

GASTON SCHOOL OPENS 5th

JULIAN R. ALLSBROOK TO DELIVER OPENING ADDRESS THURSDAY

The Gaston High School will open on Thursday, Sept. 5, at nine o'clock, with Julian R. Allsbrook of Roanoke Rapids delivering the opening address. There will be special music under the direction of Mrs. Alice Miller. The public is cordially invited to these exercises.

All of last session's teachers will be back except Miss Gladys Miller, teacher of sixth grade, who did not apply for re-election. Mrs. Elizabeth Morton Bradley of Littleton has been elected to succeed Miss Miller. The other members of the faculty are: Miss Sarah Moss, Emporia, Va., first grade; Mrs. B. R. Bullock, Seaboard, second grade; Mrs. B. H. Johnson, Gaston, third grade; Miss Dorothy Piland, Conway, fourth grade; Miss Irene Sykes, Jackson, fifth grade; Mrs. T. L. O'Brian, Roanoke Rapids, seventh grade and biology; Miss Elsie Taylor, Winton, home economics; Mrs. J. D. Shearin, Roanoke Rapids, English and history; Miss Marjorie Griffin, Toronto, Canada, French and English; Mrs. Alice Miller, Roanoke Rapids, Public School Music and Piano; J. E. Perry, Durham, agriculture and chemistry; B. H. Johnson, Gaston, principal and mathematics.

There will be a meeting of the Gaston teachers at three o'clock, Sept. 2.

Bradley - Edwards

A wedding of dignity and beauty was solemnized in the Seaboard Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, August 17, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Helen Edwards became the bride of Paul Archibald Bradley. The Rev. C. H. Trueblood, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Russell Harris, Miss Jennie Manning, Miss Nancy Barbee and Spurgeon Daniel presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony.

Oliver J. Rochester of Bunn attended Mr. Bradley as best man. Alex Wood of Louisburg, Burgess Stephenson, William Norvell and James Bradley of Seaboard were ushers.

Miss Elizabeth Edwards of Seaboard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Wilma Woolard of Rocky Mount, Mrs. O. J. Rochester of Bunn, Miss Louise Boone of Jackson and Mrs. James Bradley of Jackson. Misses Emma Jean Edwards and Vera Scott Harris of Seaboard were junior bridesmaids.

The flower girls were little Misses Barbara Ann Daniel of Roanoke Rapids and Jennie Lind Beddingfield of Bunn.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Arthur Edwards, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a bridal gown of pearl ivory silk marquisette fashioned with a sweetheart neckline.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallen Edwards of Seaboard. She was graduated from Chowan College and since that time has taught in the high school of Bunn.

The groom is the son of Mrs. L. J. Bradley and the late Mr. Bradley of Jackson. He received degrees from Wake Forest College and North Carolina State College. He is now associated with the United States Department of Agriculture with headquarters in Weldon.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left by motor for an unannounced destination. After returning from their trip they will be at home in Weldon.

Following the rehearsal on Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a cake-cutting.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. W. E. Beddingfield and Ely Ney Beddingfield of Bunn, Mrs. Alex T. Wood of Zebulon, Mrs. Walter Dudley of Chapel Hill and Miss Mildred Manning of Bethel.

Friday evening Miss Edwards was honored at a bridge party given by Mrs. R. C. Daniel of Roanoke Rapids and Mrs. William Norvell of Seaboard in the home of Mrs. Norvell. High score prize was won by Miss Virginia Maddrey and second high by Mrs. J. W. Parker. The honoree was presented a gift of crystal. Mesdames James Bradley, Macon Howell and Ramsey Harris, recent brides, were also remembered with gifts of crystal.

Refreshments consisted of ices, cakes and nuts. Guests were Misses Margaret Harris, Constance Parker, Marie Duke, Elizabeth Harris, Virginia Maddrey, Betty P. Harris and Edith Bradley Mesdames J. W. Parker, Robert Vick, W. G. Edwards, Bill Herndon, H. K. Harris, James Bradley, Vernon Cordle, Reese Bullock, H. R. Harris, P. A. Bullock, Macon Howell, W. H. Taylor, Eva Maddrey and M. N. Carpenter of Margarettsville, Mesdames Wyche Land, Frances Montie, D. B. Bennett, L. K. Yerger of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. Ramsey Harris of Pendleton and Mrs. Kenneth Long of Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. James Bradley honored Miss Edwards at a party in the home of her mother in Jackson Thursday. Bridge was played at five tables with high score and second high score prizes given in addition to an honor remembrance.

Traditional bridal motif was carried out in decorations, tallies, and refreshments.
