

Theta Nu Sigma Sorority To Present "Negro Press Trophy" At 44th Annual NBCL Convention

New York City — When the NBCL holds its 44th Annual Convention July 28th through August 8th, 1963 at Chicago's Hotel Sherman Theta Nu Sigma's Supreme Basileus Ruth J. Ferguson will present the 1963 "Negro Press Trophy" to the Chapter which displays the best in "News & Photos" from the Negro Press for 1962-'63. The 1962 Award was won in Cleveland, Ohio by Alpha Chapter of St. Louis, Missouri when Dr. Katie E. Whickam, President of the National Beauty Culturists League, Inc. who constantly stresses to all NBCL & Theta Nu Sigma members the fact that it is their responsibility to read and support their own Negro Press, gave an added prize to the winner.

Both Basileus Ferguson and Dr. Wickam feel that by giving such a Trophy and Award there will be created added interest in the Negro Press all over the country. An added feature of this year's prize list will be the Lou LuTour Trophy for the runner-up to the first prize winner.

Miss LuTour, who is now doing a Documentary Series on the Negro Press for Radio (to be followed by such a Series for TV) will also conduct a Press and Public Relations Workshop for NBCL members and Theta Nu Sigma Sorors so as to stimulate those in attendance to vie for future Theta Nu Sigma-NBCL 'Negro Press Awards' at future Conventions and Boules.

Coffee cake is dressed up with golden nuggets of pineapple and coconut broiled topping for Hawaiian-style breakfast. And it's made the easy way with a blend-in-the-bag mix which has cinnamon topping included in the package. Enjoy a Hawaiian breakfast soon!

PINEAPPLE COFFEE CAKE

Makes 8 servings

Cake:
One 10-1/2-oz. pkg. easy coffee cake mix
1 egg, unbeaten
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup drained crushed pineapple

Broiled Icing:
Envelope cinnamon topping (contained in coffee cake package)
1/4 cup flaked or shredded coconut
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
2 tablespoons milk

Heat oven to moderate (375° F.). Put egg, milk and pineapple into large bag of mix. Squeeze upper part of bag to force air out. Close top of bag by holding tightly between thumb and index finger. With bag resting on table, mix by working bag vigorously with fingers. (Mix about 40 seconds or until egg is completely blended.) Squeeze bag to empty batter into special-aluminum foil pan contained in package. (Do not grease pan.) Bake in preheated oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes.

For broiled icing, combine cinnamon topping, coconut, nutmeats and milk. Open corner folds of pan so that icing will not drip in broiler. Spread icing over top of baked coffee cake; place in broiler, 3 to 4 inches from source of heat. Broil until frosting becomes bubbly. Cut into 8 pieces and serve warm.

Coordinator Named

Coordinating the campaign for the AFL-CIO will be Lane Kirkland, Mr. Meany's executive assistant who often acts as a troubleshooter.

The committee's first step will be to establish biracial community committees through local AFL-CIO councils. All important interest groups will be asked to participate.

At a White House meeting with 300 labor leaders last June 12, Mr. Kennedy asked that such committees be set up.

In response to that appeal, Mr. Meany sent a letter June 26 to local central bodies of the AFL-CIO urging they take an active part in forming the committees.

Action Sought

The special committee will press for action in communities where local committees do not exist. It will attempt to expedite work of committees that exist but are inactive.

The effort is expected to be centered in 30 to 40 major cities.

With Mr. Meany on the special committee will be Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, an AFL-CIO vice-president; A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, the federation's only Negro vice-president; C. J. Haggarty, president of the AFL-CIO building and construction trade department; and William F. Schnitzler, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer.

The Riches of God

"Or who hath been His Counselor?"—Isaiah 40:13-44

St. Paul, in his epistle to the Romans pointed out the depth of the wisdom and knowledge of God and, in a sense that we should not expect to understand everything that we know about God.

As Paul suggests, it is sufficient we know that all things come to us from God and that God is master over all. As master, God does not consult with anyone. He moves without the counsel of a board of directors or any type of advisory group.

This is not too difficult for modern-day Christians to understand. The example of the life and death of Jesus Christ has for centuries reminded mankind that God is good; God is just; and that all men have equal opportunity to share in God's kingdom.

1963. The 1963 convention theme is "Christian Education and the Image of the Church in the Redeemed Community." The Home Mission Board will meet at 7:30 each morning with Rev. O. W. Lenoir as chairman.

