Notice to Tax Payers.
Treasurer's office, Choteau, Montana; October 7th, 1901.
State and County Taxes for the year 1901, are now due and payable at this office. If not paid on or before 6 o'clock p. m. of Saturday, November 30th, 1901, the law requires an addition of ten per cent to the amount of said taxes, and that property upon which taxes are delinquent shall be immediately advertised for sale, or seized and sold for the payment of said taxes and costs.
Respectfully,
JOHN S. GORDON,
Treasurer, Teton county, Mont.

Fatal Accident.
Coroner Magee received a communication from A. E. Paisley, of Milk river, last Saturday, stating that a young man named William Hanrotte had received injuries that had resulted in his death. It appears that Hanrotte was hauling wood from the mountains and was thrown from the loaded wagon, the wheels passing over his stomach and hips. As he did not return at the usual time, Mr. Paisley started to hunt for him, and found him lying where he was hurt. Mr. Paisley secured help from Henry Powell's and took the injured man to his home. He explained the circumstances of the accident, and was rational until his death which occurred about three hours after he was injured. The neighbors examined the body and found the hips crushed in. As their appeared to be no reason to doubt his story of the accident he was buried near Mr. Paisley's ranch.
From the statement of facts by Mr. Paisley Coroner Magee concluded that an inquest is unnecessary unless further information tends to raise some question.

Just An Ordinary Pipe.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 18.—"A surprising story told in Detroit today by a prominent Mich., young society woman of Petoskey, who is visiting friends here, but who does not wish to be quoted. She says that since the condemnation of Czolgosz the wives of three of the most prominent citizens of that place have received anonymous letters, threatening them with assassination. The letters state that the recipient is one of one hundred women throughout the United States selected to be killed in retaliation for the execution of the assassin of President McKinley. Mrs. H. O. Rose, of one the women who has been threatened, is the wife of one of the wealthiest real estate men of that part of Michigan; a second is the wife of Attorney Wachtell and the third is the wife of Judge Newberry. The matter has been in the hands of the sheriff and is causing a great deal of excitement."

De Wet Reported Killed.
Durban, Natal, Oct. 19.—General De Wet's recent inactivity has produced the impression among military men that he is either dead or incapacitated through illness or wounds. According to a letter from Pretoria a prominent Boer recently wrote a friend there relating the terrible hardships suffered by the Boers in the field, especially from a lack of surgeons. "De Wet, for example," wrote the Boer, "suffered the most terrible agony before he died. He was wounded in the shoulder by a splinter from a shell, and the wound gangrened in consequence of its being dressed with dirty rags."
Five Boers captured at different places recently said De Wet was dead, but gave a different version of his death. Against these reports is a statement of Piet De Villiers, the field cornet recently prisoner in the northwestern part of the Orange River Colony, who said that on the morning of his capture he took breakfast with General De Wet.

Dennis Halpin Dead.
Dennis Halpin, who came to Fort Benton between 30 and 35 years ago and who for the past seven years had made his home at the Columbus hospital, died at that institution yesterday at 1 o'clock from paralysis.
For many years he was janitor at the Fort Benton court house, and while there managed to lay up a small amount of money, which he always said was for his declining years.
In 1894 he grew sick and decided that he would take what little money he had and come to the hospital to spend the remainder of his days. With this decided upon he bade his friends there good-by, and that is the last time he had been back.
He was a native of Ireland, aged 78 years. He has no known relative, but has been heard to speak of a brother in Ireland.
The body is at McAllister's and will be shipped to Fort Benton Monday morning.—G. F. Tribune.

