DOINGS OF CONVENTION.

Up to the 12th inst. 12 propositons had been introduced by resolutions in the convention, as follows: File 2, by Richardson: providing for the Judicial Department. File 3, Richardson, Department of aggriculture Labor and Industry. File 4, Richardson, State Executive Dept. File 5, Sedillo, Initiative provision. File 6, Sedillo, Initiative to amend constitution. File 7, Sedillo, Relating to Referendum. File 8, Skeen and Rice, Measure for Statewide Prohibiton to be separately submitted. File 9, Montoya, refers to the Equal Rights feauture. File 10, Montoya, refers to nonclassification of school children in the matter of Race or Language. File 11, by Montoya, refers to Settlers in Forest Rescreves. File 12, by Emmett Patton, Educational, and Public Free Schools. The latter is the most lengthy resolution yet offered, the next in length being the Prohibition resolution. The Initiative and Referendum proposition takes 3rd place in volume.

These are the palmy days for the delegates. It is an easy thing to draft and propose propositions at a time when there is no apparent opposition; but as days roll a long and each delegate has time to work his think shop numerous new resolves involving the same matters will be sprung on the convention, and when they are all duly referred to committees the lightning will begin to flash and the thunders roll. At that stage of the proceedings, and from thence on to the close, there will be something doing in the convention, and the people will begin to stand up and take notice. We must expect the delegates to fight, (figuratively) when their opinions and convictions clash, and for each and every bugger of them to work earnestly and unceasingly in the committee, and at all times, on the floor and off, for the adoption of such measures as they believe to be teh biggest and best ever. That's what we sent 'em there for.

When the wrangles are all over and the constitution is completed and ready to submit to the people, we believe we will find that it will bear all the earmarks and brands of able statesmanship, and prove that our delegates were well selected.

Reaching The Top

In any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and keen brain. Without health there is no success. Bnt Electric Bitters is the greatest health builders the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After monthe of suffering from Kidney trouble, "writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me, "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man.' 50c at all Druggists.

VAUABLE IMFORMATION.

We heard on the street the other day of a man who claimed he was too poor to take his home paper, but all the same he read a notice in some other paper telling how to prevent a horse from slobbering, and sent $1.50 for the receipt. When the $1 50 worth of imformation came it said: "Teach your horse how to spit."—Ex.

Lure of the Club.

It is not at all true, as some people aver, that the lure of the club is the spirituous refreshment to be found there or its aloofness from the restraining eye of critical womankind But it is true that it represents the highest development along lines of physical comfort as this is known and sought for by the animal man, and if the ladies, on the few days of the year when they are admitted within the doors of these sanctuaries of masculine luxury, would study what they see there they would speedily be made aware, by the objects visible before them, of the sort of indoor environment that most appeals to the soul of the average man.—John Kendrick Bangs, in Suburban Life.

Sweet Influence.

Is it not entertaining how to make the best of one's powers, how to arrange one's stores, how to exert a sweet, quiet and fragrant influence throughout life, over all whom one meets? If an advanced education does this for one, then it is the education one should seek. Our difficulty is that we cannot allow time enough for seed time and harvest. Mothers are in despair if daughters occasionally drop out of school for six months or a year We are much too apt to insist on putting all our children, irrespective of their natural bent, through the same educational factory. We do not make sufficient allowance for temperament and tendency, and thus it comes to pass that some of us carry burdens beneath the weight of which we are crushed.

Iron.

Pure iron is only a laboratory preparation. Cast iron, the most generally useful variety, contains about five per cent. of impurities, and the curious thing is that it owes its special value to the presence of these. Pure iron can be shaved with a pocket knife; impure iron can be made almost as hard as steel.

Dangers in Dancing.

Dancing has been extolled as a most healthful recreation; as a means of physical culture it favors the development of the muscular system and promotes health and cheerfulness. And dancing is carried on by women whose fashion of dress is of such a nature as to injuriously affect one or the other organ of the body.

Young girls appear to experience no fatigue after it. They will not miss a single waltz, polka or square dance but if the pulse of one of these indefatigable devotees is felt after the dance is finished it will be found in the majority of cases that the number of pulsations is far in excess of the normal, and from this it may be inferred that the condition of the heart must react prejudicially upon the entire organism, and it justifies an apprehension of danger where girls are delicate.

ONE OF LIFE'S GREAT JOYS

Maintenance of Relative Asylum Sadder and More Common Than the Arrival of Twins.

The story of the man whose family is increased by a procession of twins and triplets will be harrowing, but it can never take the first prize in a hard luck story contest against the tale of the sorrows of a city man whose wife attracts country relatives Betsy comes in from Pennsylvania Corners to visit her aunt and attend a city high school. Oliver decides that he ought to have the advantages of a more famous business college than Prof. Roebuck's seminary. Grace comes to the city to cultivate her voice—and take dancing lessons. Henry "puts up" at his aunt's house until he can find a job; then, after he finds one, he grows homesick in a hall bedroom, comes back to auntie for sympathy and is advised never to leave again. Whistler's caller, who came to stay over night and remained for two years, would not be thought to be doing anything out of the ordinary at one of these relative asylums.

"I notice you have another visitor," a friend remarked to the proprietor of one of the largest asylums of this sort in Kansas City.

"Yes," the man answered in a lifeless, matter-of-fact tone. "He's here for 12 years—four in high school, four in college, four in medical school. My wife's second cousin, you know."

Brightness in the Home.

Don't be afraid of a little fun at home. Don't shut your house lest the sun fade your carpets, and your hearts lest a hearty laugh shake down some of the musty old cobwebs there. If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold without when they come home at night.

Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere. If they do not find it at their own hearthstones it will be sought at other less profitable places.

Don't repress the buoyant spirits of your children; half an hour's merriment around the lamp and fireside of home blots out the remembrances of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safeguard they can take with them into the world is the influence of a bright little domestic sanctum.

Boosting Town Life.

"After an experience I had this morning," remarked the suburbanite, "I'm feeling rather strong for this apartment thing as against life out of town. I wanted to stay in New York last night to go to a dinner, and one of the boys in the office asked me to put up with him for the night. While I was dressing this morning my collar button slipped out of my fingers and rolled under the bureau, of course. Now, at home, I should have had to go down on my knees and get myself into a rage reaching for the thing. In Jason's apartment all I had to do was to go out into the living room, take one of his crook-handled walking sticks out of the umbrella jar by the door and poke the collar button out into sight. To do that at home I should have had to go down two flights of stairs and got half frozen. See the reason for my enthusiasm?".—N. Y. Press.

Making Him Feel at Home.

"But why do your put your friend's things in the dining room?" "Oh, he is so used to restaurants that he won't enjoy his dinner unless he can watch his hat and coat."
