PATROLMAN FINDS FORD.

Patrolman Geissinger found a stray Ford automobile at Ventnor and Fredericksburg avenues the other night and, inasmuch as no one claimed the machine at the time he was ready to go off duty in the morning, he took the abandoned car to headquarters. Chief Frings got busy and ascertained from Motor Vehicle Agent Orr that the car belonged to M. Freeman, 2301 Atlantic avenue, Atlantic City. Upon being notified the owner claimed the car and explained that one of his employes had taken the car out the night before and had gotten stalled, leaving it there in the hope of getting it the following day. The employe was quite disturbed when he failed to find the car.
