

Phil Osofer Says

A man can never be really termed as a bachelor until he is dead.

Some dogs have caused more than one man to lead a dog's life.

Famous words: "I guess I can make this old straw hat last another season."

The pessimist thinks the word golf means, Golden Opportunities Lazily Forgotten.

The man who shouts the loudest about being self-made usually has a wife who deserves all the credit.

Slim sez, "One way to save money is not to advertise, but it's a poor way to make money."

The man who will laugh at the earrings his wife purchased, will don a lodge guard of an Admiral, General and a King combined and be in his glory.

Why is it, the person who objects to having their name in the papers usually buys about ten or fifteen copies when it is published.

Life is one profiteer after another. What we save in summer the coal man gets, and what we accumulate in winter goes to the iceman.

A cat is credited with nine lives; but now that the baseball season is here, some office boys' grandmothers will have twice as many lives.

It seems that success depends upon the amount of noise that is made; a riveter gets $10 a day, a jazz player gets $15, and everyone knows what a bunch of rattles made for Henry Ford.

You can always tell the person who doesn't save his money by hearing him tell of the wonderful opportunities where a small investment is required. The person who saves knows of them, but he doesn't waste his time telling others, he acts.

Donor Wants to Foster Boating in Margate Waters Just Below Ventnor Line

Organization of a club to foster boating in local waters is being considered by members of the local American Legion Post in consequence of an offer by a Ventnor Realtor to donate a site on Inside Thoroughfare, Margate, just below the Ventnor City boundary.

Under the terms of the donor to provide sufficient land for the erection of a suitable clubhouse membership will not be limited to the Legion, although the ratio of members is intended to always permit of a majority of ex-service men to assure control by ex-service men.

Informal discussion of the proposition has resulted in the tentative enrollment of nearly twenty Legionnaires, and if a feasible fiscal plan to provide the necessary funds to finance the construction of a building can be evolved, the probability of formal organization within the next six weeks is anticipated.

In view of the fact that no concrete action has been taken those to whom the offer has been made have declined to make public the name of the donor of the land.

Local Fireman Takes Bride

Harrison Jackson, popular member of the Ventnor City Fire Department, and Miss Bessie Marshall, formerly of Vineland, were married Saturday afternoon at the Christ Methodist Protestant Church by the Rev. C. D. Sinkinson. Miss Marshall for the past few years had been a trained nurse at the Atlantic City Hospital.

"Say, have you forgotten that you owe me a hundred dollars?" "No, not yet; give me time."

Mission Cottages to Be Dedicated Saturday

Formal dedication of three recently completed cottages intended as temporary homes for missionaries on furlough will take place next Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at St. John's-by-the-Sea Church.

Erected at Portland and Ventnor Avenues and known as the Doane Memorial as the three modern double apartments are to be known, surround a sylvan court of rare beauty. The architecture is of the Italian country house type and each building contains two housekeeping apartments. Finished in stucco with a red brick trim the structures present a most attractive appearance. Architect Vivian B. Smith prepared the plans.

The grounds measure 150 feet on Ventnor Avenue and 166 feet along Portland Avenue. The Janvier cottages, built many years ago, formerly stood on the site, having been razed about a year ago. An entrance 45 feet wide on Ventnor Avenue leads to the court which is to be transformed into a miniature park.

Missionaries, clergymen and local church workers will take part in the exercises to which the general public has been invited.

Rabbits Will Be More Plentiful in Another Year

Ventnorites who are enthusiasts of rabbit hunting will be glad to learn that the New Jersey State Fish and Game Commission has placed orders for 9000 western cotton tails to be distributed on the neighboring gunning grounds next fall. These rabbits, which are the largest number ever to be provided by the state, are purchased with the additional funds raised this year by an increase in license fees.

Wardens will begin the work of restocking as soon as the weather is cool enough to ship game without harming the animals' health. No rabbits will be placed in the vicinity of orchards, gardens or truck farms where the owners object. However, most farmers, it is stated by the Commission, are anxious to share in the distribution of game. Each county will receive an equal amount of the rabbits.

Painted Cats a Form of Ventnor Cruelty It Is Claimed

Mrs. A. Y. White, President of the local S. P. C. A., in a special communication to the VENTNOR NEWS stated that a great many children of this city are wantonly cruel to animals. Mrs. White wrote that as the head of a humane organization her attention is constantly called to revolting cases in which Ventnor boys have actually poked out the eyes of cats with sharp instruments. These youngsters are also alleged to have tortured domesticated animals by burning, striking, and dipping them in paint.

Mrs. White believes that parents should instill in their children a kindness towards animals and that when this is accomplished there will be less dishonesty, crime and intemperance in the land. The following is an excerpt from her communication:

Humaneness cannot be taught in a month or two, but when it is made a part of the child's education, when it becomes part of his character, success is assured. Bands of Mercy in the schools have often changed the conduct of classes and even the entire school. Many teachers can testify to this fact and that the seemingly vicious boy has often become kind and thoughtful of others through the introduction of humane teaching.

"I am trying to attain my end," said the puppy dog, as he vainly chased his caudal appendage around in a circle.
