SOX HAVE 3 GAMES IN A ROW

The Weldon White Sox team is playing Hart Mills at Tarboro this Wednesday. This is a return game, Hart Mills having been defeated at Weldon 8-2 earlier in the season.

This Saturday, the Sox play Henderson at Weldon while Sunday they go to Perrytown for a game.

Injuries have crippled the White Sox in recent games. Wiley Warren, first baseman, sprained his ankle, and Jimmy Womble, short stop, bruised his left arm, in the last Hart Mills game, while Gene Kimball and "Guts" Byrd received injuries at Franklinton.

Womble was in good shape yesterday but the others are still on the sick list. Ten days more will see the opening of the three game series between the Sox and the Owls and both teams hope to be in good shape by that time.

A game scheduled at Weldon last Saturday was cancelled by Franklinton.

What's What About Social Security

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Question No. 11: My employer says he has to keep my Social Security account number card. Can he do that?

Answer No. 11: No. An employer may not keep the account card of an employee. He must give it to the employee, although the employer must keep a record of the number so he can make the reports required of him by the United States Treasury.

Question No. 12: I am a nurse employed in a dentist's office, but he says he does not come under the Social Security law and I do not have to have a security account card. Is that so?

Answer No. 12: No. A dentist, engaged in private practice of his profession is an employer, within the scope of the Social Security Act, when he employs a nurse, or anyone else for any work in the course of his business. He must get an employer's identification number. For this he should get Form SS-4 from the nearest post office or Social Security Board Field Office and file it immediately. You should file immediately for an employee's account number, using Form SS-5, which you can get from your post office or your nearest Social Security Board Field office. Make your number known to your employer.

Question No. 13: Does the Social Security law apply to persons under 21 years of age who are employed in covered occupations?

Answer No. 13: Yes.

Question No. 14: I am just opening up a new business. Do I have to apply for an employer's identification number?

Answer No. 14: Yes.

Question No. 15: I have just received my copy of Form SS-2a. I have several employees who do not have account numbers. What am I required to do?

Answer No. 15—First, ask each employee if he ever has filed an application for an account number. Any employee who has not applied for a number—using Form SS-5—should do so at once. Application form can be got from your post office or nearest Social Security Board Field Office. Second, employees who have applied, but have not received a number, should file again—using Form SS-5, paying particular attention to question 14 on that form. When they get their numbers they should make them known to you so that you can make your informational returns to the Treasury.

Question No. 16: I am the president of a company which promotes entertainment for church bazaars and other organizations during the summer months. In setting up the paraphernalia we employ local labor on an hourly basis. Some employees only work two or three hours. Do we have to deduct taxes from their wages and file returns for these temporary employees?

Answer No. 16: You do. The application of the Social Security Act and the liability of the employer to deduct and pay taxes under its provisions does not in any way depend in the length of time a worker is employed nor how little he may be paid.

The troop has about finished its sightseeing trips and have only the Department of Printing and Engraving to go thru. The boys have covered Washington like a roof.

Dear Mr. Editor:
Tobacco should be harvested when fullest of oil in order for it to cure easily and be rich and superior in quality. Oil does not evaporate in the process of curing like the sap does and remains to give wealth to the weed. Oil and sap (water) do not mix, but come and go, at intervals, during the life of the plant. When the sap rises it runs the oil out (oil being lighter) through the pores of the leaf to the surface where it forms a "gum", well known to all tobacco growers. Tobacco harvested in this condition will cure badly and be light and inferior in quality.

My father grew tobacco for about 70 years. He found that there are better times than others for harvesting tobacco in order to secure best results. I shall be pleased answer any correspondence from tobacco growers, provided postage is sent for reply.

Yours truly,
W. H. Davis.
