Odd Bits of News

Mt. Vernon, Ky.—Rev. Ezra Campbell is believed to be the oldest minister of the gospel in the United States. He is the pastor of three Baptist churches, has been preaching for 79 years, and holds the record in Kentucky as the marrying parson.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—On the 4th of July seven years ago, Salvator Amali, then 1 year old, was shot accidentally by his older brother. Paralysis followed, and the boy died recently after lingering seven years.

Milford, Conn.—Ralph von Hacht, 23 years old, blind from birth in one eye, had his sight restored when surgeons successfully performed an operation for appendicitis. The appendix had been resting against one of the nerves which connects with the optic nerves.

Shenandoah, Iowa.—Driving five dogs hitched to an Alaskan mail sled, Miss Estelle Mason of Nome, Alaska, is completing a queer tour of the world. She finished her trip at Cincinnati, having traveled 32,000 miles. If she arrives at San Francisco with two of her original dogs and the mail sled, she will receive $12,500.

New York, N. Y.—Charles Frederick Fowles, wrote in his will that if he and his wife died under circumstances that made it difficult to decide which died first, it was to be presumed that he preceded her. They went down on the Lusitania.

New York, N. Y.—Jennie Welch, 22 years of age, has been treated in hospitals more than 150 times in two years. She has been taken to three different hospitals and treated for three different attacks in one day. Her malady is puzzling physicians, who declare that every time she rides in a car or in a vehicle the motion causes her muscles to tense so that she lapses into unconsciousness.

Baltimore, Md.—Stephen Brown was rushed to a hospital here for an operation on his eye, which had been pierced by a piece of steel. A powerful magnet was placed close to the eye, the current turned on and the steel sliver came out. It was one sixteenth of an inch thick and three quarters of an inch long.

Philadelphia, Penn.—Sixty-three years of married life and not one cross word. Thus have Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bodine made their home Utopia. The couple recently celebrated their sixty-third anniversary by going to the movies, after which they were given a surprise party by four generations of their family.

East Greenville, Pa.—Four fractures in four years is the record for bone breaking held by Mrs. H. Mumbauer. She is sixty-five years old, but the fractures in each case have mended rapidly.

New York, N. Y.—Thomas James Nutty has grown tired of the suggestiveness of his name and the consequent ridicule. The court, when appealed to for relief, allowed him to assume the new name of Thomas James Nuttley.

Meridian, Miss.—Mrs. James Reeves, who has five grandchildren, recently presented her husband with triplets. Two are girls weighing seven pounds each, and the other a boy, eight pounds.

South Norwalk, Conn.—Giles Gregory has stepped from the poorhouse to a palace. When Henry G. Green, an eccentric, said to be worth $150,000 died, it was found that he left no will. The money went to Gregory, an almost forgotten uncle, who has been an inmate of the poorhouse for many years.

Remember Who Did It!

This county is not the only one that is complaining of the results of the tax legislation of the last legislature. In fact, to judge from the press, the chorus is being joined in all parts of the state. It is well just now to remember that it was necessary for the old gang to steal several democratic seats in the legislature in order that they might enact the taxation and salary law wholly independent of the wishes of the democratic members and the governor. We feel sure that the men who did this are willing now to share some of the criticism with the above mentioned parties and shall not be surprised to see them trying to lay the fault in some way to the wrong parties.—Farmington Times-Hustler.

W. W. Bailey of near Greenville, was a trader and business visitor in the city the first of the week.

Don Jose Manuel Gonzales of Bucyeros, one of the county's oldest and best citizens, spent the week in the city looking after large business interests and visiting friends and relatives.

Jacobo Pacheco of Atencio, was a business visitor in the city Wednesday.

The Old, Old Subscriber

How dear to my heart are the old things in general, When fond recollection presents them to view;

Old pewter, old linen, old friends and old china,

Old books and old songs are far better than new.

And old shoes for comfort (We need new ones badly)

The old cornucop pipe I shall always hold dear—

But the old, old subscriber, I mention him gladly,

Ever faithful and true, he renews by the year.

The old, old subscriber, the dear old subscriber,

The faithful old friend who renews every year.

Old wine and old sweethearts, the older the better;

The old folks at home—what is home without them?

The old swimming hole—it must not be forgotten

The jewel of memory's whole diadem;

Old times and old customs, and e'en the old dances
 (We'll have to admit we cannot turkey trot)
 But of all institutions, if one must take chances,
 The old, old subscriber's the best of the lot.
 The old, old subscriber, the dear old subscriber,
 The paid up subscriber's the best of the lot.

News Items from the Business Mens' Association

A party from Missouri is in communication with the Business Mens' Association relative to the erection of an ice and cold storage plant in Clayton.

It Isn't Your Town—It's YOU

If you want to live in the kind of a town
 That's the kind of a town you like
 You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
 And start on a long, long hike.
 You'll find elsewhere what you left behind,
 For there's nothing that's really new;
 It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town—
 It isn't your town—It's YOU.

Real towns are not made by men afraid
 Lest some body else gets ahead;
 When everyone works and no one shirks
 You can raise a town from the dead.
 And if while you make your personal stake
 Your neighbor can make one, too,
 Your town will be what you want to see—
 It isn't your town—It's YOU.

If you want to help put your town on the map throw in with the Business Mens' Association.
 The Business Mens' Association is having a beautiful twelve page illustrated pamphlet printed in two colors, to advertise Union county and Clayton and attract the new comer and the investor.
