ENCOURAGE BOYS AND GIRLS TO GO TO HIGH SCHOOL

Graduates From Eighth Grade in Rural Schools of New Mexico Show an Increase of Forty per Cent.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Santa Fe, July 1.—Graduates from the eighth grade in the rural schools of New Mexico during the past school year show an increase of 40 per cent over the total of the previous year...

Recognition of Eighth Grade Work. Attaching great importance to proper recognition of completion of eighth grade work, and to encourage the student to go on with his school course, State School Superintendent Wagner has substituted this year a handsome lithographed diploma...

In discussing today the great increase in number of eighth grade graduates from the rural schools, Superintendent Wagner said he regarded it as the most convincing evidence of the advancement achieved by New Mexico rural schools and of the general gain in educational efficiency made in the state during the past few years. He looks for a still larger percentage of increase during the coming school year.

Following is a list of those who graduated from the eighth grade in the rural schools of Bernalillo county this year, exclusive of those in municipal schools, Frank Stone of Old Albuquerque being the honor graduate.

KING GEORGE FAMILIAR WITH LABOR PROBLEMS

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. London, June 18.—William James Thorne, social democrat, labor member of parliament for West Ham, who in early life worked in a rope yard and briefly and educated himself, was received by King George at Buckingham palace recently. Thorne had been on a visit to Russia and on returning to England was asked to pay an official visit to the king.

Describing his visit Thorne remarked that there was no formality or convention and that he gave the king some homely truths. He discussed some of the causes of industrial unrest and told the king plainly and frankly what was the popular opinion of high food prices and the profiteering which is notoriously going on and said "rows" must be expected so long as the prices of foodstuffs remain uncontrolled for the working people and controlled in the interests of traders.

STATE WINS FIRST SKIRMISH IN CASE AGAINST LOCAL MEN

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Santa Fe, July 1.—The demurrer of the state to the answer of O. N. Marston and Francis E. Wood, attorneys of Albuquerque, in the case citing them to show cause why disbarment proceedings against them should not be instituted, has been sustained by the state supreme court, in a decision handed down yesterday. The respondents admitted that the sign bearing the words "attorneys-at-law" remained on display in their offices and also appeared upon their letterheads. They admitted further that they had drawn certain deeds and contracts and had collected fees, but maintained that this was permissible even though they are suspended from practice for one year, such suspension relating only to their appearance in district and supreme courts.

RIOTS BREAK OUT WHEN SOCIALISTS MARCH IN PEACE DEMONSTRATION

Soldiers and Sailors Break Ranks of Marchers, Carrying Red Flags With White Centers, in Boston.

FORCE BAND TO PLAY STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Many Persons Are Arrested, Some of Whom Are Charged With Making Unpatriotic Utterances.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Boston, Mass., July 1.—Riotous scenes attended a socialist parade today which was announced as a peace demonstration. The ranks of the marchers were broken up by self-organized squads of uniformed soldiers and sailors, red flags and banners bearing socialist mottoes were trampled on and literature and furnishings in the socialistic headquarters in Park square were thrown into the street and burned.

Police reserves stopped the rioting after it had been in progress an hour and a half. Many arrests were made. The police took into custody some of the participants in hundreds of fist fights that were waged on the Commons and in the line of the parade, while agents of the federal department of justice, under the direction of Assistant District Attorney Goldberg, arrested a number of persons who were alleged to have made unpatriotic remarks. None of the soldiers and sailors who figured in the disturbance was arrested.

Hundreds in Parade. The procession consisted of hundreds of men and women, many of whom carried babies. Most of the marchers carried small red flags with white centers, emblematic of the peace demonstration, and there were large banners bearing inscriptions, some of which read:

"Russia has a six-hour day. Why not America?" and "Liberty loan a first mortgage on labor."

A large American flag was at the head of the procession. Half a hundred men in the uniform of naval reservists, national guardsmen, marines and Canadian "kilties," intercepted the procession at two points. In both instances a street fight resulted. Blows were exchanged and flags were snatched from the hands of the marchers while women in the line screamed in fright. The American flag at the head of the line was seized by the attacking party and the band, which had been playing "The Marseillaise" with some interruptions, was forced to play "The Star Spangled Banner" while cheers were given for the flag.

