

Myrtle was afraid. She was bitten by icy fear. Cold shivers ran up and down her charmingly rounded vertebrae. It was not physical fear. It was simply that she had failed. She thought of the day, only three weeks back, when she and Tom had become one. What faith he had had in her! What implicit trust in her ability to remove the least bit of dust from his pipe stand, to know what to do if he came home even the least bit liquorish! To him she had been the Minerva of the Household—no culinary crisis was too much for her. He knew it, he felt it—and now she would have to tell him. Something was happening for which she had no remedy. . . . Each day the iceman freshly filled the ice box, and she did not know what to do with the stale ice.

—Vassar Vagabond.

"Will you have some pie a la mode?"
"No, thanks. I'll take mine with ice cream on it."
—Crimson Coll.

Fair One (to escorting Mr. Brown): Isn't it funny—that famous man's name is Brown, too! Is he related to you?
Mr. Brown: Well, not directly, but indirectly he is—you see he is famous, too.

—Carnegie Puppet.

Officer: What do you mean by going sixty miles an hour through this town?
Husband: Why you—
Wife (helpfully): Don't pay any attention to him, officer. He's intoxicated.

—Brown Jug.

College Man: I've got a slick job with the electric company.
Another Loafer: What doin'?
C. M.: I go around with the boy who reads the meters. I oil 'em so they'll run faster.

—U. of S. Calif. Wampus

Doodle: I wonder if Tom loves me?
Deedoo: Of course, mon ami. Why should he make you an exception?

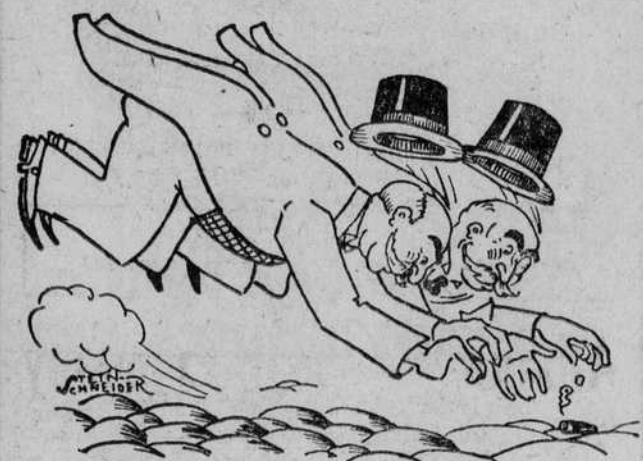

—Bison.

"Yeh," moaned the old-timer dining in a restaurant, "yeh, this is a spring chicken all right. I just bit into one of the springs."

—Kansas Sour Owl.

First Stude: Do you believe in necking?
Second: Why, of course not.
First: Neither do I, you liar.

—Green Goat.

"Have you ever had any indecent relations?"
"Yes, but they all died."

—Columbia Jester.

My co-ed friend says that the way to a man's heart may be through his stomach, but who the heck wants to go through his stomach?
—Georgia Cracker.

"I contribute to several leading magazines."
"Yes, I see you buying them at the news-stand quite often."
—Northwestern Purple Parrot.

The fupper's little powdered nose. This modesty has shown. It blushes like the timid rose. Unseen till jolly blown.
—Bowdoin Bear Skin.

"Why, I'll have you cured of the measles in a week."
"Now, Doctor, no rash promises."
—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

She: Was the party last night a good one?
He: It was great while I lasted.

—Texas Ranger.

Single: Does your wife select your clothes?
Married: No, but she picks the pockets.
—Carolina Buccaneer.

"I held a perfect hand last night."
"Shook hands with yourself, I suppose."
—Ames Green Gander.

A college is a human hothouse specializing in the sheltered rearing of persons who would be normal if they were left alone.
—Pomona Sagehen.

Frosh: Why is the milk so blue here?
Soph: Because it comes from discontented cows.
—West Hen.

ANOTHER BEDTIME STORY
Once upon a time two Scotchmen made a bet.
—Wash. Cougar's Paw.

"Do you know William?"
"Seems that the nomenclature has reached my ears before, but I'll bite. William who?"
"Willya marry me?"
—U. of Wash. Columns.

—Seawane Mountain Goat.

"When I was twenty I made up my mind to get rich."
"But you never became rich."
"No, I decided it was easier to change my mind."
—Scream.

CASTING HIS LOT WITH DAD
Willie had been naughty and was being sent to bed by his mother without any supper. He was naturally aggrieved at the feminine sex, and tumbled into bed without saying his prayers.
"Willie," his mother demanded, "say your prayers."
"I won't!"
"Don't you want to go to heaven?"
"Nah, us men gotta stick together these days."
—Denison Flamingo.

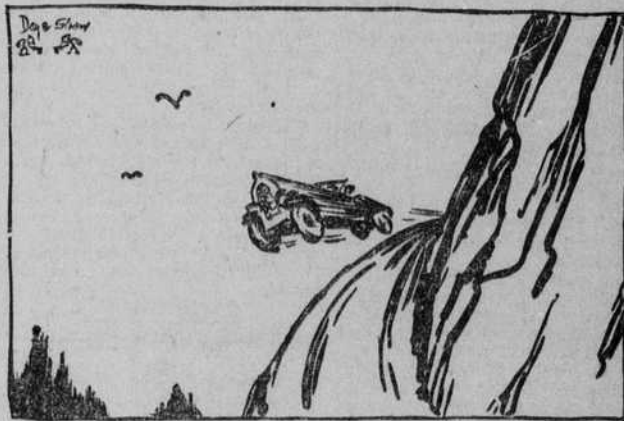

Stage Manager: Yes, we did have a vacancy in the chorus, but you're too late.
A Girl: Too late?
Stage Manager: Yeh, by about ten years.
—Red Cat.

1st Shipwrecked Traveler: Give us a cigarette, will you?
2nd Shipwrecked Traveler: Sorry, old top; I'm all out.
1st Shipwrecked Traveler: That's all right; I'll smoke my glasses.
—Yale Record.

ALDEN LIKES ERSKINE.
H. W. Alden, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Timken-Detroit Axle Company, knows automobiles. He writes as follows concerning the Erskine Six which he recently purchased: "I have driven my Erskine for some time now and while I was under the impression that it was a very good car, I did not fully realize how good it was until I had driven it myself. I think your engineering and production departments have produced a very unique vehicle. The more I drive it, the better I like it."

Face the Sun.

Don't hunt for trouble, but look for success!
You'll find what you look for, don't look for distress!
If you see but your shadow, remember, I pray,
That the sun is still shining, but you're in the way!

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk.
Don't think of your worries, but think of your work.
The worries will vanish, the work will be done—

No man sees his shadow who faces the sun.
—Selected.

When some people tell the truth it is only for the purpose of creating trouble.

When a public speaker pauses for a reply it breaks him all up if he gets it.

Chickens that come home to roost have more sense than some people.
