YEAST POWDERS!

THESE powders are an admirable substitute for yeast in making all kinds of buttercakes nd light bread, and have the advantage over that rticle in making the batter perfectly light the instant they are mixed. Buckwheat and other cakes, when made with these powders, are less likely to disagree with the stomachs than those made with yeast; and as it requires but a few minutes to prepare for baking, the possibility of ever having them done if entirely avoided. PROSPECTUS OF THE Mississippi Justice and Constables Guide.

THE scarcity of the revised Code and sheet acts of the Legislature, and the difficulty with which the Justices and Constables of this State supply themselves, and the great want of such a work, as a Justice of the Peace on my own part, has induced me to offer to the Justices and Constables of this State a digest of the Laws in force, in relation to their duties &c., together with a complete set of forms of Deeds, Wills, Bonds, Acknowledgements of Dower, and other instruments.

To place such a work into the hands of our Justices and Constables, would save much trouble and time to the officers for whom the work is intended, As the law now stands, it is with the utmost difficulty to be ascertained whether a written law is in force or not, which often misleads us.

The work will be published in one duodecimo volume, law binding, comprising from 250 to 300 pages, with a digested index of the contents, giving a condensed statement of all it contains. The work will be ready for delivery the 1st of March 1839.

Terms made known on delivery.

EXTRAORDINARY CASE,

QUEBEC, MAY 18, 1837.

Dear Sir—An article called Dr. S. Hewes' Nerve and Bone Liniment, came to my knowledge about two months since through our friend Mr Campbell, and I procured a bottle and had used of it for a week without any material change, until one morning I found myself under the exercise of very uncommon feelings, imagining that could I be helped up I could stand and walk. I requested my family to aid me, but they were unwilling I should trust myself on my feet, not having for the last FOURTEEN AND A HALF YEARS ever even made the attempt to stand, but my confidence was so great that they consented to assist me from my bed. I found I could use my legs with apparent ease, but could not bear my weight on my feet. With support however, I could place one foot before the other with a facility that astonished me and all around me. They led me twice across the room; I sat down with feelings of happiness that I never before experienced; the idea that I was once again to be restored to the world ran through my frame like an electric shock. My family surrounded me in tears of joy, and the excitement so completely overcome me that I fainted. The same day I walked three times across the floor, again bearing a little weight at each time on my feet. I then used crutches for a few days, when my strength had so far become re-established, that I could cross the floor without the least aid. My advancement from this time has almost been incredible; I can walk two hundred yards and back with ease, and my children, (the bedrid are often blessed like me with near a dozen) have been so overjoyed that they could scarcely eat or sleep, and Mrs. Corning seems to feel half a score of years younger herself. You well recollect how much bent together I was when you were last here; I have entirely overcome this. If I looked as odd as I felt when I began to walk, I would have been gazed at in astonishment. I have seen many of my old acquaintances, some of whom did not know me at all, and others would scarce credit their senses, and would hardly have been more astonished though one had risen from the dead. I have now every confidence that I am a well man. I think this article is the most extraordinary of any I ever heard of, and if it not extensively made known to the public, I think the proprietors are very culpable. If you know the persons in New York selling it, you had better show them this letter and let them refer to you, or publish this if you think it would aid the distressed. Remember me to your family.

Yours, very truly,

ETHAN C. CORNING.

PROPOSALS
For publishing at Dresden, Weakly county. Ten., a Weekly Newspaper, to be styled
THE TENNESSEE PATRIOT.
EDITED BY J. LEIGH.

THE custom of the times has rendered it necessary that those who would assume the responsible station of Editor, should first lay before the public an expose of the principles by which the proposed publication will be governed—together with the course which it is designed to pursue 'amid the vexed political questions of the day. To do this, is the object of the following remarks.

The more candid of all political parties do not attempt to disguise the fact, that a large majority of the people of Tennessee are from principle, Democratic Republicans of the Jeffersonian school—attached to doctrines advanced and the course pursued by the late administration. It is true that an attempt has been recently made by some of her recreant sons, to persuade their allies abroad, that Tennessee has forsaken the ground she has so long and so proudly occupied, and that she is now ready to be transferred, as a willing bride, to the arms of whomsoever the leaders of the whig party may select as her future apouse; but the more intelligent part of the community know that the warriors of New Orleans and their sons are made of sterner stuff—that their [illegible] before a foreign foe—and that it [illegible] ered in the presence of a domestic [illegible] country and its institutions.

Meanwhile it is notoriously [illegible], that every press in this district (with one honorable exception) has gone over to the ranks of our enemy, so that in many instances the people are deprived of the means of forming a correct judgment with reference to important political measures. Frequently does it occur, that for the purpose of obtaining local news, members of the Democratic party are compelled to patronise a press, devoted soul and spirit to the propagation and diffusion of sentiments which we hold to be alike unconstitutional and impolitic; and as in many cases, they are either unable or unwilling to subscribe to more than one newspaper, they are far from being as fully acquainted with the views and intentions of their own party, as they should be; whilst we have no doubt that many honest men are Federalists, simply because they do not know how selfish are the views and how ignoble the aims of the SOI DISANT leaders of their party.

