

SCHOOL NOTES

Red Cross Senior Subscription Exceeded Last Year. Troy Ave. School Open for Inspection To-Night.

The total of Red Cross Senior subscriptions for the Ventnor city schools amounted to $121.00. This exceeded our quota of last year, since that total was $112.00. Those desirous of still taking out further subscriptions may do so at the Ventnor City National Bank.

There will be a meeting of the Federated Boards of Education of New Jersey at Trenton, Friday, December 2nd. Mr. Wilbur Zimmerman, our local Secretary of the Board, who is also President of the Federated Boards, will attend, accompanied by Mr. H. R. Jackson, principal of the local schools.

The Ventnor City Board of Trade will hold a meeting in the Troy Avenue School Friday evening, December 2nd. A number of school boys have been appointed as ushers, and they will also conduct visitors through the building if they so desire, as the school is to be open to inspection at that time.

The regular moving picture show, under the direction of the Parent-Teachers' Association, will be held at the Troy Avenue School Saturday evening, December 3rd, at the usual hour.

Collections were taken for memberships in the State Teachers' Association. Ventnor City schools joined with 100 per cent. membership—31 subscriptions being included in the list. Of this number, twelve teachers are also members of the National Education Association.

The school has received a number of blotters from the Atlantic City & Seashore Railroad Company bearing the familiar Absecon Island map, of special interest to pupils beginning local geography.

Of the 112 students that Ventnor City sends to Atlantic City High School the following pupils have the standing of A in at least one subject:

Marion Moore, Frank Swarz, Julius Schae, Anthony Skelly, Florence Bourgeois, Suzanne Finley, Frank Mulligan, Rena Stebbins, Robert Leeds, William Fannon, Elsie Parkhurst, Gilbert Cake, Phyllis Edwards, Virginia Dunn, Richard Baroux, Frank Kleebblatt, Emily Henler, Douglas Neale, Eleanor Garfinkel, Beatrice Hall, Bruce Dimon, Doris Loche, Hideari Horiguchi and Edith Martin.

Checks for transportation from last term are being held at the Oxford Avenue School office. The following pupils' names are in the list:

Beatrice Buckman, Alton Morris, Emily D. Smith, Mulford Scull, Festus Stewart, John Irwin, Mary Neidich, Anne Savage, Dorothy Pierce and Gwendolyn Cable.

Miss Cora M. Wiley, of the local schools, will visit Kindergarten Classes in North Jersey Monday and Tuesday, December 5th and 6th.

The Kindergarten Class of Oxford Avenue School, under the supervision