The Convention proper will open July 31 with the president, Rev. L. S. Sorrell, presiding. The important features of the convention will be an inspirational address by Rev. E. T. Thomas of Mound Bayou; the welcome program and an introductory sermon by Rev. S. L. A. Jones, of Clarksdale on the first day of the meeting. On the second day, the memorial sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. W. Gipson of Drew and on Friday, the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Braggs. The Students Scholarship Contest will also be held. The scholarship contestant fund amounts to $75,000. Throughout the convention a combined chorus will furnish the music.

Highlights of the Women's Convention will be Mission Study and Christian Leadership Classes conducted for two hours each morning. Sermons will be delivered by Revs. A. W. Gipson, and L. T. Baker. On Wednesday the ministers wives hour will be conducted and the Home and Foreign Mission Program given during which time the Young People's program will feature the coronation of the queens, the princess revue and the talent program.

as Southern Rhodesia or Mozambique.

But this is not considered now to be a serious possibility, especially as South Africa's shrewd Premier Hendrik P. Verwoerd knows well that any hint of interference by his government in African affairs beyond South Africa's borders would be provocative and an invitation to the black African lands to take militant reprisals.

The main deterrents to African support for a "liberation" of Mozambique consist of indecision over which of two rival Mozambique nationalist groups to back, reluctance to move until Portugal has been given a final chance to decolonize, and hesitation to act until the West has been granted a last chance to persuade Portugal by economic and diplomatic pressures.

The new militancy of African leaders following Addis Ababa appears to have cut short patience on all these points.

Mozambique . . .

believe Mozambique to be the more vulnerable of the two big territories.

The recent statement of Tanganyikan President Nyerere in London that his country might be forced to follow India's lead on Goa in dealing with Mozambique is significant. Mr. Nyerere is one of the most responsible and intelligent leaders in Africa. He is not given to bombast or idle threats. He is known to be reluctant to see the final stage of decolonization in Africa turn into bloodshed. But, as one of the primary leaders of the Addis Ababa unity movement he is also aware of the need to continue the momentum gained at that meeting.

Another factor in the possible eastward shifting of African moves to "liberate" the southern part of the continent is the push for an East African federation. Mr. Nyerere and Kenya's Jomo Kenyatta have forced a relatively rapid pace toward creating such a federation, which could extend from Somalia to Tanganyika.

If this group of fledgling states should coagulate, and if it could add Mozambique to its coastline, it would not only be able to strengthen its own power, it would be in a much stronger position to influence events in white-ruled Southern Rhodesia inland from Mozambique and to attract Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland into the federation.

Mozambique is in a primitive state of development. Its 60,000 Europeans are isolated among more than 100 times as many Africans in a land larger than Spain.

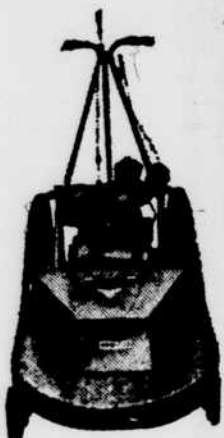

It is estimated that a small number of guerrilla-protected demolition experts could play havoc with the vital rail and road connections linking the Rhodesias and the Congo-Rhodesia mining belt to the sea.

Mozambique is more isolated strategically from Lisbon than is Angola, where Portuguese forces have been concentrated since the outbreak of two years ago. There have been reports here of some sentiment in South Africa for aiding whites in any battle on such outposts of Southern African territory is the 22 billion dollar market of 20 million Negroes, now more than half of them concentrated in the larger cities from coast to coast, covered most directly and effectively by their own Negro newspapers — written by, for and about them.

Why does a Negro want to read a Negro newspaper when there are general newspapers all around him?

Why does an American tourist in London want an American newspaper when there are British newspapers, also in English, all around him? Because it's his newspaper.

The Negro newspaper which reflects the Negro's changing world, his hopes and ambitions, his achievements and rewards satisfies his special interest.

The Negro's special interest is being a Negro.

The great sleeper in the field of sales strategy today is recognized by farsighted, discerning advertisers and agencies as where 25% of the population in 78 larger cities across the nation are Negroes, where Negro newspapers are the surest, shortest route to the minds and hearts of fastest-growing, increasingly prosperous part of our population.

THE UNCOMMON MARKET
