WANTED A SOUND MAN.
Judge Horton said this morning that he believed that if he could find a good, sound man among those who came before him pleading for a commutation of his sentence he believed he would turn him loose. That so far every one that he had tried was weak, afflicted, and one thing or another the matter with them. That he had kept Dr. Smith the health officer busy running backwards and forwards making examinations of parties who had come before him in an effort to find if they really were the invalids they were represented to be.

OTHER COURT CASES TODAY
Superior court adjourned at noon today. The following cases other than the Moore and Evans cases were disposed of as follows. Lonnie Jackson was sent to the roads for three years for taking $40.00 from a negro woman.

Henry and Sidney Moore, two negro boys were given four months in jail for an assault on a negro woman named Horne.

Primus Jefferson was given six months on the road for securing the pay check of William Todd, also employed at the Southern Cotton Mills. He presented the ticket numbered 192 at the office and said that he was Todd. This case had come up from the mayor's court. Mr. C. H. Pearce, cashier for the oil company was the principal witness. He said that Jefferson had collected the money for another employee, but he was only tried this morning for the Todd offense. When he came in with the ticket Mr. Miller phoned for an officer, and the negro suspecting what was up, started to run. Officer Pearce said that he had never seen such running before, and it required a chase with an automobile to catch him.

A negro named William Pitts was given six months on the roads for breaking into the smokehouse of another negro with whom Pitts was staying, named James Ward and taking some meat. This is not the first time Pitts has been on the road.

Judge Horton called up Jesse Taylor whom he sentenced to the roads for being implicated in running a still with three other men, and asked Taylor if he helped to operate the still, and Taylor answered "no." Asked if he owned any of the still and he also replied in the negative. Asked how many times he went out to the still, Taylor replied only six or seven. Judge Horton then said, "let the first sentence stand, I wanted to give you a chance to tell the truth and you haven't done it, and I will not change the sentence."

MR. BLAUVELT IS VERY SICK.
The many friends of Mr. E. M. Blauvelt will regret to learn that he continues to be seriously ill. His sons, Messrs. Rodney and Robert Blauvelt, will arrive from Missouri shortly.

MISS ELISE TOWNSEND HOSTESS AT BRIDGE.
Miss Elise Townsend entertained at a bridge luncheon at the Country Club this morning in honor of Mrs. Robert E. Townsend, Jr., a recent bride.

The Valentine note was carried out in the decorations. Red carnations were used. The places were marked with heart shaped boxes filled with mints in the shape of tiny hearts. The tally cards were heart shaped. Miss Rebecca Mosley made the highest score and was presented the prize, a guest room ice water set. Mrs. Townsend, the guest of honor, was presented a pair of silk hose. Refreshments were served.

Those present were, Misses Susan Britt, Minnie Glass Whitaker, Jessie Burden, Eliza Carr, Margaret Gold, Neil Overman, Rebecca Eagles, Sonora Wilson of Tarboro, Theresa Williams, Lallah Rook Fleming, Ruby Lacy, Una Brogden, Rebecca Mosley, Margaret Rawlings, Virginia Williams and Hadley Woodard; Mesdames Robert E. Townsend, Jr., Tom Grantham, Irving Langley, Roscoe Fleming, W. T. Clark, Jr., Clifford Burden, L. P. McFarland, Douglas Aycock.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES R. HARPER ENTERTAIN
Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Harper entertained last night at their home on Nash street, in honor of Miss Eliza Carr, who on the 23rd of February is to be married to Mr. Richard Thorpe Smith.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Harper, Miss Carr with Mr. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carr, Miss Nannie McCraw with Mr. Ben Smith, Miss Lanie Hales with Mr. H. R. Swartzell, Miss Mary Stuart Davis, Mr. Tom Uzzell with Miss Emily Little of Greenville, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Murphy, and Miss Sue Best Morrell of Snow Hill, and Mrs. Dora E. Carr.

Miss Rita Gay Williams and Miss Virginia Williams served punch, assisted by Mr. Tom Davis and Mr. Frank Venable. Receiving in this room were Mr. and Mrs. Norborne Schaum, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Anderson.

In the dining room, which was lovely with decorations of pink Russell roses and silver candelabra holding pink tapers, were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cozart, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Darden, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Hassell.

Here ices in many attractive shapes were served with cakes, bonbons and almonds from Demonets.

Dr. and Mrs. Wade H. Anderson ushered the guests into the book-room, where coffee was poured by Mrs. H. Matt Phillips of Greenville. Assisting here were Miss Dorothy Whitehead, with Mr. R. E. Crawford and Miss Lucille Anderson with Mr. Tom Cozart.

Receiving at the front door were Mr. and Mrs. Selby Anderson, while little Misses Marie Anderson and Catherine Eagles received the cards. The guests were introduced to the receiving party by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr.

The house was wonderfully beautiful in its decorations of ferns and shaded lights.

About two hundred guests called during the evening. Music was furnished by Messrs. Jack Harrison and Sidney Willoughby of the Wilson Theater orchestra.
