about here there have no heart burnings stolen to disturb the general and felicitous harmony...

I wish it indeed; but depend upon it, the time must come—Mexico and B'ris agree—oil and water unite first—I look at the smooth, win-like look of old Billy Oakes...

True, my dear fellow. Why, let me tell you, the moment that springs up what they term a revival, then commences the strife. You will see hundreds of the little try drooping in, and it excites no commotion; but let Dr. Hall go by the board, and one or two more join the Methodist, and no two can date ever elect—never more strenuously...

Stay, Tom, those are not the tones of distress. She is in anxious conversation with some one in the orchard. Let us withdraw.

Caroline said a deep-toned voice, are you not mine by promise? Have you not told me that you loved me, and that you would at a proper time be mine?
