

Don't Sow Foul Seed

Land once infested with weed seed requires patient care and attention to clean, and you can avoid this annoyance and raise better crops by cleaning out the weed seed and the shriveled grain with my grader. My machine takes out the chaff and the imperfect kernels of grain. Broken or small grain will make good feed, but nobody gets good crops by sowing them.

Get a Strese Grader

It cleans your seed by the air-blast method. Heavy substances are dropped in a separate container and the shriveled and light particles are carried beyond the seed box. Only the plump, perfect grains are kept for seed.

Clean your seed with my grader and you will greatly reduce the dockage when your crop is sold next fall. The machine should pay for itself in one year by securing better prices for you. I stand behind every one of these machines and agree to refund the purchase price if the grader does not give satisfaction. Send for full particulars and prices, and give the name of your dealer. News Notes From Everywhere

NORTH DAKOTA

DOCTOR E. F. LADD, president of North Dakota Agricultural college, estimates that the value of dockage in the 1919 wheat and rye crops of North Dakota was $4,619,918, while the cost of screening was $1,750,000, making the net saving of nearly $3,000,000 possible to the farmer under the North Dakota law compelling payment for valuable dockage. These and other statistics of interest to farmers are cited in the February bulletin of the Bank of North Dakota, which may be had upon application to the bank at Bismarck, N. D.

Organized labor of Fargo and League farmers have united to elect a complete county and legislative ticket in Cass county, the largest county in the state.

A Fargo unit of the Working People's Nonpartisan Political alliance has been organized at an enthusiastic meeting.

SOUTH DAKOTA

An expose has just been made by the Watertown News of the official conduct of Commissioner of Public School Lands N. E. Knight, who is now a candidate for a third term. According to the News Mr. Knight has permitted favorites of the state political machine to hold school lands without the payment of the principal, interest and taxes as required by law. One of the most flagrant cases is that of Stitz X. Way, head of the machine in Codington county, who has not paid any taxes or interest for eight years. Jerry Bacon of Grand Forks, N. D., brother-in-law of Way, has been enabled to acquire school land holdings in South Dakota on similar terms.

The debates recently staged in various parts of the state between R. O. Richards and W. H. McMasters, rival candidates for the Republican nomination for governor, have demonstrated that neither candidate offers anything constructive for the relief of the producers of the state. The debates are proving the inefficiency and the insincerity of the old parties and convincing the voters that the League offers the only program for the people.

Because of a recent ruling of the attorney general of the state the Nonpartisan league will be required to enter the primaries this month for the election of a state chairman, national committeeman and delegates to the national convention, although there are no opposition candidates for any of the places on the ticket.

W. J. Mozley, deputy commissioner for the immigration department of North Dakota, who recently opened permanent headquarters in South Dakota, is touring the state lecturing and showing moving pictures advertising the resources and advantages of North Dakota as a place to live.

MINNESOTA

In order to win a $2,605 lawsuit, the Quinn-Shepherdson company, grain brokers connected with the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and Chicago Board of Trade, admitted in court recently that future trading is gambling. The plaintiff testified that he had bought and sold rye, oats and corn for future delivery without any intention of either delivering or receiving the grain. The Quinn-Shepherdson company made a similar admission and then asked an instructed verdict for them. The court so instructed the jury. Under the Minnesota law, future trading is gambling if both parties to the transaction admit that delivery was never contemplated. Heretofore members of the chamber of commerce have always insisted that they expected to make delivery. The admission of the Quinn-Shepherdson company proves the contention of the Nonpartisan league that practically all future trading is gambling.

Farmers from all over Minnesota are planning to attend the massmeeting in St. Paul March 26 to ratify the indorsements of candidates made by the League and labor conventions. The state conventions of the Nonpartisan league and Working People's Nonpartisan Political league will be held March 24 and 25.

Members of the University of Minnesota faculty may join a labor union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. About 20 professors and instructors are urging the step.

Organized labor made a clean sweep in Rochester city primaries, nominating all of their candidates for city office on the Republican ticket with big pluralities.

NEBRASKA

The state convention of the Nonpartisan league has indorsed Elmer E. Youngs, farmer and stockman of Lexington, for governor; George B. Wylie of Fairbury, a railroad man, for lieutenant governor, and George C. Porter of Morrill, former state representative, for attorney general, all on the Republican ticket.

More than 2,000 farmers attended the state massmeeting of the League held in the city auditorium at Lincoln, February 27. Among the speakers were Carl D. Thompson, secretary of the National Public Ownership league, and former Congressman James Manahan of St. Paul, Minn.

The League organizers held an all-day meeting in Lincoln following the League massmeeting and laid plans for putting the state "over the top" by the November election.

Many thousands of dollars have been subscribed to the proposed state daily newspaper in Nebraska. Union labor, as well as the farmers, is taking an interest in the project.

The constitutional convention, by a vote of 47 to 43, refused to permit the people to vote on the question of including the principle of the recall in their new constitution.

Several posts of the World War Veterans have been organized in Nebraska during the last 10 days. The organization is growing fast.

IDAHO

Farmers of Twin Falls and Minidoka counties have decided that the Nonpartisan league will "go over the top" in the coming political campaign if they can do anything to help. And as a means of showing their sincerity, the two counties, at big meetings recently held in Filer and Rupert, subscribed $35,000 for the campaign.

Organized labor in Idaho is busy fighting a so-called "American" plan of employers, which they charge is a camouflaged attempt of employers to break up labor organizations. The plan has been tried out in several Idaho cities and has brought the workers to a keen realization that they must unite more solidly than ever before.

This Better Farm Truck

is the new 1920 model 48, 2-ton, worm-drive Dearborn. For real service—for power—for strength—for economy—for durability under ordinary and extraordinary conditions compare with any 2-ton truck anywhere at any price.

The Dearborn is 500 to 2,000 pounds lighter than other worm-drive trucks. This new light-weight strength plus construction saves you money every time the truck runs.

It gives you more power for the actual load, and saves gasoline, oil, and tires, besides relieving the working units of extra weight strain. The Dearborn is in every way the common sense truck; it is built to cut hauling, repair and up-keep cost—and it certainly does it.

By every test the Dearborn is best. It costs less to buy and less to run than the big, bulky, gasoline-gorging, tire-heating, overweight trucks. Get down to brass tacks—see the Dearborn dealer or write for book "Hauling Expense." It costs nothing to find out. Write today.
