Masonic Hall at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to attend the funeral in a body.

NORTHEASTERN
OFFICIALS HERE

Some of the high officials of the Northeastern road are in the city today and have spent most of the time out at the gravel pit.
The party is composed of S. E. Flanagan, superintendent; J. C. Haugh, civil engineer, and Mr. Lee, stenographer to Mr. Flanagan.
It is stated that the subject of the building of the new depot did not bring them here, but it is known that the company appreciates the fact that this is a good time to build a passenger station, owing to the fact that both the material and labor can be obtained at a low price.
It is believed that the matter will be given early attention.

A Frog's Rescue.
A correspondent writes: "My son, age 10 1/2 years, was working in the garden when a viper about two feet long glided past him. A good shot with a stone about the size of a cricket ball broke the reptile's spine, while a sharp edge of the granite cut open the belly, thereby restoring to freedom a frog, which hopped out of its prison unhurt."—Madras Mail.

HYPNOTISM

New York Doctor Recommends It
As a Positiv Cure For Drunkenness.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 19.—Hypnotism as a cure for drunkenness was recommended in a paper by Dr. John Quackenbos, of New York, read today before the convention of the American Society for the Study of Alcoholism and Inebriety. Many other authorities on the treatment and cure of those addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants delivered addresses.
At the session of the World's Temperance Congress this morning the review of the temperance conditions of the world was continued, the period discussed embracing the years 1865 to 1888. The relation of the Methodist Episcopal and Baptist denominations to the temperance reform was also considered. Other topics were: "The Citizen as a Reformer" and "The Second Emancipation."

One of the most important events of the Congress is scheduled for this afternoon, when the delegates will gather at the home of Dr. "Billy" Clark, the founder of the first temperance society in the world's history, and unveil a memorial tablet to his memory. The society established by Dr. Clark in 1808 is still in existence, and its members will attend the services in a body.
At tonight's session the principal address will be delivered by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, the prominent Washington reformer, who will speak on "A World-Wide War on Intoxicating Drinks and Drugs."

RUSSIAN YOUTH IS HANGED ON WAGER

Victim Makes Bet That He Can Endure Strain and Barely Survives the Ordeal.

St. Petersburg.—In a country where the favorite game of small children is "playing at bombs," the following story, related by the Gazette, does not seem to a Russian very extraordinary.
The gilded youth of Orel held a revel during which the conversation turned upon the execution of some political robbers which had taken place recently.
"Being hanged must be a terrible sensation," one of the youths remarked. "Not at all," replied another, "on the contrary, quite a pleasant way of ending one's life."
"Perhaps you would like to make the experiment?" retorted the first.

They Hauled the Rope Taut.

The other replied that he would not mind being hanged for a couple of minutes, and wagered two dozen bottles of champagne that would go through with it.
The whole company drove out to a solitary farm to put the matter to the test. A mock court-martial was held in a barn. The "prisoner" was solemnly sentenced to be hanged by his neck, the execution to take place on the spot. A gallows was improvised and a rope found.
The feeling of the rope round his neck had a sobering influence on the victim. He paled and shivered, and refused to be strung up. But the others were too excited willingly to forego a good joke. They hauled taut and pulled the chair away from under him, leaving the body swinging in terrible convulsions.
The horror of the sight overwhelmed the "executioners." They fled shrieking, nobody thinking of rescuing the poor victim. A servant girl, called by the shrieks, saw the body and resolutely cut the rope, just in the nick of time. Only after long exertions did she succeed in bringing the "hanged" man back to consciousness.
Josh Wise Philosophizes.
"A gal don't generally think a man is in love with her unless he threatens t' commit suicide if she refuses him."
