Sawana Club.

One of the prettiest and most charming social events of the autumn season was the delightful meeting of the Sawana Club with Misses Anna and Jane Fuller Saturday afternoon at their lovely home on Short Bay st., which was made doubly attractive by effective decorations of stately chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and graceful tracery of smilax. Also branches of glowing foliage added charmingly to the effectiveness of the decorative scheme. The subject for the afternoon was, Edgar Allen Poe. Roll Call was responded to by quotations from Powe. Then an interesting paper, "Defense of Poe," was beautifully read by Miss Lucy Conner. Anna Belle Lee, a splendid reading by Miss Ethel Hill, The Tell Tale Heart, Miss course luncheon was served by the interesting program was two beautiful piano selections, beautifully rendered by Misses Annie Heideberg, and Ethel Powe. A tempting two courses luncheon was served by the genial young hostess assisted by Miss Foulkes. Creamed oysters with lattice potatoes, Russian tea and salted peanuts. The souvenirs were lovely bunches of violets tied with the club colors, purple and yellow ribbon. The Sawana Club has had many pleasant social meetings, but never was a more delightful afternoon spent than was this and makes one of the happiest memories for each member to fondly cherish. Miss Mamie Thompson was a new member, gladly welcomed. Miss Mayfield will be the next hostess. The members present were, Misses Bettie and Lucy Conner, Marie and Lella Belle Oakley, Margret Hawkins and her guest, Mildred Deas, of Enterprise, Ethel Hill, Bessie and Ethel Powe, Minnie Hightower, Mabel Greer, May Richardson, Camille Thrash, Mamie Thompson and Margret McWilliams.

Moore-Huddleston.

A very beautiful home wedding was quietly solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Moore, corner River Avenue and Williams street. The contracting parties were Miss Bonnie Mai Moore and Mr. J. B. Huddleston. Rev. T. B. Holliman pastor of the Main Street Methodist church officiating. Although the wedding was only a quiet home affair, still it is one of special interest as the young couple are both very popular as well as very much admired. The groom is a popular young business man of the capital city and a son of Rev. G. W. Huddleston a distinguished professor of Millsaps College. The bride is a lovely young lady of our own town, who is greatly admired for her many personal charms and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. The happy young couple left on the evening train for their future home in Jackson. Their numerous friends extend the heartiest of good wishes and blessings for a long and happy union.

Flower Show a Success.

The first flower show ever given here, under the auspices of the Kings Daughters after a very profitable as well as pleasant exhibition of three days, closed its doors Saturday evening at 10 o'clock. The exhibits consisting principally of giant chrysanthemums and carnations, which were exquisite. All the visitors very much admired the perfection that has been attained here in the wonderful growth of flowers, especially chrysanthemums, by Mr. Kling, the florist.

Great clusters of the most gorgeous chrysanthemums of every size and color won splendid admiration from all who saw them. The large room in the beautiful Hartfield building on West Pine street, with its handsome interior, presented a scene of a veritable flower garden with tier after tier of stone jars holding beautiful clusters of the magnificent blooms. A splendid musical program was well carried out, each evening, adding very much to the affair. In connection with all this the Kings Daughters served both day and night the daintiest of luncheons, which proved a success in every detail. This part was all under the splendid supervision of Mrs. W. J. York, who is always untiring in her efforts to attain success for every worthy cause. The Kings Daughters very highly appreciate the beautiful service of the Philathea Baracca orchestra, Mrs. Henderson and her Glee Club, Mrs. B. D. Moore and all who so cheerfully assisted in making a success of an affair so charming.

Historical Club.

