DEMANDS TO BE MADE THURSDAY
 State Metal Trades Council Agrees on Proposed Wage Scale.

The agreement reached by the strike committee and the Montana Power company. President Frank J. McNulty of the international union will lead the fight of the conservatives for the ratification of the agreement, while R. F. Dunne, chairman of the strike committee, in an effort to keep the miners tied up, will lead the radicals in their fight against the adoption of the agreement.

Heavy Vote Polled.
 A heavy vote is being polled at Flinn hall, where the Metal Mine Workers' union is today holding a referendum on the question of affiliation with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers of the American Federation. Long before the polls opened at 9 a. m. there was a crowd of miners ready to vote and all morning and well into the afternoon the line in waiting to vote ran from 50 to 100 men. The polls close at 9 o'clock this evening.

Tom Campbell and other leaders in the Butte Metal Mine Workers' union are making capital of a statement made by Executive Committee member William Davidson of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers to the effect that affiliation with the American Federation in this instance can only be made by the miners as individuals and that if the union votes for affiliation, the executive committee would order them back to work for the reason that the Moyer organization has not authorized a strike in the Butte district. This statement, issued by the union's press committee, is being handed to each voter.

Spite of the fact that this construction leads inevitably to the conclusion that the Metal Workers' union could not exist in case of affiliation, those in favor of joining with the Moyer organization have not given up the fight. George I. Eckman, one of the charter members of the Metal Mine Workers' union, who has taken a leading part in the campaign for affiliation, declared today that he believed the Butte miners would yet join the American Federation.

Claims a Victory.
 "I do not concede that the union has gone against affiliation," he said this afternoon. "I believe the majority of the miners of this district want to be allied with the American Federation of Labor as they know that only through such alliance can they win their demands. There will be a big vote this evening."

"You may say for me," added Mr. Eckman, "that I am about to bring suit for damages against the Metal Mine Workers' union for accusing me of doing business with the Sixth floor. In a bulletin that was called to my attention this morning I find they have made this charge and I propose to give them a chance to prove it."

"Muckie" McDonald, president of the organization that went to Arizona a friend telegraphed him to "beat it to Butte" as the "thing was going fine." At that time Muckie had left Globe. It was said by some of his old associates here that he has been working recently on the Pacific coast. At any event, Muckie is back in Butte.

Takes a New Turn.
 Tom Campbell and the leaders of the Metal Mine Workers' union were much disturbed last night when it was reported that affiliation with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers will mean that the miners must return to work and that they cannot join the Moyer organization as a body, but must do so as individuals.

The report came from a committee that had waited upon William Davidson, member of the executive board of the International Mine, Mill and Smeltermen's union. The committee put the question fairly before Mr. Davidson, who replied that the men if they join the international union will have to go to work as the Moyer union has not declared a strike. Furthermore the miners will have to join the Moyer organization as individuals, declared Mr. Davidson. Regarding the question of wages, Mr. Davidson told the committee that it will have to be taken up in the regular manner as provided by the rules of the Moyer organization and the American Federation of Labor.

Campbell and his lieutenants then decided to make a final effort to prevent affiliation. This consisted in the issuance of the following campaign bulletin by the press committee of the Metal Mine Workers:

Issues a Bulletin.
 "The statement made by William Davidson of the executive board of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers to the effect that affiliation with the American Federation in this instance can only be made by the miners as individuals, and that if the union votes for affiliation, the executive committee would order them back to work, and that the Metal Mine Workers' organization would not be recognized, but the members would be required to enter as individuals."

Executive Committee member Davidson of the International Mine, Mill and Smeltermen's union lost no time in answering the Campbell campaign circular. Davidson's answer consists of the following statement:

 "Owing to mistakes that may arise or misstatements that have or may be made, we desire to state that upon ratification by the miners of this district with the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers of the A. F. of L. that as soon as the representatives of the local miners' district council can be selected to act with the like committee from the Building Trades council, the Metal Trades council as a joint committee, that thereupon united action will be utilized by this committee, in conjunction with the international representatives to secure every result possible, favorable to the miners. The demands of the organized international labor movement of this district."

Radicals Turned Down.
 The Silver Bow Trades and Labor assembly at its weekly meeting last night ousted the radicals, which had been in control for the past six months, by electing J. B. Finley president over A. M. Scott, who held the position. Finley is one of the conservative labor men, he being also financial secretary of Carpenters' union. He has been identified with the labor movement here for 20 years.