Organized at Socialist Meeting. The peace demonstration was organized at a meeting of socialist branches, labor unions and workmen's benefit societies of the metropolitan district, acting under the name of the workmen's council, in imitation of the council of workmen and soldiers of Russia. It was announced that the organization represented 10,000 workmen and that its program would include the peace terms of the Russian workmen, no forcible annexations, no punitive indemnities and free development of all nations.

Among the speakers who were announced as on the program for the meeting on the Commons were James H. Murr, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor; J. Edward Morgan of San Francisco, representing the Mooney defense movement; James O'Neal, state secretary of the socialist party, and Joseph Murphy of Lowell.

BUTTE DISTRICT ALL BUT CLOSED BY STRIKES

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Butte, Mont., July 1.—The strikes of electricians and of the Metal Mine Workers' union, which have all but closed the copper and zinc mines of the Butte district and have caused the shutdown of the reduction and concentrating mills of Butte and the smelters at Anaconda with a loss of $50,000 daily in wages, continued today without change. Fifteen thousand men are said to be out of work as a result of the strike.

Strindberg's Works to Be Published.

Stockholm, Sweden, June 18.—The selection and arrangement of the manuscripts left unpublished by the late August Strindberg has proceeded so far that preparations have now been nearly completed for the printing. The result will be a considerable addition to the Swedish author's already known works. The manuscripts found available will compose five volumes. The first volume will contain three complete dramas and a number of dramatic fragments. The second volume will contain poems, short narratives and a number of sketches—little more than memoranda—which are said to throw an intimate light on Strindberg. The three last volumes will show Strindberg in a more serious light. The third is to contain historical and philosophical works, and the fourth and fifth will be devoted to the author's excursions into the field of occultism and natural philosophy.

Woman Lawyer Who Showed Up New York Police, Girl Murder Victim, and Italian Who Is Wanted

MRS. GRACE HUMISTON

RUTH CRUGER

Mrs. Grace Humiston, a woman lawyer, has been declared by the head of the New York police force, which sometimes calls itself "the finest," to be a better detective than its whole squad of 400 sleuths. She it was who insisted workmen should dig in the collar of the bicycle repair shop of Alfredo Cocchi to seek the body of Ruth Cruger, the school girl who disappeared there several months ago. Detectives had insisted the body could not be buried in the cellar, but her workmen found it there.

HOG RAISING IS TO HELP SUPPLY MEAT FOR NATION

A Sure and Quick Way to Augment Supply of Meat for Army, Home and Allies Is to Produce More Pork.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Washington, June 29.—The quickest and surest way of augmenting the meat supply next to the raising of poultry is by raising hogs, the United States department of agriculture points out.

The hog is the most important animal to raise for meat and money. It requires less labor, less equipment, less capital, makes greater gains per hundred pounds of concentrates and reproduces himself faster and in greater numbers than any other domestic animal. As a consumer of by-products the hog has no rival. No other animal equals the lard hog in its fat-storing tendency. The most satisfactory meat for shipping long distances on train, boat, or wagon, and for long storage after reaching its destination is mess pork. There is no animal which produces more meat and meat products than the hog.

Pork Has Ready Sale.

Pork finds ready sale because packers have discovered many ways of placing pork on the market in attractive and highly palatable form, combined with most excellent keeping qualities. There is no other meat from which so many products are manufactured. Very near 50 per cent of the total value, in dollars and cents, of the meat and meat products slaughtered in the packing houses of the United States is derived from the hog. Our country leads by far all countries in the production of meat and meat products. Three-fourths of the world's international trade in pork and pork products originates in the United States in normal times, and the year greatly has increased this proportion. According to the estimates there was an increase of 9,580,000 hogs between 1910, the census year, and 1916, inclusive. While it is estimated that there was a decrease at the end of 1915 was 3,148,000 over the preceding year, while it is estimated that there was a decrease at the end of 1916 of 318,000 hogs compared with 1915.

