John A. Farmer, Bozeman, has purchased 14 lots in the Damtown area and is starting construction on several cabins.

Friends of Norman Richleau gathered together Sunday and had a old fashioned house raising party. The men worked while the women prepared a big picnic lunch. Norman is still a bachelor. His friend Bill tells us that a party will soon be in order and the house will be carried across the threshold.

Harold and Homer Bauers are putting in a sidewalk in front of their place.

Art and Ray Tangmo, Seattle and Missoula, purchased one of the Nash buildings in South Fork. They will open a shoe store.

Must have been written about the North Fork. Old mother nature is really knocking herself out up in these parts.

The Forest service crew have repaired the bridges at Trail creek and Whale creek and washout at Rabbit hill.

The summer home of Dr. Culvertson, Kalispell, located near Kintla ranch, was carried away by the high water of the Flathead river.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wilson and two sons moved from Kalispell to Kintla ranch May 28.

Mrs. E. P. Jex and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holcomb called on Mr. and Mrs. R. Stevenson at the Canadian customs station Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holcomb are spending a few days in Kalispell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jex, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Block, and Mrs. Dan Block spent a couple of days in Kalispell this week. When they returned, Mr. Block was driving a new Mercury. Nice going, Walt.

Now that your correspondent has a bicycle to make the four mile trek to the mail box and back, her dogs have invented a new game. They call it "Let's run in front of her and see which one gets bumped first." This winter their favorite game was "Let's go to the dump pile and see who can carry the most home."

Never a dull moment here.

TRADER MONTY
They Say I Give Stuff Away!!!!

Well, that's sorta true, at that. Cause the only kind of prices you'll find at the old Montana Trading Post are GIVE-AWAY prices. Of course, I do expect my customers to leave just a LITTLE money—but they always find that pennies do the work of dollars here.

Army Officer Type
DRESS OXFORDS
$5.95

Wear 'em on your feet — wear 'em on your hands — but at this price you can't afford NOT to wear 'em someplace! Brown shoes with plain toe — take high polish. All sizes. Underpriced about 4 bucks.

Get Out — And Stay Out!
OK

And don't go back in the house till winter comes. Enjoy the great outdoors while you can — and here's just the stuff to help you do it:

- Air Mattress $12.95
It's 72 inches long, 27 inches wide. For inflated comfort at a deflated price.
- Army Flashlight $1.15
Brand new, complete with two batteries and a bulb. It's heavy on one end, but LIGHT on the other.
- Canteen, cover & cup 65c
The government's not the ONLY bunch with a surplus of these things. We got 'em, too!
- Insect Repellent 10c
The pest is none too good. Get rid of him!
- 10" Half Round File 27c
This is a gen-u-line Kearney & Foot file that'd cost you 95c most anywhere else. Just the right size to bake into a cake.
- DuPont Car Wax 65c
Large can of Speedy Wax—the EASY way to make your old car look like a 1949 model. Of course, there's one little technicality—you gotta apply the stuff, then polish it.
- Coat Rack $1.59
Slips over the seat of your car — holds 12 coat hangers. Now you won't be wiping your feet on that "other" suit of clothes.

I got two things to remind you of: (1) Listen to my radio show over your Z Bar Network station every morning at 11:45. (2) Order the things by mail if you can't get into the store.