That these difficulties may be obviated in this portion of the State, the PATRIOT will be forthwith established. It will not be a violent party print, nor will it abuse those who may chance to differ with us in sentiment. On the contrary, its columns shall always be open to the temperate discussion of any political question. Believing that, next to the Immortal Washington, the country is most indebted to ANDREW JACKSON for the preservation of those liberties which were purchased with the blood and treasure of the glorious heroes of '76—warmly attached to the principles which marked his administration, and convinced MARTIN VAN BUREN, THE REJECTED OF THE SENATE, is, from the long and confidential relation which he sustained toward "the sage of the Hermitage," better qualified than any other candidate likely to be before the people at the next election to carry out those principles; we shall accord to him our humble support and shall advocate the measures which have so far marked his administration.

We will support a system of [illegible] ments to be carried on under the patronage of the States, and will oppose any system of the kind intended to be supported by appropriations from the Treasury of the General Government. We will advocate a prudent and judicious system of banking institutions under the authority of the States, and will oppose a National Bank whatever form it may assume; the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia, and any tariff not rendered necessary by the wants of the Government.

A portion of the paper will be devoted to light reading—considerable attention will be paid to agriculture, and the usual space occupied with an account of the markets, foreign and domstic intelligence, &c. &c. In a word, we intend to make it a NEWS PAPER, designed to amuse as well as instruct, for the old and the young, the Farmer, the Mechanic, and the Merchant the grave and the gay, the studious and the severe.

CONDITIONS.

The Patriot will be published weekly, at three dollars per annum, in advance; or four dollars at the end of the year. The first No. will make its appearance about the 15th of November next.

Dresden, Ten. Sep. 8, 1838.

SALE OF LOTS
IN THE TOWN OF COMMERCE.

THE undersigned commissioners, appointed by the Hernando Rail Road and Banking Company will, on Monday the 29th of October next, proceed to sell at public sale, the very valuable property of the town of COMMERCE, on the Mississippi river, well known as Bridges' and Fletcher's Point. Commerce is located on the bank of the Mississippi, about 40 miles below Memphis, 52 miles west of Holly Springs, and 32 west of Hernando, the county site of DeSoto.

In calling the attention of the public to this point we think it unnecessary, and would be supererogatory to indulge in the too common practice, on such occasions, of empty boastings and fictitious descriptions. We would only say that the town siet in question, we believe to be the most eligable and convenient that can be obtained for North [illegible] it is a beautiful and healthy situ[illegible]nce of which, persons are now resi[illegible]ptions who have lived therefor five and whose robust health seems to [illegible] life of half a century to come. [illegible]k offers to capitalists of enter[illegible] the means of [illegible] and governed [illegible] pel it to onward [illegible] has to[illegible] ed support of a vast extent of [illegible] country [illegible] for its productiveness, and the enterprize [illegible] citizens, is not surpassed even in [illegible] the fer[illegible] ley of the Mississippi. It is in the road [illegible] seller from Carolina, Georgia, and Al[illegible] the spirit of enterprise may find him to [illegible] to the great emporium of the S[illegible] and wi[illegible]as the promise of a Rail [illegible] or charter [illegible] State Legislature, lately from it [illegible] rich interior, by the [illegible] open com[illegible] with the world. [illegible]reigners [illegible] commerce and delicide [illegible]es, and to [illegible]ediate fellow-citi[illegible] leave to s[illegible] in calling upon [illegible] favor and par[illegible] this enterprise [illegible]dress your sym[illegible]rality; we [illegible]r interest and [illegible] deem it and superfluous [illegible] argument [illegible]on that it is for [illegible] and [illegible] terest to have a town of [illegible] and [illegible] within the borders of our own State. It is not a question for argument, but a fact made plain, by even volumes of proofs in every one's experience. The southern portion of our great State has a growing and flourishing city at which to export and trade; the middle has equal facilities, whilst the North, equal in natural strength and resources to either, is yet tributary to Tennessee.

The object of our enterprise is to give to North Mississippi equal advantages with the middle and southern parts of the State, and if our fellow-citizens but will it, and will give us the right hand of fellowship, whilst the South has her Natchez, the middle her Vicksburg, the North shall have her COMMERCE.

W. H. BAYLISS,
L. D. HENDERSON,
Commissioners.

August 11, 1838.—2-6-

There will be a good road constructed from Commerce to Hernando by the 15th of Oct. next, which is now under contract.

The terms of sales will be on a credit of one and two years.

THE SCOTCHMAN'S SONG.
ADIEU, ADIEU, MY AIN SWEET LAND.

Adieu, adieu my ain sweet land,
I hail thee frae the sea,
That bears me, Scotia, frae thy strand,
And Mary, too, frae thee!
Frae childhood's dawn I lo'ed the bloom
That flush'd thy heather knee,
The wall flower and the yellow broom
That mock thy ruins gay.

The hills may pierce serener skies
Beyond the distant main,
And fairer flowers and forests rise
To shade a richer plain.
But oh I'll vainly search below
For sic a prospect grand,
As wishful, rather, beauty throw
Across my cloudy skies.

The soul of genius fills her hills,
That's [illegible] may see,
[illegible] of her glen,
Romantic land, wh[illegible]er I stray,
My heart will turn to thee.
Cheer'd by the hope to lay my head
Again on Mary's breast,
On Allan's welcome daisies tread,
And sink at home to rest.

Files of Jamaica papers to the 13th ult., state that the great emancipation day of the slaves on the 1st Aug. passed off quietly at Kingston. Other accounts say the disinclination of the negroes to work has become distressing to the whites,—cattle destroyed, corn, pears, and coffee dropping from the trees to rot in the ground. The whites are obliged to cook their own meals, &c.
