BACHELOR'S TRIAL.

The Prosecution Closes Its Evidence and Rests the Case.

The Defense Will Now Endeavor to Explain the Defendant's Dealings With the Bank.

HELENA, April 19.—The trial of H. F. Batchelor, of the suspended Stockgrowers bank of Miles City, in the United States court yesterday, the examination of Witness Wilson was concluded. E. E. Batchelor, a cousin of the defendant, was called by the prosecution. He showed that Maples & Stuart to whose credit money was deposited in 1889, were contractors and builders of the defendant's house. He could not remember whether the defendant made payments to the Electric Light company in 1888. He said that when he bought ten shares of stock of the defendant, he gave his note for $1,000, which defendant discounted at the bank, using the proceeds in the bank funds himself; that on Dec. 1, 1892, he had by the defendant's direction, written a letter and sent back a $20,000 note to W. R. Stebbins, which note was on account of stock purchases from Stebbins, and that the moneys deposited and sent to Stebbins on that day were in payment of the amounts due from defendant to Stebbins for the purchase of stock, and were sent and deposited by defendant's direction. The draft for $3,250 sent to the Billings estate was sent by defendant from the bank money, and he sent at the same time two notes for $5,000 each, and also three certificates of stock of fifty shares each, which he understood were to be held by the Billings estate and returned from time to time as the amount paid on the notes justified. He said that he sent these papers by express at the direction of defendant, and that the drafts and notes represented the purchase price of the stock. A letter signed by himself as cashier was enclosed in the express package, and no copy of that letter appeared to have been made in the bank letter copy book. As to the election expense items, the witness said that the moneys were paid out, but not on account of any election expenses that they were paid month by month as interest on the county deposits; that wherever the entries were in his own handwriting witness had paid over the moneys. He knew nothing of the arrangements of this transaction except what defendant had told him, and all the entries he made and payments he made were at the direction of the defendant. He also said that the item of $1,000, entered as paid Merrill on account of bank salary, was also for interest on account of the county funds.

The cross-examination elicited the amount of the county balances in the bank at the end of each month, and that it could not make any difference in the end of the bank whether this sum was charged to expense or interest account. He showed in whose handwriting each entry was in the book on this subject, and said that his own had been transferred and was in the possession of H. F. Batchelor, though it did not show upon the books of the bank. He also testified that it was bookkeeper Harmon's duty to copy the letters. On re-direct examination he admitted that he wrote the letter to the Billings estate, and that he himself sent it in an express package, and that it was customary for him to put such letters as he wished to have copies of upon Harmon's desk.

County Recorder Swerdinger was recalled and produced a certified copy of a mortgage from Newman to the bank, given on the day that it closed and recorded at 6 p. m. of that day.

Assessor Newman, re-called, testified to the value of the property included in the mortgage and the amount realized upon a sale of the property. He also identified some partnership articles between himself and J. W. Batchelor, saying that the articles were executed by the defendant on behalf of his father and that his father was not in the country at the time.

Capt. Harmon, a director and vice-president of the bank up to February 9, 1893, was called, and testified that he had talked with defendant about the purchase of the Klawre and Billings estate stock, saying that it was a surprise to him that defendant should have done so, as defendant had control of the bank, and asked why he did it, and defendant gave him no answer. He also testified as to the second talk had with defendant afterwards at the Hotel Helena, in Helena, in which defendant said to him that he had never taken one dollar of the bank's funds to buy stock in the bank, and said that defendant had never told him that he (defendant) was borrowing the bank's money to pay for the Stebbins stock.

Col. George Scheetz, a director testified that he had never been informed by the defendant that he was using the bank's money either upon his own or his father's paper for the purpose of paying for the Stebbins stock, and that in a talk with defendant at the Hotel Helena in November last defendant had said to him that of the moneys owing by him to the bank he had used about $6,500 on his dwelling house, about $3,500 he had paid to the Electric Light company, $2,000 in support of his father's family, a couple of thousand for charities and $12,000 for bank stock and the rest was for interest.

E. W. Prosser testified that the individual indebtedness of defendant standing in his own name at the date of the suspension was over $40,000; that the indebtedness standing in the name of J. W. Batchelor was $12,300; that the indebtedness existing on January 1, 1891, of both of them was $12,700, and that of this amount $1,540 was in the name of his father J. W. Batchelor, and that the balance was in the name of defendant. He also verified the statements made by the other experts, saying that he had prepared it, being assisted in its preparation by the witness, Leo Harmon.

