JOE CARPENTER DIES
AFTER BOOZE PARTYWhile Riding in Car on Hiway,
Sunday, With Three Other
Indian Boys.

Joe Carpenter, 24-year-old son of James Carpenter, secretary of the Crow Tribal council, died late last Saturday night on the road between Wyola and the Little Horn canyon, following a drinking party with several of his Indian friends, among whom were Harry Wallace, William Backbone and Peter Old Bull, who, after spending some time at Lodge Grass, decided to go to Wyola in Peter Old Bull's car. At Spear Siding they met up with several other Indians, among them, Joe Carpenter, who was then considerably under the influence of liquor. He went with them.

On the way they stopped at the home of a Filipino, from whom Joe is alleged to have bought some moonshine, said to be of very bad quality. Joe took the first drink, after they had resumed their journey, and soon passed completely out. They breakfasted at the Allen Hunts the Arrow home, about a mile and a half above Wyola, all of them but Joe, who was apparently too drunk to get out of the car. After breakfast they started towards Wyola. When a short distance away, Joe roused up somewhat and appeared ill. He asked Peter to stop the car, at the same time opening the door and toppling out onto the running board, before the car came to a stop, but was not badly hurt.

FLEET OF 75 CHEVROLETS
TO CARRY LEGIONNAIRESTo American Legion National Convention at Miami, Fla.,
October 22-25.

American Legion delegates from Chicago to the national convention at Miami, Fla., October 22-25, will make the trip in a motorcade of 75 new Chevrolets. Five trucks will follow the caravan carrying baggage and band instruments.

The Chevrolet Motor company has donated the huge fleet, with blue bodies and gold wheels, the legion colors, and the sides of each car will bear the insignia of the veterans' organization. On arrival at Miami, the cars will be used as "official courtesy" cars to take care of the legion's distinguished guests who will attend the convention.

The Chicago legionnaires, 350 in all, will be accompanied by the pete with the drum and bugle corps. At Miami they will compete with the drum and bugle corps from other legion posts for national honors.

On the way, this Chevrolet motorcade will bring a touch of the national convention to scores of cities and towns. At many points local posts are arranging ceremonies of entertainment for the Chicago delegates. The return trip to Chicago will include visits to important points along the Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bundy, from Kilmundy, Ill., have returned to their home after a three-weeks' visit in the homes of their daughters, Mrs. Robert B. Saunders of Hardin and Mrs. E. S. Heyduck, who resides south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Ross, who have been guests of their parents, the R. P. Ross and A. Buzzetti families, are returning next Sunday to their home at Helena, where Mr. Ross has a government position as auditor in the state income tax department.

On Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 1 p. m., Ralph S. Thrush and DeLores Thomas, both from Lawyer, Wyo., were united in marriage by Rev. N. E. Hannant, the witnesses being Wayne G. Thomas, brother of the bride, and Mrs. N. E. Hannant. The ring ceremony was used. The group went that afternoon for a short visit to Billings after which the young newly-weds will make their home on their ranch near Lawyer.

and went on through Wyola a short distance, when Harry Wallace, in the back seat with Carpenter, remarked that he believed Joe was dead or dying. The boys looked at him, and realizing he was dead immediately drove to the house of James Carpenter, about four miles southeast of Lodge Grass, took him out of the car and carried him into his father's house and laid him on the bed, leaving immediately without giving the parents any information.

Mr. Carpenter called Dr. Linsen from Crow Agency, who pronounced Joe dead. Coroner John W. Bullis was then called and made an investigation, finding that Joe Carpenter came to his death from heart failure, apparently due to excessive drinking of moonshine. According to the investigation he had been drinking heavily about a year. The boys who were with him in the car were brought before the coroner by Harvey Young Swallow, chief of the Indian police, and their

JUDGE G. M. BOURQUIN
SPEAKS TO LARGE CROWDHarriet Theatre Is Packed at Senatorial Candidate's Appearance Here.

On Monday evening the Harriet theatre was filled to capacity for the meeting arranged by the Republican club to present Judge Geo. M. Bourquin to the voters of Hardin and vicinity. The Hardin school band and a free show were preliminary attractions which successfully, not only filled every seat, but for some time the standing room in the aisles and out through the lobby. During the intermission before the address, enough children and others vacated their places so that people waiting outside were able to gain admission.

Judge Bourquin held the close attention of his audience during his review of the political and business situation as we see it today. The blaming of Hoover for all our woes he deemed unjust and based on a false idea, the beginning of the trouble going back to the World war and our participation in it, when hundreds of thousands were slain, billions of dollars spent and claims to more billions in pensions, hospitalization and bonus demands were made possible.

The political cry of two years ago was to reduce the number of bureaus in government service, live within the budget and decrease public debt. Yet he showed that in the nineteen months of Roosevelt's administration four new bureaus had been created, 100,000 additional clerks hired and the national debt increased $7,000,000,000. The old laws controlling trusts have been set aside and trusts are now flourishing at the expense of small business concerns. The Judge declared the calling in of all gold, with threats of punishment for failure to give up all gold money, was as illegal as to demand the turning in of everyone's auto without due process of law; he also claimed the removal of Johnson as N. R. A. administrator was an admission of the failure of the whole program that has "put us on our way" without being able to tell us where we are going. So a "New Deal" has to be planned, which has created fear and uncertainty and restrains confidence.

Bourquin scored points against the way in which all business is being regulated, especially farming, and predicted the coming of

JAMES LAHEY OF PRYOR
CREEK FOUND MURDEREDBody Lying Under Daybed With Quilt Hanging Over Front of Bed to Hide It.

Pryor creek is the scene of a murder mystery. The body of James Lahey, who resided on a 40-acre tract on Pryor creek, about 16 miles up the creek from where the Custer Battlefield highway crosses Pryor creek, bearing three bullet wounds, was found Tuesday lying under a daybed in a corner of his cabin. A bed quilt had been pulled over the edge to the floor, thus preventing a casual discovery of the body. Lahey, who was an old-time cowboy and known locally as the "wild Irishman," had been dead probably a couple of weeks. His ranch being in Yellowstone county, the crime is being investigated by the officers of that county.

The cabin door had been locked on the outside and Lahey's saddle horse, saddle and blanket are missing, probably stolen by the murderer. It is said that Lahey possessed some money and that he made loans to neighbors. He had

GAS WELL COMPLETED
WITHIN CITY LIMITSKnown Area of Gas Sand Extended Considerably by Successful Completion

That the citizens of Hardin are to have a supply of natural gas for many years to come was assured this week by the bringing in of a gas well on the Hardin Motor & Supply Co. lots between Third and Railway streets, a short distance from the Burlington depot. This extends the Hardin gas field considerably south of the wells of the Big Horn Oil & Gas Dev. Co., which has been supplying Hardin with natural gas since 1928. The new well is structurally higher than the gas company's wells and apparently is a good, commercial producer. Whether more wells will be drilled within the city limits is not known at the present. Permission to drill within the city limits is a matter which must be taken up by the city council and the state railroad and public service commission.

(Bud) Novark and two children, Bernard and Beverly, returned Wednesday evening from a four days' visit with relatives at the old home at Virginia City and at Sheridan, 20 miles away. While at the ancient capital, Bud went fishing and brought home with him one of the largest specimens of Rainbow trout that has been seen in Hardin in a long time. The speckled beauty measures almost 30 inches in length and tipped the beam at a little better than eight pounds. It was caught in a hole in Alder gulch, the famous placer mining stream of early days, at a point about a mile below Virginia City, with an ordinary fly hook. It is on display at the Hardin Meat Market, where it has attracted a lot of attention, the past couple of days.
