Quilting Was Decided Success—

The quilting that occurred at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Montague yesterday was a decided success as well as one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season. At 10 o'clock a large and fashionable gathering assembled and commenced work. This was given by the Missionary Society of Columbia Street Baptist Church, which is growing steadily in favor as a social as well as a splendid church organization. The several reception rooms of the beautiful Montague home were lovely with ferns, palms and cut flowers. Quilting and the merry chatter of the ladies continued until the noon hour, when the gentlemen arrived to join them in the sumptuous feast awaiting them in the beautifully decorated dining room with three long tables laden with everything good. The table arrangements were perfect, the service was elegant, and the menu was faultless. Mrs. Montague handled the entertainment roll with perfection, which is always all attention to her guests, making each one feel the cordial hospitality she graciously bestows on all who enter her ideal home. No occasion ever before presented in Hattiesburg was more enjoyed or filled with more merriment or more social courtesy than were the guests, numbering 50, who comprised this delightful gathering at the Montague home.

TRAFFIC TIED UP BY FREIGHT WRECK

TRAIN BACKED INTO OPEN SWITCH AT EASTABUCHIE.

Two Passengers Trains Were Delayed Several Hours But No One Was Injured—Three Cars in a Tangle by the Smashup.

The backing of a freight train into an open switch at Eastabuchie, eight miles north on the New Orleans and Northeastern, about 9 o'clock last night, tied up traffic on that portion of the road for several hours. No one was injured in the wreck, but three freight cars were derailed and piled up and it took lots of time and work to clear the track.

The wrecker was sent from Hattiesburg and straightened the tangle out. Train No. 7, southbound, and the passenger train leaving here about 19 o'clock were both delayed by the wreck.

JOLLY FANNY RICE AT THE FRENCH BALL

A fairly good audience greeted Fanny Rice and her excellent company at the Auditorium last night in a splendid production of the domestic and musical comedy "At the French Ball." The play is a good one and emphasizes the best in human nature. As "Nancy Patch, the Shoemaker's Wife," Miss Rice is at her best, and she has excellent support from first to last.

The play is well staged, the music is fine and the costumes are above the ordinary. Better plays may come during the season, but few of them will be more heartily enjoyed.