The prosecution also offered a letter from the comptroller, asking defendant whether the J. W. Batchelor notes represented his own indebted or were commercial paper, and the reply of the defendant thereto, insisting that they were of the latter class of paper.

The case for the prosecution rested here, and the defendant begins the introduction of testimony this morning.

Dr. Mitchell's Beautiful Home Burned.

DEER LODGE, April 19.—Dr. A. A. Mitchell's new house on Missouri avenue that promised to be one of the most beautiful and hospitable homes in the state, was burned to the ground this morning about 4:30. One of the guards at the state penitentiary, returning to his home after his night's duty, discovered the fire and at once gave the alarm. The fire company responded promptly, but the building, valued at nearly $50,000, was doomed a structure. Dr. Mitchell intended to occupy his new home in the course of a month, and its destruction is a great blow to him. It was insured for $15,000. It is generally supposed the fire was the result of combustion.

Montana Appointments.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The president has sent the following nominations to the senate: Registers of land offices: Charles S. Wright, at Miles City, Mont.; David Hilger, at Lewiston, Mont.; W. E. Cox, at Helena, Mont. Receivers of public money: James G. Romsey, at Miles City, Mont.; John P. Barnes, at Lewiston, Mont.; Jeremiah Collins, at Helena.

Commodore Skerrett to be rear admiral; Capt. Joseph N. Miller to be commodore.

Silver is Going Away by Tons.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The steamer Majestic will take out tomorrow 300,000 ounces of silver and 25,000 Mexican dollars. The steamer New York takes out tomorrow 50,000 ounces of silver.

The Very Largest Lump of Gold.

The very largest lump of gold ever seen in this country was on exhibition in San Francisco in June, 1892. It was not a natural nugget, like some of the monsters described in previous gold items in "Notes For the Curious." It was a gigantic cone shaped ingot, rough and dingy, just as it came from the slag pot of the Harqua Hala mine in Arizona. It was the product of 45 days' run at the mine mentioned, weighed 357 pounds and was valued at $120,000.—St. Louis Republic.

The English sovereign's sons and grandsons, when created peers, are entitled to seats in the house of lords at the left of the throne, but when, by the death of their father, they become only collaterally related to the sovereign, they sit among the dukes.

Growing blackberries and mushrooms, by law, are not private property in England. One may be prosecuted for trespass on land where they grow, but not for theft in taking them.

Persons desiring the Anaconda Standard or Helena Independent, may have them delivered anywhere within the fire limits each morning for 25c a week. Inquire of William Gordon.

Clean the Alleys.

Notice is hereby given to the owners or occupants of property abutting on the alleys of this city, that all ashes, manure or other refuse matter must be removed without unnecessary delay.

E. S. JACKSON, Health Officer.

This Time Last Year.

For the convenience of those who wish to make comparisons and for the benefit of others who can never remember, the JOURNAL will hereafter keep standing a table of the corresponding month of last year, showing day by day the principal meteorological conditions, as obtained from the record kept by the United States weather observer in this city. Following is the record for April, 1893:

The figures in the right hand column denote the average thermometer reading for the day. The coldest snap during the month was 16 on the night of the 8th. The warmest was 76 on the afternoon of the 7th. The average for the month was 40 above zero. Total amount of rain and melted snow during the month was 1.45 inches.

In the Spring.

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine. The impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the cold months must be expelled, or when the mild days come, and the effect of bracing air is lost, the body is liable to be overcome by debility or some serious disease. The remarkable success achieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the many words of praise it has received, make it worthy your confidence. We ask you to give this medicine a trial. We are sure it will do you good. Read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla, all from reliable, grateful people. They tell the story.

Petroleum.

"The value of petroleum to the arts and sciences is simply incalculable," said Walter Francis, a gentleman who knows all about oil. "Of course every one is familiar with the chemicals that are separated from the liquid in the course of its refinement, but how few know that most of the carbon used in electric lights comes from the action it exerts upon metal. Yes, sir, the edges of the pots in which crude petroleum is refined are now chipped off and sold to the electric companies, as the action of the intense heat upon the mixture has the effect of forming almost pure carbon on the rims."—Detroit News.