The Wreck of the "Julie Plante."
A TALE OF LAC ST. PIERRE.
ON wan dark night on Lac Saint Pierre,
De win' she blow, blow, blow,
An' de crew of the wood scow 'Julie Plante'
Got scart' an' run below—
For de win' she blow lak' hurricain,
Bimeby she blow some more.
An' de scow bus' h'up on Lac St. Pierra,
Wan h'arpent from de shore.
De captinne walk h'on de fronte deck,
An' walk de hin' deck, too.
He call de crew from h'up de 'ole,
He call de cook h'also.
De cook she's name was Rosie,
She's come from Montreal,
Was chambre maid h'on lombraire barge,
Ho'n de Grand la Chine Canal.
De win' she's blow from nor'eass wess—
De sou't' win' she's blow, too,
Wen Rosie cry, "Mon cher captinne,
Mon cher, w'at I shall do?"
Den de captinne trow de 'big h'ankerro,
But steel de scow she dreef.
De crew he can't pass on de shore,
Becos he loss hees skeef.
De night was dark lak' wan black cat,
De wave run 'igh and fas',
Wen de captinne tak' de poor Rosie,
An' tie her to de mast'.
Den he h'also tak' de life preserve,
An' jump h'off on de lak',
An' say, "Good-bye, ma Rosie dear,
I go down for your sak'."
Nex' morning very t'early
'Bout ha't pas' two—tree—four—
De captinne—scow—an' 'de poor Rosie
Was corpses on de shore.
For de win' she blow lak' hurricain,
Bimeby she blow some more,
An' de scow bus' h'up on Lac St. Pierra,
Wan h'arpent from de shore.
MORAL.
Now, h'all good wood-scow sailor man,
Tait' warning by dat storm,
An' go an' marry some nice French girl,
An' leev on one beeg farm.
De win' can blow lak' hurricain,
An' s'pose she blow some more,
You can't get down h'on Lac St. Pierre,
So long you stay h'on shore.

Have Reached the Sea.
Capetown, Oct. 17.—The invaders have reached the sea, a commando of 500 men having penetrated through the rich great Berg valley to Hoppsfeld and Saldanha bay, northwest of Capetown. The republicans have required a number of recruits and considerable quantities of supplies. General French is directing the operations against them.

State Will Protect Lessees.
At a meeting of the state board of land commissioners last week, County Attorney Gormley, of Cascade county was directed to take the necessary action to put in possession of certain lands in that county the person to whom the state leased the land. This lease was executed some time since to Louis Wasman. At the time that the lease was made Michael Krommers was on the land, and he occupied, in view of the board, the position of a trespasser. He refused to surrender possession of the land, and Attorney General Donovan was asked for an opinion in the matter. It was to the effect that the lessee must himself get possession. But in the same opinion, according to a statement of one of the clerks in the land office, the attorney general held that rent could not be collected from the lessee until he had possession.

Train Robbers Escape Again.
The capture of the bandits who held up the Great Northern overland express at Wagner, Mont., July 3, securing $43,000 in bank notes, officials of the Great Northern Express company say, has been seriously delayed by the announcement of the capture at Nashville of Annie Rogers, alias Maude Williams, supposed to be connected with the gang. Before her arrest the Pinkerton agency and police officers had plans which seemed to assure a speedy capture of the robbers.

Vice President and General Manager Elliott of the express company said yesterday that no further news had been received at headquarters, and that he did not look for the immediate arrest of the gang.
"This woman, according to my advices," Mr. Elliott said, "was in communication with one of the robbers at New Orleans. When that man read the account of her capture in this morning's papers he probably disappeared at once. If her arrest had not been made public we would probably have secured him and perhaps the rest of the men. Their capture will probably come sooner or later, but it has been delayed.

"The published account of the arrest of the Rogers woman is correct. She walked into the bank and asked to exchange part of the stolen notes for others of larger denomination. She was of course, arrested at once."
Mr. Elliott says that the express company does not know how the bandits escaped from the mountains south of Wagner while pursued, nor what their movements since have been. The identification made at the time, he says, has been substantiated. Trainmen on the overland have identified photographs of the suspected men as pictures of the robbers.

For Cattle Stealing.
Stock Inspector Lund returned yesterday from Browning, where he arrested Robt. Hamilton on Wednesday for cattle stealing. Hamilton will have a hearing before Justice Dawes at Shelby, where he is now confined, upon the return of important witnesses from Chicago, where they have gone with beef. The steer he is charged with stealing is a five or six-year-old bearing the monogram JH of the Conrad-Harris Cattle company of this city, whose range is on the Marias. After taking it up he turned it in to J. H. Sherburne, the Browning trader, who has a beef contract at the Piegan agency, accounting for the brand being different from his own by saying that he had got it from Jos. Howard, formerly of Choteau. Howard denies that he ever had or claimed the steer and says that, though he did trade one to Hamilton, it did not even remotely resemble the JH steer.—River Press.
