

Women Plan New Hospital

both from the standpoint of relief for those who suffer and as an asset for those seeking health and in stages of convalescence.

"We have thoroughly canvassed the situation and are now sure that Ventnor should have a hospital of its own," said Mrs. Mahn. "There can be no real objection to such an institution built along lines of modern architectural beauty and occupying a plot large enough to remove it from too close proximity to private cottages.

"We believe that a hospital such as we propose could take care of the entire lower end of Absecon Island from Jackson Avenue to Longport. Carried out as we have planned, the institution could be made one of the most noted in the country. Then we believe that such a hospital would be a great attraction to the wealthy folk of inland cities who would be glad to come to this section for convalescence if they were assured of the finest in hospital accommodations."

Mrs. Mahn also is a strong supporter of the idea of making the new institution a "Memorial Hospital." "When people understand that they are to be encouraged to endow rooms or beds as memorials it has a tendency to give great aid to that form of giving," she said. "We of the Ambler Hospital already have been given evidence of the wisdom of allowing and encouraging in memoriam and it would be the same here. We who are filled with enthusiasm for the Ventnor Memorial Hospital project really believe that no better memorial could be evolved for our boys who fought in the Great War than a splendid hospital to stand for all time as an institution for relief of suffering."

Mrs. Mahn and the ladies who are assisting her in planning and carrying out the Ventnor Memorial Hospital movement wish it understood that the officers of the Colony Club named as temporary directors of the project some time ago really are temporary. "There has been no attempt on the part of anybody to close the offices or directorship of the hospital," declared Mrs. Mahn. "We who were named merely took charge for the time being and the real election for officials of the hospital will not take place until we have enlisted a number of prominent men and women of Ventnor in the cause. For myself, I shall insist on being allowed to occupy a simply advisory position and will positively refuse to take a permanent chairmanship when we are ready to name permanent officers."

So it is up to Ventnor people to support the Ventnor Hospital project to the best of their ability. "Just a bit of support from each person in Ventnor and we could buy a lot and start the nucleus of what we intend to be one of the finest hospitals of its size in the country," said Mrs. Mahn. "We intend to go ahead with the project, but we need the aid of everyone."

draft a code, thus making obsolete the present old one, which fails to cover the subject. Several members insisted that the position of building inspector was one of the most important in the city and sufficient salary should be paid to secure a competent man.

It was decided to send a communication to Council asking help with the question of bettering the condition of the streets. It was also pointed out that thousands of dollars were spent on the school buildings, while many of the classrooms had but eight, ten or twelve pupils.

and they intend to cast their votes for him."

"I would like to see Mr. Marston go to the polls unopposed," declared another prominent Ventnor matron, who is a leader in club and social life but who asked that her name be left out because of her intention not to become active in politics. "We will do anything possible for him among our friends."

"Both myself and my husband expect to vote for Mr. Marston," stated another woman who is a leader in civic improvement affairs. "We are not identified with politics in general but we are for Mr. Marston because we believe that his election would be a fine thing for Ventnor."

Up until the hour of going to press only Mr. Marston and Councilman Ralph Brooks had appeared openly in the field for the Mayoralty position. President of Council George Gumphert refused to commit himself either as to the matter of his own possible candidacy or the question as to who mhe will support if he does not run. There is a report to effect that Mrs. Horace M. Leeds may decide to make the run for the office instead of throwing her support to one of the present mayoralty candidates, but Mrs. Leeds has issued no statement on the matter.

Calling of a meeting of the Second Ward Republican Club tomorrow night presages new activity in that heavy voting section of the resort and at that meeting there may be announcement which will bear strongly on the outcome of the campaign.

Motor Firm Offers Free Chevrolet Service

Something new and highly progressive in motor car lines is the offer of the Cuskaden Brothers of 2006 Atlantic Avenue to give without cost a year's service with every Chevrolet car which is purchased from their firm. This new move of this firm is due to create something of a sensation in automobile circles and to be a great attraction to motor car purchasers.

Under the offer made by the Cuskaden Brothers firm every purchaser of a new Chevrolet will be entitled to have their machine cared for during its entire first year without a cent of cost to themselves. According to the members of the firm there are no strings attached to this offer and they will be glad to explain it more fully to any who may desire to investigate and who will visit their establishment.

St. John's Church

Rev. T. Roland Philips, of Baltimore, will occupy the pulpit at St. John's Church next Sunday. His morning subject will be "Scripture Cleansing—How Obtained" and in the evening "The Gospel of Glory."

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Godfrey are now occupying their cottage on Winchester Avenue for the summer season.