The Historical Club of the U. D. C. chapter, spent a most delightful afternoon Saturday at the beautiful and spacious Carter home on Court street. Mrs. Carter and her charming young daughters, Misses Annie and Ruth, are surely ideal hostesses. Their guests were certainly made to feel that it was a real pleasure to welcome them to their home, which is one of the sweetest in all the city, and they in turn spent a most charming afternoon. The program was charming and considered by all who had the good fortune to hear it to far excel any this club has ever yet given. The introductory number, an instrumental selection, "Nellie Gray," was most charmingly rendered by little Miss Nannie Scanlon. The program was given in full last week in the News, hence it will not be necessary to repeat it. Mrs. Dr. Leo H. Martin directed the music, which together with every other number on the program, was charming in every particular. The afternoon passed all too quickly by and was ended by the serving of an elegant lunch by Miss Ruth Carter, Mrs. G. H. Carter and Myster J. P. Carter. Mrs. Carter's good taste was emphasized in the beautiful service and tempting quality of this truly refreshing lunch, and all present showed their appreciation by their thorough enjoyment.

Mrs. Woodley Entertains.

Mrs. F. B. Woodley entertained very pleasantly Saturday afternoon complimentary to her little daughter, Grace, as it was the eleventh anniversary of her birth. The already cozy little home was brightened by the addition of flowers and ferns. Quite a number of the little honoree's friends were invited to share the afternoon's pleasure, and a very enjoyable time was spent. Grace makes a very nice little hostess for a child of her years. Various games that are always a child's delight, were indulged in, and happily the moments passed by. Some very pretty gifts were received at testing the love of the little girl's friends and schoolmates. After playing and a good time generally, dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Hall and Miss Annie Haney. Grace was assisted in entertaining by Grace Mills, and Bobby Haney. Those invited were, Dora Ross, Grace Mills, Bobby Haney, Margaret Herren, Robin Sweat, Dan and Josephine Sullivan, Verna Hanna, Jewell Bufkin, Unette Kernaghan, Maggie Estes, Earnestine Ferrell, Hattie and Annie May McDonald, Joseph Winslow, Edmond Travis, Wm. Pack, Elizabeth Wisner, Mildred Moffett, Ella Ruth Scanlan, Addie and Felix Phillips, Thomas Ferguson, Grace Eaton, Mary Lou and Ruth McNinn, Roy and Jennie Sigler.

Sacred Concert.

A sacred concert took place at Court Street M. E. Church last evening directed by Rev. T. B. Holloman. The service was to have taken place at the Main street church, but on account of Mrs. Eaton's bereavement it was transferred to Court Street Church. An annual address by Mrs. Sallie Snylle Ferguson on the Foreign Mission work was splendidly delivered. Mrs. Andrew McGregor read a fine report of the convention work which took place at Biloxi last week. The song service composed of the choirs of both churches was very delightfully rendered. Mrs. R. C. Howell had charge of this program which reflects a great deal of credit on her work.

Mesdames E. J. Mitchel, T. O. Watkins and Mrs. W. E. Laird took some of the most beautiful floral offerings to the hospital and infirmary Friday to the sick. The flowers were given through the kindness of Mr. Kling.

The many friends of Rev. J. R. Jones will be glad to know that he was able to fill his appointment yesterday at Court Street M. E. Church, at the morning service.

Mrs. T. H. Neville accompanied by her little daughters, Virginia and Irene returned Saturday from Meridian where they have been visiting friends for several days.

Mrs. Andrew McGregor has returned from Biloxi where she has been attending the annual convention of the Foreign Missionary Society, having gone as a delegate from the Main Street M. E. Church.

Mrs. T. E. Martin and children, of River avenue, who have been on an extensive visit to their old home in Georgia, are expected home today.

Mrs. S. H. Chappelle an attractive matron of Demopolis, Ala., is the guest this week of Mrs. J. P. Carter, at her home on Court Street.

Mrs. Handsboro was called to Overt Saturday by the extreme illness of her son-in-law, Mr. George Fatheree.

Mrs. Mackey will entertain the Mar-to speak from poor sight to blindness. Perhaps it never occurred to you that a defect in the sight is not as a rule a disease of the eye, it is an abnormal condition of the eyeball that causes errors of refraction, a condition which properly fitted glasses will not only relieve but entirely cure; sight restored, eyes are made strong, headaches disappear, the nervous strain is relieved and the eyes are saved perhaps from blindness. If you have eye trouble a personal talk will interest you.
