RESERVES WIN FROM ALERTS

Parkside Extra Men Defeat the Local Alert A. A. in Good Game Saturday 7-5.

SOCIALS BEAT THE JERSEYS. Teams representing Morristown lodge of Elks and Mohoscowungie and Iowa tribes of Red Men played a game of base ball on the Budd street grounds Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the two Morristown hospitals.

The Elks played base ball and the Red Men—well, the score was thirty-eight to four and that tells the story. Clarence Compton twirled for Manager Hartenstines' aggregation and but three hits were secured from his delivery, errors helping the Red Men to score their runs.

Russell Hixon and Benjamin Norton were on the slab for the Indians and the Elks piled up twenty-three hits, two being home runs and six two-beggars off their delivery. The support was wretched, many errors being responsible for the large number of runs.

Samuel Vaer and Michael Riley had all they could do to umpire the game and as it was the Elks got tired running the bases in the third session and took the field with only two out and in the last inning gave the Indians four outs instead of three.

The feature of the game was the batting of Shawger, he getting six hits out of seven times at the bat. The score: Elks, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. Compton, 7 5 3 0 0 5 1; McVay, c. f., 6 5 2 0 0 0 0; Kronenberg, c. e., 8 5 3 14 1 0 0; Vorholz, 3b., 5 3 1 1 0 0 0; Suhrhen, 1b., 6 4 3 9 1 0 0; Dickerson, 2b., 6 5 2 2 1 1 0; Shawger, i. f., 7 4 6 1 0 1 1; Troxler, r. f., 3b., 6 4 1 0 0 0 0; Sturgis, s. s., 7 3 2 0 0 0 0; J. FOUND A HUMAN TARGET. While Herman Pringer, manager of a shooting gallery in the basement of 18 Park place, was cleaning a rifle Saturday night which he did not know was loaded the weapon was discharged accidentally and the .22 calibre bullet entered the right shoulder of Victor Triolo, who was standing a few feet away.

Triolo walked to the office of Dr. George L. Johnson where he collapsed and was taken to All Saints' hospital in an ambulance. Dr. Johnson located the bullet Sunday morning with the aid of x-rays and it was removed. Triolo will probably recover.

Will Enjoy a Banquet. The business men's gymnasium class of the Young Men's Christian association will banquet on Friday evening, Oct. 15th, Rev. R. B. The Veteran Association of the Twenty-Seventh Regiment of New Jersey Volunteers will hold its seventeenth annual reunion at Dover on Thursday.

The Parkside Reserves defeated the Alert A. A. of this town in a rattling good game at the Budd street grounds on Saturday. Both teams were nervous and made errors, but the honors were about divided on that score.

"POLITICS IN THE POLICE"

Alderman Asserts that Fuss over Special Police is made for "Political Effect."

WOULD VENTILATE THE VAULTS

A bill from Joseph Antonnacio, special police officer, for $12 for services rendered last month, was the cause of a lively discussion at the October meeting of the board of aldermen Friday evening.

Alderman John N. Conkling said "I protest against the payment of this bill of Antonnacio's as the action of the committee in recommending its payment is a violation of a resolution of the board that his services be dispensed with" and asked for the opinion of the town counsel.

Edward K. Mills opined that the man was entitled to his money as he had been engaged by the authorized parties and was innocent in the matter.

At the last meeting of the board Alderman Conkling pushed through a resolution that Antonnacio be discharged as a special officer. He asked Alderman Arnold Friday evening how the man was again in the employ of the town and the chairman of the police committee said "We hired him over again."

Alderman Conkling asserted that no meeting of the police committee had been called to consider the matter.

"An Italian officer is needed on Flagler street, and I think this matter has been brought up for political effect" said Alderman Oliver K. Day.

Alderman Day is cheeky to say that, said Alderman Conkling, "this man was discharged on the request of residents of the Italian district."

Alderman Mowery ventured the statement that the creature was no greater than its creator and that the committee should be amenable to the board.

Alderman Conkling came back again with the statement that a majority of the police committee voted for the resolution discharging Antonnacio and if the chairman re-employs him and defies the board "it's a high state of affairs."