Demand Increases.

If we expect to continue to provide meat to foreign peoples as well as our own people, every farmer must put forth the best effort to produce more hogs. Hogs can be kept profitably upon many farms where they are not found today. Farmers who already raise hogs can produce many more for there is not much chance of producing meat this year in excess of the requirements.

ALL-AMERICAN OPERA IS PLAN OF MEETING

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. New York, July 1.—A concerted movement by American composers and dramatists and leaders of national civic and musical organizations, for the production of American opera and other native music in the English tongue, will be formally launched here tomorrow. While the offices of the organization directing the movement will be in New York, its incorporators represent all sections of the country. Reginald de Koven, the composer, is chairman of the national committee of organization, its other members being: Mrs. David Allen Campbell, Chicago; Charles W. Cadfan, San Francisco; John Alden Carpenter, Chicago; George W. Chadwick, Boston; Frederick S. Converse, Boston; Arthur Farwell, New York; Henry Hadley, Boston; Mrs. W. A. Hinde, Peoria, Ill.; Percy Mackaye, New York; Douglas Malloch, Chicago; W. J. McCoy, San Francisco; Max Rabinoff, New York; Joseph Redding, San Francisco; Mrs. Frank A. Seiberling, Akron, Ohio; Lee Shubert, New York; John Philip Sousa, New York; Mrs. William D. Steele, Sedalia, Mo., and David Stevens, New York.

All-American Operatic Works.

The announced policy of the organization is to produce throughout the United States operatic works by American composers and dramatists only, acted and sung by an all-American orchestra, chorus and ballet. "It is evident," said Mr. de Koven today, "that American music never will be definitely developed by the employment of the foreign artist and the performance of foreign works. Italy, with less than a third the population of the United States, possesses sixty-three producing opera houses. The music of Germany and France has been made familiar to the world by its endorsement at home. Russian opera, similarly encouraged, now is being sung internationally in increasing measure year by year. "Of all the great music-loving and music-supporting nations of the earth, America alone, until now, has made no material effort for the encouragement of her native and natural musical genius. "We have spent millions to hear foreign singers and declined to hear our own. "The different interests which have

MAIMED SOLDIERS OF FRANCE GREET GENERAL PERSHING

Large Crowd Waits Patiently in Downpour of Rain for American Commander; General Is Moved by Reception.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. Paris, July 1.—One of the most touching incidents connected with the arrival of the representatives of the American army in France occurred today when maimed French soldiers received Major General Pershing at one of the institutions of the National Federation for the Aid of the Wounded in the Champs Elysee. A large crowd assembled, as is usual whenever General Pershing is expected, and waited patiently in a downpour of rain for the arrival of the American commander who was greeted with enthusiastic cries of "Long live the United States! Long live General Pershing!"

American Ambassador Sharp, Walter Berry of the American Chamber of Commerce of Paris; Maurice Barres, president of the League of Patriots, and Louis Barthou, former premier, were among those present. When General Pershing entered the room one of the maimed French heroes limped forward to salute him in the name of his comrades. The wounded private said:

"Though wounded our souls still vibrate with the ardor of combat. We salute in the person of the illustrious General Pershing, President Wilson and the noble American people."

General Pershing, who was visibly moved, arose and exclaimed: "Long live France!"

The wounded soldiers tried to arise and some waved their crutches in the air while all shouted "Long live the United States!" Their acclamations followed General Pershing to the street, where he was the center of another demonstration by the crowd which had stood through the rain waiting for a glimpse of the American commander.

EL PASO SHERIFF WANTS TO HOLD JONES THERE

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. El Paso, Tex., July 1.—Sheriff Seth Underdoff announced tonight he would resist the efforts of the officers of Dallas county to have Felix R. Jones taken to Dallas to answer the charge of murder in connection with the killing of Florence Brown. Jones is being held in jail here on indictments charging him with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in connection with the killing of Thomas Lyons of New Mexico.
