

THE WEEKLY HERALD. TUESDAY, OCT. 11, 1870.

IN MEMORIAM. Of Mary Antoinette Hude, aged two years. The little one is gone, gone to her God...

WARREN CIRCUIT COURT commences on the fourth Monday in November next.

TAXES! TAXES!! TAXES!!!—We warn our people to wake up, and look after their assessment lists before it is too late to correct them.

FRANK PACKARD, the redoubtable Frank, of the dun horse notoriety, has at last made up his mind to migrate.

THE case of Marble, one of our respected colored citizens, holding the responsible position of policeman, and who was charged with receiving a bribe of $25 some time since...

ALAS! how the mighty have fallen!

Alas! how the little have reason! By the grace of Gov. Alcorn, who is disgraced by some of the appointments he has toiled into high places...

We have been shown by Rev. Dr. Sansom a letter received from Miss Rye, written on the eve of her departure for England...

God pity the "bar" of Mississippi if her present judges were selected from any such cause, for possibly a greater number of mental imbeciles—totally ignorant of law...

For these words the HERALD is proscribed, for speaking the truth the judicial edicts of E. Hill are hurled at its head...

But of such is the Kingdom of Radicalism. Such is the result of the very evil we were lamenting, when we wrote the article in question.

WARREN COUNTY FAIR.

As our readers are already aware, the annual exhibition of the Warren County Agricultural Association will commence on the 25th inst. and continue four days.

Our State has already planted its standard of superiority in the State of Missouri, where its staple products have been acknowledged to be ahead of all competition.

It is estimated that one hundred and twenty-five thousand people visited the grounds yesterday. I learn that $60,000 were taken at the gate.

But there is not the least particle of use in attempting a description of what can be seen at this Fair. Each day's report takes fifteen or twenty of the great columns of the Missouri Republican.

It is a wondrous sight, almost appalling, to go out, late in the afternoon, on one of the grand avenues from the Fair and witness the multitudes returning to the city.

You dare not meet them, advancing for fear you will be annihilated; so you dodge into a side street and watch the fearful torrent go by.

It is impossible to get a bed, much less a room, at any hotel here. Several Vicksburgers have been doomed to walk the streets all night, being shelterless.

St. Louis Correspondence.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7, 1870. DEAR HERALD: "Dum vivimus vivamus," which is to say, dog-on-the-luck, who cares! said exclamation being the philosophical conclusion of our disappointed minds...

There is a curious rumor circulating in London that Bismarck has proposed to Prim and Serrano that King John of Saxony shall become King of Spain...

THE TRIBUNE says: "If there be anything utterly out of date, it is a 'colored pew,' 'a colored car,' or 'a colored gallery,' or any other place in which men and women are thrust, because their skins happen to be of a different hue from the conductors, or the deacons, or doorkeepers."

From two to four million dollars will be left in this city by visitors. Commercial relations will be established and renewed, and the general result will be greatly beneficial.

Edwin Booth is at DeBars, and receiving nightly ovations. The other places of amusement are in "full blast," and crowded to overflowing.

Polk, Boswell & Co., Vicksburg, Miss., Finney & Clarke, exhibitors. Edmund Jackson, Warren county, Miss., producer, Fletcher & Co., exhibitors.

LETTERS FROM NIAGARA FALLS.

Close of the Fashionable Carnival—Ho! for the Sunny South—The Present, Past and Future. Niagara Falls, Oct. 4, 1870.

One more fashionable season at Niagara Falls and other places of resort on the line of the fashionable summer tour, is drawing to a close. Another carnival is drawing closer the folds of its garments and preparing for the visitation of the frigid king of ice and snow.

NIAGARA FALLS has been a grand success this season, and more enjoyable and with all, satisfactory term has never passed over this wonder of wonders.

SOUTHERN TOURISTS who will sojourn through the lands of the orange blossoms and mocking birds this winter, will doubtless be numerous, for it has been the general theme of conversation here this summer, and the evidences are that the fair belles of the East will predominate in the sunny South during the winter months.

THE PAST SEASON has been a triumphant success. Niagara has been more popular than ever during the past summer, and even now the number of tourists on the wing is truly immense.

WELLINGTON'S LAST WORDS.—When the Duke of Wellington was sick, the last thing he took was a little tea. On his servant's handing it to him in a saucer, and asking him if he would have it, the Duke replied: "Yes, if you please." These were his last words.