The protest against paying the bill finally came to a vote and was voted upon, Alderman Conkling being the only man to vote in favor of it.

The ventilation of the vaults in the municipal building was again discussed by the aldermen, Alderman Conkling reporting that the Oliver-Drake company suggested the installation of a flue with registers in each vault to carry off the damp air.

The question of putting windows in each vault was discussed but the point was made that the windows would destroy the fire-proof qualities of the vault and the matter was finally referred back to the committee for further consideration.

Augustus S. VanHouten requested the board to do something about the numbers on Pine street. "I don't know where I live" said Mr. VanHouten, "will the board tell me if it is No. 36 or 38." The street committee will take the matter in hand.

On motion of Alderman Day the counsel was empowered to discontinue the condemnation proceedings instituted against Robert D. Foote and wife, L. B. Tompkins and wife, Stewart M. Toms and wife, Charles R. Rosevear, trustee, and others; Albert Fineout and wife, Jacob Rosen and others, as a settlement had been affected and deeds given by the parties, and also to discontinue the proceedings against Elizabeth Thompson and husband as it was found unnecessary to cross their property with the sewer.

This clears up all the litigation over rights-of-way in Morristown.

Residents in the neighborhood of Sussex avenue and Henry street petitioned the aldermen to have an arc lamp installed at the corner of those two thoroughfares, and the street lamp committee was directed to look into its advisability.

VAMPS WILL ENTERTAIN

Program Arranged for the Firemen's Inspection, Parade and Exhibitions.

SPIRITED CONTESTS PROMISED

Arrangements are about complete for Firemen's day and the Morristown vamps will be given an opportunity next Thursday to show their abilities in handling the various kinds of fire fighting apparatus.

Parade, inspection by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and exhibitions will make up the afternoon's program.

At one-thirty carriages will be at the municipal building to convey Mayor Bennell and the aldermen to the fire houses on their tour of inspection.

The city fathers will first visit the First Ward Hose company, on Morris street, then the two houses on Market street, will be visited, the inspection ending at the Speedwell avenue fire houses.

Chief J. Fred Runyon and First Assistant Chief George Cobbett and Second Assistant Thomas F. Welsh will escort the inspecting party.

Immediately after the inspection the parade will form along the park.

The Board of Fire Wardens will have the right of line, followed by the Board of Engineers, the Morristown Band, Independent Hose company, No. 1; Resolute Hook and Ladder company, No. 1; Washington Engine company, No. 1; the Morristown Drum corps; Humane Engine company, No. 2; First Ward Hose company. The line of march will be from the park to Washington street, to Atno avenue, to Early street, to Speedwell avenue, to the park, to Morris street, to Elm street, to South street, to Miss Dana's school and countermarch up South street, to Boyken street, to Maple avenue, to Market street, to the park and disband.

After the parade will come the exhibitions by the several companies. The start of each run will be at the corner of South and Boyken streets and will be made upon one tap of the fire bell.

The Wardens will start their work, making a run against time with their wagon to the park and stretching ropes and closing DeHart, Market, Bank and Washington streets to traffic.

The truck company will follow driving their heavy apparatus to the Webb building raising a ladder to the fifth story and a member of the company making a thrilling "rescue" of a poor fire imperilled dummy.

A shaft will be built in the road near the Webb building and this will be set on fire after being filled with packing cases and other inflammable material and saturated with kerosene. The chemical engine operated by Independent Hose company will extinguish the blaze.

Another building of the same nature will be provided for the truck company to extinguish with the aid of the chemical extinguishers carried on its "red wagon."

Next on the program Washington Engine company will make the run from Boyken street with its hose carriage, lay three lengths of hose from the hydrant in front of McClellan's store, attach the nozzle and turn on the water. The Humane Engine company will repeat the performance with its hose wagon, but laying two lines of hose at the same time. The First Ward Hose company will go through the same performance with its hose carriage.

The exhibitions will conclude by a contest between the "Washes" and the "Humans" in getting up steam in their engines. Cold water is to be in the boilers at the time the fire is lighted, fifty pounds of steam secured and maintained. The companies will lay lines of hose in the park and endeavor to get "first water" on the eagle on the top of the flag pole.
