The Social Side.

Box Packing For Orphans.—

Mrs. W. R. Williams' lovely home on West Pine street was thrown open to the Woman's Missionary Society of Fifth avenue Baptist Church, yesterday afternoon from 3 to 5. This was a social meeting of this splendid society, and it was a perfect success in every particular. The guests were cordially greeted at the door by the lovely hostess and Mrs. Peyton E. Phillips, the efficient president. Mesdames Davis and Ellis conducted the guests in the parlors. The attractiveness of this hospitable home was greatly enhanced by quantities of stately palms and ferns and beautiful chrysanthemums were banked in every nook and corner. The decorations were elaborate with a red and white motif charmingly in evidence and perfect in every detail.

The dining room was especially lovely, the table with its handsome damask covering all resplendent with sparkling cut-glass and silver, exquisitely decorated in red and white the color scheme, and all the accessories and details of the service were beautifully carried out in red and white. Here a dainty two-course luncheon was served by Mesdames Beverly Williams, Leland Dennis and Keys. The meeting was opened with devotional service conducted by Rev. L. E. Hall, after which he gave the ladies a most splendid and helpful talk. Then packing the box for the orphans followed. The B. Y. P. U. assisted in donating the articles for the box and their presence added very much to the afternoon's enjoyment.

The box was well filled and contained many valuable and useful garments, for which all merit highest praise. Mrs. Williams proved one of the most charming hostesses, and a delightful afternoon was enjoyed in her ideal home.

Miss Jackson to Entertain.—

Miss Evelyn Jackson who will on tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., become the wife of Mr. Bryan Lackey Keithley, has been the recipient of quantities of the most beautiful presents. Hand-some silverware, sparkling cut-glass, dainty linen handiwork, beautiful hand-painted china, lovely and useful house-hold articles and in fact, numerous presents of highest value and every description, have been pouring in for several days. This alone bespeaks the esteem and popularity of the fair young bride. Yesterday a beautiful and handsome silver tea service was presented her by the following gentlemen: Messrs. J. W. Montague, G. P. Smith, J. D. Donald, F. F. Phillips, A. V. Hays, N. R. McCollough, J. S. Love, J. C. Ballard, M. P. L. Love, W. R. Thames, H. Y. Bryan, T. E. Batson and Spivey McWilliams.

Mr. Keithley Here.—

Mr. Bryan Lackey Keithley, the bridegroom of tomorrow, accompanied by his sister, Miss Elizabeth, arrived last evening. We congratulate Mr. Keithley most heartily upon the lovely choice he has made in a life-time partner, still we can scarcely forgive him for taking from our midst one of our own best beloved young ladies. Her place in the home, in social life, in the church circle and every place where she has presided with dignity and honor, will sadly miss her gracious presence. While we lose a bright and lovely young lady, Clinton has gained one of the most charming young matrons that has ever graced that thriving little city.

Dinner and Bazaar.—

As usual, the Westminster Aid Society of Bay street Presbyterian Church held the regular weekly meeting at the church yesterday afternoon. Rev. R. L. Campbell had charge of the devotional service. The attendance was large and the meeting very interesting. Report from the exchange was very good indeed. The arrangements and plans for the dinner and bazaar were completed. Mrs. A. D. Draughn and Mrs. A. T. Powe will have charge of the exchange Saturday. Next meeting at the church Monday.

To Have Social Each Month.—

The Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist Church held a splendid meeting at the church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Stapleton, the president, presided. The attendance was unusually large. The principal subject for discussion was a social meeting once each month, and they decided to charge a small admission fee. When the rest of the regular routine work was completed they adjourned to meet again next Monday at the church at 3 o'clock.

Immanuel B. Y. P. U.

The B. Y. P. U. of Immanuel Baptist church held a splendid meeting Sunday evening at the church. President Gaines Dobbins conducted the meeting. Prof. Jenkins delivered a fine address, the subject was "Conquest Missionary Course." He handled the subject in a manner that was both practical and helpful. The song service was also a splendid feature. The entire program was good and well rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Langford, Jr., are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright, bouncing baby boy. This little lad, in all of his dignity arrived a few days since, and their many friends are wishing for him a long and happy life.

Miss Bessie Huddleston, of Jackson, and Mr. Marshal McNeil Keith, of Decatur, who have been visiting Mrs. J. J. Moore on River Avenue, returned home, after attending the Moore-Huddleston nuptials.

Miss Jessie Turnbough, a student of Belhaven College came last night. She will be an attendant at Miss Evelyn Jackson's wedding tomorrow.

GRAND JURY HAS FOUND THIRTY-FIVE TRUE BILLS

The grand jury up to last night had returned 35 true bills with more to come before the inquisitorial body adjourns. One reason that so many have been returned up to date is that there were a great number of prisoners who were in the city jail and several at Collins. It is to be presumed that these are considered first. A member of the grand jury, who was asked when the jury would adjourn, said that it was impossible to tell, but the members hoped to get through this week.

IT IS ONLY A STEP

to speak from poor sight to blindness. Perhaps it never occurred to you that a defect in the sight is not as a rule a disease of the eye, it is an abnormal condition of the eyeball that causes errors of refraction, a condition which properly fitted glasses will not only relieve but entirely cure; sight is restored, eyes are made strong, headaches disappear, the nervous strain is relieved and the eyes are saved perhaps from blindness. If you have eye trouble a personal talk will interest you.
