

Lard is a Foe to Digestion

Pork in any form is indigestible, and most people cannot eat it without subsequent discomfort. It therefore follows that food prepared from lard, which is nothing more or less than hog-fat, is of necessity indigestible.

Cottolene is made from Cotton Seed oil refined so perfectly that it is absolutely neutral in odor and taste.

You know how rich and nourishing Olive oil is. Do you know that cotton seed oil and olive oil are almost exactly the same in chemical properties? Olive oil is too expensive for general use in frying and shortening—Cottolene gives the same results.

Having no odor or flavor, and taking up none, Cottolene once melted up can be used over and over again.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

About Plays and Players

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE AUDITORIUM.

MR. POLLOCK'S BEST WORK.

His Collaboration in "The Traitor" With Thomas Dixon, Jr.

In the work of preparing his novel, "The Traitor" for the stage Thomas Dixon, Jr., did not trust to his skill alone. He enlisted the services in collaboration of Channing Pollock, who for several years has been recognized as one of the best stage adapters of novels in the United States. When "The Pit" was the most popular book in the country the people talked of the possibility of its appearance on the stage, the wise critics said a dramatization of the work was absolutely impossible. Mr. Pollock performed the impossible, presenting the stage with a play which maintained the position on the top wave of public favor for several years. He executed the same feat in the case of "The Secret Orchard" and several other novels which experts had condemned as unfit for stage purposes. Mr. Dixon, in conjunction with Mr. Pollock, has evolved a play from "The Traitor" which will come as a most surprising revelation to the people who have read the book. Mr. Pollock himself claims it is superior to any of his previous achievements. Already much interest is manifested in "The Traitor" which will be seen at the Auditorium Saturday, December 12, matinee and night, matinee at 2:30 sharp.

"The Runaways" Tonight. Musical comedies may come and musical comedies may go, but "The Runaways" will gallop on forever. That, so far, has been the record of the piece that helped to make the Casino, New York City, such a delightful place for smart Gothamites to go to, and it is the prediction for a long future career by well known critics. The many bouquets that the critics of the larger cities have lavished upon "The Runaways" would fill a large size room and would fill the air with sweet aroma! It was at the Casino that "The Runaways" made its bow for recognition, and how brilliantly it scored is a matter for sweet financial recollection to the owners of both the play and the theatre. It ran for seven months at the Casino. Then it had to respond to urgent engagements in the larger cities of the North. Then it went back to the Casino, and back to the larger cities again. Back again to dear old Broadway it was called and then—well, it was a roscate path it traced, pleasing millions and inflating box-office receipts. Then came its general road tour, and as such, theatre-goers will have an opportunity tonight at the Auditorium of enjoying its song and wit, its beauty and merriment, its novelty and surprises. The company that will be seen in this city will be a large and most capable one. Headed by George Ovey, there will be plenty of comedians, and led by Sadie Etherton and Florence Ackley, there will be a sufficiency of graceful, pretty song-birds, while the chorus will be made up of the famed New York Casino Chorus.

The undoubted musical success of the season, Jules Murry's production of "Marrying Mary," with Florence Gear in the role of Mary Montgomery, will be seen at the Auditorium on December 11. Edwin Milton Royle wrote the book and Silvio Hain composed the music.

OPPOSING INSURANCE TAXATION

Plans For General Crusade Are Being Made at New York Convention

Hearst News Service. New York, December 4.—Plans for inaugurating a general crusade against the present methods of insurance taxation by the states will be inaugurated at the annual meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, opened here today.

The meeting will take the form of a conference on life insurance taxation, to which the executive officers of the companies in this country and Canada have been invited. Various state insurance commissioners will also take part.

Preparations will be perfected for placing before every policy holder in the country details of what the association calls "The Great Wrong Done Policyholders by the Taxation of Insurance Premiums." It is understood that the fire insurance companies are also preparing to co-operate.

THE LABOR SITUATION

AGENTS ARE CREATING TROUBLE IN SOME COUNTIES.

Planters Forming Organizations to Check Their Activities—Plenty of Work For Everybody At Fairly Good Wages.

Labor agents are creating their annual trouble in Mississippi, and the planters are up in arms over the attempts being made to entice negroes to other states, or to different sections of this state.

In some of the counties protective associations are being formed among the planters, the main purpose being to keep each other informed on the maneuvers of labor agents, and in some instances these organizations have arranged to employ counsel for the prosecution of agents who are caught in attempts to entice labor.

As a rule, however, the average planter would prefer to deal personally with the labor agent and he generally deals with the offender in a very vigorous manner.

The demand for labor is very active for this season of the year. One employment agency in Jackson is advertising for 350 common laborers for railroad construction work, and offering exceptionally good wages. The resumption of work on the New Orleans & Great Northern from New Orleans to Jackson has given employment to several hundred negroes who went direct from the cotton fields to the construction camps. Resumption of work on the Aberdeen & Tombigbee Valley road is promised for the near future, and labor gangs will probably be organized during the next thirty days. The Cumberland Telegraph & Telephone Company is giving employment to a large number of laborers in the construction of its new long distance lines, and several logging roads in the piney woods belt are extending their lines, creating a lively demand for labor, while the steady resumption of work among the lumber manufacturing plants has added to the demand, which is now being furnished from the farms as the cotton picking season draws to a close in the various counties.

Briefly summed up the present situation warrants the belief that there will be plenty of work for all classes of labor in Mississippi during the next few months. The oil mills will hardly finish the crushing season until at least three months hence, and they are giving steady employment to several thousand men. While wages are not so high as eighteen months ago, there have been no sweeping reductions of a nature to cause discontent. The only unfavorable phase of the situation is the closing down of work in the Illinois Central and Y. & M. V. shops at Water Valley, Vicksburg and McComb City, which threw 450 skilled mechanics out of employment, and no statement has been made by the corporation as to when work will be resumed.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by Hays & Field and Yellow Pine Pharmacy.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS CANNOT REFUND TAXES

Daily News Special.

Jackson, Miss., December 4.—In response to inquiries from Wilkinson county, Attorney General Stirling has issued an official opinion the gist of which is that justices of the peace are not entitled, under Section 2182 of the code of 1906, to collect from the county costs in misdemeanor cases where the state fails, or in other words, when the defendant is acquitted; and that boards of supervisors has the right to refund commutation taxes improperly or erroneously collected, as for instance in cases of double assessment, where a man pays the tax himself and it is again paid by his merchant, as is frequently done, or where this tax is collected from a man over the age of fifty, who should be exempt. In the case of state taxes the boards of supervisors cannot make such refunds without the sanction of the state auditor, as a portion of the money goes to the state, but a commutation road tax is used exclusively in the county, and no authority from the auditor is necessary.
