

MAJOR CASUALTIES 56,592.

Of These 39,158 Are Listed as Killed or Died of Wounds, And These May Be Largely Added to When The 10,000 Now Unaccounted For Are Tabulated.

An official table of the major battle casualties of the American forces in France was made public by General March Saturday; they show that fully 10,000 men still remain unaccounted for nearly three months after the ending of hostilities. The deaths, missing and known prisoners are tabulated up to Jan. 30th, for each of the 30 combatant divisions. The total is 56,592, of whom 17,434 classified as missing or captured. An appended statement shows that only 29 American military prisoners were believed to be in Germany on Jan. 8th, and that 4,800 prisoners had been checked up as returned and 118 died in captivity.

To the above list must be added 1,551 from the marine brigade. The 30th and 81st divisions are of especial interest to our Rockingham county people. And so we give here a statement of killed, died, missing and prisoners of each of these divisions; and further down is a summary of each of the 30 combatant divisions:

6000 people jammed the city auditorium at Raleigh Monday night to hear Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist, who left his meeting at Richmond for a one night's service in Raleigh. Several thousand people were massed on the outside unable to find room within.

Clyde Davis, former secretary of the Sandhill Board of Trade and editor at one time of the Carthage News, died in New York of pneumonia, following influenza, Jan. 22nd. He was at the time working on the World's work; the remains were interred in Kansas.

QUARANTINE LIFTED

Flu Conditions Over County Much Improved, Schools And Picture Show Allowed to Reopen.

The flu conditions over the county are very much improved. Not a single case has occurred in Rockingham this week.

The Board of Health met last Saturday night and passed an order permitting churches to reopen throughout the county on Sunday, Feb. 2nd, and schools to reopen Monday, Feb. 10th. The local picture show will be allowed to resume operation Saturday, Feb. 8th, but with the proviso that no person under sixteen years of age will be allowed to enter, under penalty of the show being closed. The responsibility is upon the picture show to obey this order and keep children under 16, out.

The deaths throughout the county the past week have been less than for any week since last fall, only 4 dying from effects of flu. This brings the total to 156 for the county since the epidemic started in October.

The Rockingham schools, white and colored, will begin next Monday.

DEATHS

Rockingham (City.)

Sandford S. Mills, died in Rockingham on Thursday night of last week of pneumonia-influenza, and was buried in Eastside cemetery here. He was 28 years old, and had come from another county only recently. The Red Cross attended to his wants while sick, and assisted in his burial. His wife and child have now recovered from the flu.

Rockingham Township.

Leonard, three-months-old child of Will McLaughlin, colored, died in Rockingham township Feb. 2nd, supposedly of pneumonia-influenza.

Claude, 10 1-2 months old child of Mr. W. J. McCaskill, died at Pee Dee No. 2 Tuesday night. The little body was carried Wednesday to Savannah church, in Anson county, for burial.

Mitchell Ingram, year old child of Willie Ingram, colored, died of effects of influenza in Rockingham township Feb. 3rd.

Hamlet.

G. W. Cole died of pneumonia-influenza in Hamlet last Friday morning; burial there Saturday. He was about 45 years old. One of his children died of flu Jan. 17th.

Trosie Ingram, colored, aged 10 years, died in Hamlet Feb 4th of blood poison. The child stuck a splinter under her tongue about a month ago, but it was thought it had been entirely extracted. However, a small particle must have remained, as the tongue became infected and death resulted from blood poisoning.

Marriage Licenses.

Jan. 30th, license to Mr. Mordecai Lee Altman and Miss Helen Glenn Townsend, of Ellerbe. Ceremony performed by Rev. B. F. Watson at Pee Dee parsonage Feb. 4th.

Feb. 1st, license to Will Buie and Nannie Poole, colored.

Feb. 6th, license to Willie Goodwin and Bessie Thompson, white, of Pee Dee mill village.

BLUE TRIANGLE

Campaign to Raise Funds for Y. W. C. A. Began Today and Ends Feb. 17th. Richmond County Asked to Raise $150.

The Young Women's Christian Association has most earnestly at heart the welfare of the young women, and now that the war is over, hundreds of them are being turned out of jobs in Washington and other large cities. These girls must be looked after, and precautions and safeguards thrown around them. The State organization needs $14,851 to carry on this work. A canvass is being made throughout the State to secure this amount, the canvass beginning today and ending Feb. 17th.

Richmond county is asked to contribute $150. The chairman of this District (six counties) is Mrs. W. C. Leak. She has appointed Mrs. Frank W. Leak as chairman for the county. The chairmen for each township are as follows:

Marks Creek: Mrs. H. D. Hatch. Wolf Pit: Mrs. Wm. Crosland. Beaver Dam: Miss Todd Armstrong. Black Jack: Miss Irene Parsons. Mineral Springs: Mrs. J. R. Bennett.

Steele's: Mrs. John Capel. West Rockingham: Mrs. Porter.

Ellerbe School Bonds.

Sealed bids were opened by the Richmond County Board of Education here Monday for the sale of the $8,000 Ellerbe school bonds. John Neween & Co., of Chicago, were the successful bidders. The bonds are 20-year serial, six per cent. They sold at par with accrued interest, plus a premium of $132, with the bidding firm to furnish the blank bonds. There were eight bids opened Monday.

Readable Paper.

At first glance the reader may imagine the paper is full of advertisements this issue, but not so; there are a good many advts, but then there are twelve pages. And our news matter is divided over these twelve pages to the best advantage. The advts contain interesting matter and we suggest you read every page clear through to the Hogwallow on page eleven.

New Jailor.

Sheff McDonald has appointed Josh H. Bean, of Entwistle, as jailor, and Mr. Bean, wife and two children are moving to the jail today. Mr. J. B. Reynolds and family are today moving to the Hinson house, to rear of Municipal Building.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Routine Business by County Commissioners Last Monday. Jurors Drawn for Civil Term. Bill in Legislature Regarding Court-house.

The county commissioners met in regular session last Monday, all five members present.

H. J. Rogers, Wolf Pit township, was released of tax on $700 over valuation real estate.

Shockley Peele was allowed $5.00 per quarter for support.

C. B. Powell was refunded poll tax, 1918, being non resident.

Richmond county's representative in the House, W. N. Everett, will the last of this week or the first of next week introduce a bill that will remove all obstacles towards building a new courthouse; in other words, the legal machinery will be provided by this Legislature, and the question of building will be up to the county commissioners. The delay heretofore in building a new courthouse has been due to the legal difficulties in the way of building on a different site from the present courthouse.

The following jurors were drawn for the civil term of court that convenes March 17th:

M B Watkins	J C Dockery
A W McKay	C C Capel
A G Corpening	W S Williams
D R Thomas	F T Biggs
S P Stogner	J W McGirt
Coy Green	Raiford Dawkins
D R Pope	D F Warner
H D Ledbetter	J B Melton
G H Mauldin	J R Boykin
Billy Watkins	A J Little
Lonnie Stogner	R R Vuncannon
S J Millikin	J Wait Covington

Copper Still.

Deputy collectors Morrison and Shores brought in a 40-gallon copper still, bagged about three miles from Candor, in Montgomery county, on Thursday of last week. 500 gallons of beer were poured out.

See pages seven and eight for information of the White Sale and Clearance Sale that began at Stephenson-Belk's store this a. m.
