the same. The young people

RUTH.

The Lash of a Fiend

Would have been as welcome to A. Cooper of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes "nothing helped me till I used Dr.
King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy.
A trial convinces. 50c, $1.00.

OBITUARY.

Edna Lillian, second daughter of J. C. and Isabella Pattillo, died Monday night at St. Mary's Hospital, Roswell, N. M., where she had been operated upon for fibroids.

Miss Pattillo was born at Tex-arkana, Ark., March 22, 1889.
She lived in that state until a bout two years ago, when the family moved to this place.

Edna had been sick in bed for nearly seven months, having gone to the hospital for treatment sometime in May. Although a great sufferer from pain, she bore her affliction in a christian spirit, and was prepared to meet her God. She professed a faith in Jesus last winter in the meeting held at this place, and has gone to a place where pain sorrow or heartach can never come.

Besides her father and mother she leaves of the family, two sisters, Stella and Bessie, and five brothers, Leroy and Handley, now at Blue Ridge, Texas; Hix, Fred and Eugene at home besides her aunt, Docia Banks, of this place, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Earth's noblest thing, a woman perfected.—Lovell.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The public school at Kenna was opened Sept. 12, by Prof.
P. A. Grove, who is the Principal this year. The enrollment has reached 35 for the first week.

Those present are making a good beginning, and we hope to have the interest and progress of the students become an increasing series during the term.

The Professor has 8 grades to teach, and is doing practically the work of two teachers; so he asks the patrons to co-operate and sympathize with his position.

MISS THE LIGHT AND NOISE

Reasons Why Some Townspeople Are Unable to Live Comfortably in the Country.

The necessity which some people feel for noisy surroundings was mentioned by a famous specialist in giving a medical explanation of the case of little Horace Collins, the heroic messenger boy, says the London Daily Mail. The lad, although able to gratify every wish as the guest of Lord Lansdowne at Bowood house, has a mastering longing for the bustle and light of the London streets.

"It is a very clear case of nostalgia," said the doctor. "A person suffering like that has lost two everyday friends, as it were—noise and light. It is entirely due to the nerves. Our nervous system gets into a pronounced groove in accordance with the everyday condition under which we live. A sudden change in living throws the nervous system out of gear. Both light and noise are nervous stimuli to people who live amid noise and light.
Take away the comradeship of noise and light, and the nervous system loses two stimulants necessary to its well being and suffers in consequence."

"With the boy Collins the fact that he does not see policemen troubles him, because policemen to him have become an important part of the natural scheme of things.

"A very similar case occurred with a London housekeeper of mine. She was sent away to the country, and simply could not endure to live there.
She missed the companionship of noise so much that she had to be brought back to town again quickly, for her health was beginning to suffer."

Nothing to Say.

According to a delightful story Shelley, recounted in the International Journal of Ethics by Rev. Bradley G.
Cowan, the splendid mental equipment of the poet did not include humor.

In his characteristically impassioned way, Shelley was deeply interested in the problem of immortality. One day he met a nursemaid wheeling a very young child in a perambulator.
"Here is a little soul," he reflected "recently come to earth, out of the great unknown preceding human life.
Perhaps he can tell me something about the great unknown after human life. The two realms may be one and the same."

He accosted the infant twice, but of course gained no response, only a blank infantile stare.

"Alas! alas!" sighed Shelley. "How very reticent these little creatures are!"

Sport.

A man out Rockport way has a little tame fox that is led about by a chain. He proposes in the near future to have a "hunt." He will invite "sportsmen" from Cleveland to come out with their dogs, then he will turn loose the little tame fox and send the dogs after him. It is expected that the dogs will catch the little tame fox and tear him to pieces.

The hunt was scheduled to come off some time ago. But the invited guests with their trained hunting dogs failed to arrive, and the dogs of the neighborhood—just ordinary dogs—were pressed into service. For some reason or other these uneducated canines failed to enter into the spirit of the occasion, and could not be induced to take the trail. The little tame fox was accordingly again cooped up in his cage to await a more propitious and sporty slaughtering.—Cleveland Plain Value of Cheerful Voice.

A well-trained voice has a value in every line of work—stenography, telephone operator, canvasser, masseuse, and in many other lines of work. One of the best masseuses in Chicago, who has more customers than she can take, is as well known for her pleasant, cheerful voice as for her good work.
