State-Owned Coal Mine Asked by Frazier

North Dakota Governor Pleads for Friendly Co-Operation to Put Industrial Program Into Effect

WHOLEHEARTED co-operation of all interests to put the North Dakota industrial program into full operation and to make it thoroughly successful is asked in Governor Frazier's message to the North Dakota legislature. The only immediate addition to the program urged by Governor Frazier is a state-owned coal mine, to provide coal for public institutions. The experience of the state in operating all coal mines a year ago, during the national strike, showed the immense savings that would be possible under public operation.

Following is the text of Governor Frazier's message:

"Members of the Legislature: During the past four years the legislative assemblies of North Dakota have enacted much progressive legislation. The wish of the majority of the people as expressed by their ballots have become laws. The constitution of the state has been amended to provide for a workable initiative, referendum and recall which makes our state government more democratic by giving the voters a chance to more directly express themselves, and by making all public officials more directly responsible to the people. An industrial program has been put into operation and while there has naturally been opposition and criticism, nevertheless a good showing has been made and there is no doubt but that the people want to see this program fully and fairly tried out. It is their privilege. They expect it and upon this there must be no compromise.

Governor Lynn J. Frazier

SHORT SESSION WILL SAVE STATE MONEY

"There is but little new legislation necessary at this time. Not laws, but co-operation and an earnest, helpful endeavor of all our people to test and try out that which we have, is what is needed. New legislation will be required in the future to meet the changing conditions as they arise, but at the present time we are less in need of new laws than ever before. Poor crops and low prices have materially reduced the purchasing power of a vast majority of our people. The same causes have likewise reduced their ability to pay taxes. Under these extenuating conditions it is our duty, as public officials, to economize and conserve. Needless legislation means needless expense. The greatest service you can confer is by making essential adjustments and speedily providing for the necessary appropriations, and then adjourn.

"You are members of the legislative body and as such it is your duty to lay aside personal interest and to do what you believe is for the best interests of the whole state.

"It was perfectly natural that during the period of high prices and high wages, people should get the habit of freely spending, but now that the readjustment is taking place a halt must be called and economy must be practiced. Economy is essential to progress and the state should help by setting a practical example. We must always bear in mind that the public has to 'foot the bills' and that the taxes, in whatever form, fall on the people.

"The health, as well as the finances, of our people must be conserved, for upon it depends largely our welfare and happiness. Our county school nurses are doing excellent work and should be encouraged. Physical training in some form should be compulsory for every pupil in our schools. Pure air is an essential to health and a preventative to disease. Proper ventilation should be required by law in every school, church and other place of public gatherings.

BETTER RURAL SCHOOLS URGED BY GOVERNOR

"North Dakota has many excellent high schools and consolidated schools, yet our educational standards are still in need of improvement and especially in our rural schools, where there are altogether too many poorly trained teachers. This situation is unquestionably due to the prevalent low salaries and should be regulated by law so that adequate wages will be an inducement for better qualified teachers. There is an old saying that unless the teacher amounts to something the pupil will not amount to anything.

"The claims for soldiers' bonuses are being paid just as fast as the money is provided by the taxes for that purpose, but at the present rate it is a slow process and I recommend an increase of the tax to one mill in order to facilitate these payments.

"The law now provides that our state institutions must use lignite coal for fuel. There are approximately 75,000 tons of coal used per annum by the state. I recommend that provision be made for a state-owned coal mine to furnish this supply, as I am confident it would be a great saving and at present prices would soon pay for itself.

"A Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association has been organized and as this project when carried out will mean a cheaper and shorter market route for North Dakota, I respectfully request that you adopt a concurrent resolution, confirming and approving the participation of our state in this association.

"The property of the railroad companies and of other corporations that operate in this state should be subject to the state laws, just as any other property is, and should be subject to the same penalties for infringements and violations of the state laws. Judging from the recent rulings made by the interstate commerce commission it would seem that they hold to have authority to grant a company, incorporated in some other state, which does an interstate business, the right to come into our state and disregard our laws in purely intrastate affairs. Therefore, I urgently recommend that this legislature memorialize congress to enact the necessary laws to insure to each state the right to regulate its

YOUR Opportunity

Men who can locate trouble in motors or ignition and repair it quickly are the men who get the big money. There's little competition for the mechanic who is wise enough to become thoroughly skilled in this business. Farmers who have this training save time and money by keeping up their own power machinery. The present demand is greater than ever for men who can repair cars or operate tractors in road work.