R. F. Dunne, chairman of the strike committee of the electricians and the man who has been trying to keep the copper output of Butte tied up, was defeated for the secretaryship by D. Farrell. The vote was 29 to 28. Farrell also is recognized as one of the conservative labor men of the district.

E. R. Torrey had no opposition for the president and Benjamin Benefield was elected statistician without opposition.

Senator Walsh to Act.
 At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Metal Mine Workers' union a message from United States Senator T. J. Walsh was read in which the senator declared he had prepared a resolution for a congressional probe of the Butte labor situation. A copy of the resolution which Senator Walsh wrote and plans to introduce in the senate provides for an appropriation of $25,000 for an investigation into the labor troubles as well as the Granite Mountain mine disaster. In drafting his resolution, Senator Walsh writes he was inspired by reports that German influences are responsible for the Butte tieup.

Under the resolution the inquiry would be conducted by a board, one member to be chosen by the senate, another by the house of representatives and the third member to be the director of the bureau of mines. The resolution provides for an investigation of the "strike at Butte, Mont., and others occurring in states west of the Mississippi river within the past six months and also to inquire into the cause of the said fire and into the precautions that are being taken to prevent similar catastrophes in the metal mines in said region."

The commission under the resolution would report to congress on or before Dec. 1 next.

The Senator's Letter.
 In his letter accompanying a copy of the resolution and addressed to John Doran, chairman of the press committee, Metal Mine Workers' union, Senator Walsh said:
 "I received some days ago a copy of the resolution adopted by the Metal Mine Workers' union on Saturday, June 23, in which a congressional investigation is asked first as to the appalling disaster at the North Butte and, second, as to the grievances in consequence of which the prevailing strike was called."
 "I was horrified at the catastrophe referred to, the most horrible, so far as I can recall, that has occurred in the history of Butte, and I am disposed, as I wired you, to ask an inquiry by the bureau of mines. We have charged that department of the government with the general duty of investigating preventable accidents in mines and educating those engaged in the hazardous work of mining in methods calculated to reduce fatalities. The federal government having thus assumed to exercise jurisdiction over that subject, it would not be inappropriate to direct that investigation of sufficient importance to attract the attention of the nation."
 "I hesitated to introduce the resolution, however, because of the labor troubles which followed hard on the heels of the fire lest they should be intensified by any inconsiderate action on my part or on the part of congress."
 "I am sure that you have as profound a sense as I of the supreme importance of keeping the production of the mines up to any past record and to pass it if possible. The farmers throughout the country have been urged, on patriotic grounds, to plant every available acre. We need metal—copper, zinc, iron, aluminum—almost if not quite as badly as we do food and fuel. I find it difficult at this distance to get into intimate touch with the situation out there and have little ground for any opinion concerning the points of difference between the miners and the employers. I express the hope that whatever they are they may be composed in a spirit of devotion to our common country in this time of trial and extreme peril. But whatever the differences may be, there is ordinarily no ground for federal interference or a congressional inquiry into a strike, as you of course know. When labor troubles have persisted for a long time and it is charged that the local government has utterly broken down and laboring men can have no real remedy in the courts of the state, or when military courts are set up before which strikers are haled, and by which they are sent to the penitentiary without trial by jury, as was the case in connection with the strike some years ago in Colorado, Michigan and West Virginia, congressional investigations have been ordered, but there must be some basis for federal action to induce congress to move in the premises."
 "As to German influence."
 "There is only one basis of the strike now unhappily on in Butte that will afford ground for the congressional investigation, namely, the charge that German sympathizers and possibly German agents are responsible in some measure for the trouble. This charge has been made through the public press and by public officials. It would be quite proper for congress to direct an investigation into a strike to determine whether such an element in fact enter into it. In an inquiry as to whether a particular strike has such an origin, opportunity would of course be given to those directing it to disclose the truth about the matter and to make it plain that there is no seditious element in it, but that it arises by reason of grievances of a serious nature demanding immediate and appropriate redress. With these ideas in mind I have drafted a resolution of inquiry, copy of which is herewith sent you. I appreciate that it might be thought in some quarters that the resolution carries an implication and is engineered by German influences, but it will be recognized, upon a study of the resolution, that there is no such imputation. I certainly do not mean to chance it, but the charge has been made, and if the Metal Mine Workers' union is desirous there is no more certain way of securing it than to make the charge of seditious influences the groundwork upon which to appeal to congress."

REFUSE TO LET I. W. W.'S ENTER THE NEXT STATE

Have Many Complaints.
 Many of the I. W. W. claimed they had been victims of unfortunate circumstances and of the union miners and mine operators. Several said they had been forced to leave claims they were working near Jerome and join picket lines during the strike called Friday. One claimed he had been taken from his home four hours after his wife gave birth to a child. Many complained of the summary manner in which they were hustled out of Jerome.

