"Marse" Henry on 1912.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 25.—Hon. Henry Watterson, veteran editor of the Louisville Courier Journal said to day that the republican party was hopelessly split over the 1912 nomination, and gave as his opinion that Taft could not win. Watterson in his 72nd year is in fine health and as vigorous as a man at 50.

"The republican party is hopelessly split over the nomination at the 1912 convention," said the editor. "Taft cannot be elected; Roosevelt may be called on at the last moment to save the party.

Roosevelt would never leave the White House, except feet foremost."

General Reyes, the Revolutionist, has been captured, and the insurrection has collapsed. What it means to General Beyes, it is not difficult to guess—an adobe wall behind and a platoon of loaded rifles in front.

The American, who has been the man behind the throne in Persia, has been deposed on the demand of Russia. The Bear could not endure the example of occidental thrift in an oriental country—the example would spoil Russia's hold in Asiatic provinces.

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years tried all the best physicians of Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me" writes Thos. E. Williams Mibleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers.