Sheriff J. N. Cohenour telegraphed Gov. Thomas E. Campbell at Jerome asking what disposition should be made of the remaining 42 prisoners.

Meantime citizens held a meeting at the courthouse to decide the same question. The I. W. W.'s asked to be returned to Jerome.

GOVERNOR ORDERS THE SHERIFF TO RELEASE MEN
 Phoenix, Ariz., July 11.—The sheriff of Mohave county at Kingman today wired Governor Campbell, informing him that he had 61 I. W. W.'s detained there and asked what he should do with them. Governor Campbell wired back that unless he has some specific charge to place against them they should be released.

Governor Campbell gave out a statement in which he stated that nothing is to be gained by deporting the I. W. W.'s from place to place.

"It only means that the I. W. W. will eventually land in some weak spot in the state and then there will be the trouble," he said. "It is practically impossible to handle the I. W. W. situation legally in Arizona."

SETTLEMENT AT GLOBE SEEMS REMOTE TODAY
 Globe, Ariz., July 11.—Settlement of the copper miners' strike in Arizona, which have completely stopped production in the whole field and curtailed work a third, seemed remote today. Apparently both the mine owners and the strikers are unwilling to recede from their original positions.

Walter S. Douglas, president of the Phelps Dodge company, declared last night the mine owner could not treat either with the Industrial Workers of the World or with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers.

Fear of trouble over an order of Sheriff Tom Armer that only one picket would be allowed within an area of a quarter of a mile square was allayed by instructions from Gov. Thomas E. Campbell that the pickets were acting within their rights so long as they were peaceful.

Reports from Globe indicate that more men are returning to work there daily. The three principal companies operating in that district have served notice on their former employes that men who do not return to work by Friday will be treated as new applicants.

MOYER SAYS ARIZONA SITUATION IMPROVES
 Denver, Colo., July 11.—"The situation in Arizona is improving," said a statement issued by C. H. Moyer, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, today. "All our men have gone back to work at Jerome following a conference with officers of the United Verde company, and I believe that at Globe and Miami we will get together with the employees in a few days and effect a settlement."

DECORATOR PASSES AWAY.
 Joseph Meier, aged 33 years, one of the best decorators in the state, died this morning. He came here several years ago to do special painting and decorating on several residences and business houses and remained here up to the time of his death. He was a member of the Painters and Decorators' union. He is survived by two brothers. The remains are at the Daniels & Bilboa funeral parlors awaiting word from the brothers with regard to the funeral arrangements.

WISE GIRL.
 "Miss Bright is a practical girl, isn't she," said Jones.
 "She certainly is," agreed Smith.
 "She is wearing a gold engagement tooth. She needed the tooth, and she got her fiancé to pay for the tooth instead of buying her an engagement ring."

U. S. MARINES WORLD'S BEST
 Ed Stanley, Formerly of Post, Tells of Life on Mare Island.

"No wonder the United States marines are the finest soldiers in the world," writes Ed Stanley, formerly of the repertorial staff of the Post and now on Mare Island with the United States marine training barracks. Mr. Stanley is a graduate of the University of Montana. In part Mr. Stanley says, after explaining that a number of the boys were in San Francisco for a two days' holiday:
 "Montana's marines have made an impression on the island. Nearly 100 Montanans are here. They are making good at the job of learning to be soldiers."
 "In the July 4 field meet five of them scored heavily. Four of them, 'Dutch' Moulton, Harden, Halley and myself, were from Butte."
 "Friends would not know us now, tanned as we are beyond all recognition and hardened like gridiron athletes. We are working dafly in the sun, wind and rain to learn the difficult art of being marines."
 "The camp resembles a huge football training camp, there are so many college athletes and so much athletic activity. The men spend their time when not drilling playing like a class of freshmen turned loose on a gridiron field."
 "You should see us scrubbing clothes. Every man has to do his own laundry. It is a sight which would fill the home folks with joy. There is but one way and time to do everything from washing clothes to cleaning our teeth."
 "The spirits of all are high and we are anxious to cross the Atlantic."
 "In his letter Mr. Stanley, who is also a member of the Butte University club, conveys his kindest regards to all his friends here."

UNDERTAKERS.
 LEHN—Frederick W. Lehn, aged 54 years, died this morning. The body was removed to Richards' parlors. Announcement of the funeral will appear in later papers.
